

A Murder Confession

STORY OF TRAGEDY

Alleged Confession of Spencer Read in Court Today

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—With the expectation of hearing the alleged confession of Bertram Spencer that he murdered Miss Martha Blackstone, the school teacher, on the night of March 31, 1910, an immense crowd today surged about the court here where Spencer is being tried for his life. This confession, which the police declare they secured from Spencer shortly after his arrest, has never been made public. However, it has been authoritatively stated that Spencer in the confession laid bare his career for three years previous to his arrest, admitting that he was the man who caused a reign of terror throughout western Massachusetts by daring robberies and telling in detail of the killing of Miss Blackstone in the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow. It was intimated before the opening of the court that only the part of the alleged confession that related to the murder of Miss Blackstone would be read in the court today. As yet the prosecution has been unable to place Spencer in the Dow home on the night of the murder. The women in the house at the time Miss Blackstone was shot down were unable to identify Spencer as the robber in their home because the intruder was masked. Only four or five more witnesses for the prosecution awaited an opportunity to testify when the doors of the courtroom were thrown open today and it was expected that the direct testimony would be completed in time for the opening address of the defense to the jury by Counsel Young. He will sketch the life of his client for the purpose of showing that Spencer was insane at the time of the murder.

The confession of Spencer, alleged to have been secured by the police, was given in detail by Captain Boyle of the police department on the witness stand almost immediately after the court was called to order. Captain Boyle testified that in his confession Spencer said that he believed he was surrounded by persons on all sides while in the Dow home and, thinking that the only way he could escape capture was to shoot his way out, he followed that plan. Throughout the testimony of the police captain the accused man remained calm, in contrast to his nervousness of yesterday. His mother, however, was apparently greatly agitated and wept while the confession was being read.

Captain Boyle said that the alleged confession by Spencer was made on the day after his arrest, Spencer says, that "his conscience troubled him." The captain said that Spencer talked freely regarding his career, knowing that what he said was to be used against him.

Captain Boyle said that Spencer stated that in his early youth his father struck him over the head with the butt of a whip, leaving him lying unconscious and bleeding. He claimed that ever since that injury he had a tendency toward stealing and had stolen continually until the time of his arrest. The long list of crimes that the defendant is alleged to have committed was read by the captain. Telling of the night of the tragedy, the defendant says in his alleged confession that he left his home about 7 p. m. and shortly afterward was in the vicinity of the Dow home. After removing his outside clothing and disguising himself, Spencer entered the Dow home by securing entrance to an unlocked window. Walking through several unoccupied rooms he came to a doorway leading to a room in which four women were seated. Spencer went into the room and demanded money. He said that the women screamed and jumped up, one grabbing hold of him and another seizing a chair. He thought that he could hear voices on all sides and felt sure that the house was surrounded on the outside. Believing that he could escape only by shooting his way out, Spencer pulled his revolver and fired. He then ran out of the house, secured his street clothes and made his way home through side streets.

In his alleged confession Spencer said he got home at about nine o'clock. Examining his revolver he found there were two empty shells in the weapon. He cleaned and reloaded the weapon and went to bed, sleeping all night. He went to his work the next day as usual and continued to do so until he was arrested five days after the murder.

"Send me to Siberia or anywhere you see fit except to the electric chair," these words were uttered by Spencer in his confession, according to Captain Boyle.

Shortly before ending his testimony, Captain Boyle said that Spencer admitted stealing the revolver with which he is alleged to have shot Miss Blackstone from the state armory at Oakland, Cal.

Miss Bessie Mills, the next witness, was the stenographer who took down the alleged confession of Spencer. After reading the portion concerning the murder of Miss Blackstone the witness continued the reading of numerous robberies that Spencer is said to have confessed he committed. All of the robberies were in towns and cities in the Connecticut valley and took place in 1903 and 1909.

PAPERS TAKEN OUT

Many Names Were Added to List of Candidates Today

The lists of candidates for office under the new charter are growing and many who have not yet taken out nomination papers have said that they would take them out later on.

Among others who took out papers for alderman today was Mayor John F. Meehan. Candidates who file papers with the city clerk may withdraw by giving notice within forty-eight hours after the time they filed their papers. The names added since the last were published are as follows:

For Mayor
George H. Brown.

For Aldermen
Mayor John F. Meehan.
Owen E. Brennan, 20 Crowley street.
Herbert L. Chapman, now a member of the common council from ward nine.
Edward H. Foye, the present purchasing agent.
Joseph H. Jodoin, Jr., member of the present board of aldermen.
Robert W. Van Tassel, Warwick street.
Samuel Scott, 230 Appleton street.
Gilbert Wright, 2 Arthur street.
William D. Whitte, Westworth avenue.
Clarence H. Nelson, 91 Mansur street.

George W. Casey, 298 French street.
Charles H. Lichson, 164 Holyrood avenue.
Fred H. Kourke, 777 Central street.
Ex-Mayor James E. Casey.

For School Committee
James Cook, 83 Lawrence street.
Michael J. Rourke, 33 Marion street.
John Jacob Rogers, 444 Andover street.
Dr. Thomas G. Waller, 106 Princeton street.

Mr. Samuel Tompkins of ward nine announces that he has withdrawn his name as a candidate for alderman. Mr. Tompkins says that his business will take him out of town for extended periods and he feels that he would not be able to give the necessary attention to city business.

REV. FR. HARKINS
PASTOR OF ST. MARGARET'S ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

Rev. Fr. Harkins who has been in St. John's hospital from a severe attack of illness is now at home and on the road to recovery. He is much disappointed at being unable to attend the party by the people of his parish in associate hall tonight. Work on the interior of St. Margaret's church is progressing rapidly.

DEER SEASON

WAS OPENED IN VERMONT THIS MORNING

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Nov. 15.—Early today the frequent crack of the rifle gave indication of the opening of the deer season in Vermont and until Nov. 25 hunters are allowed to shoot these animals twelve hours daily. It is reported that deer are plenty this year, the best hunting grounds being at Southerly, Stratton, Londonderry and Jamaica. The season's opening was hailed with joy by the farmers, who claim that the damage done their orchards makes the raising of apples nearly impossible.

STRANGE ANIMAL

BONES OF ONE FOUND ON GRAND ISLAND

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 15.—Bones of a strange animal found on Grand Island beach are so unfamiliar and puzzling to residents here that they will be placed in the hands of scientists to determine the identity of the strange skeleton. Some scientists who have seen the animal believe that it may be the remains of a serpent. It is thought that the find, which was caused by the shifting of sand during the recent heavy gale, may prove of great historical interest. The animal measures over 18 feet in length.

GOVERNOR MANN

DECLINED TO INTERFERE IN THE BEATTIE CASE

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Gov. Mann today declined to interfere in the case of Henry Clay Beattie and the young wife murderer's last hope of escaping the electric chair on Friday, November 24, was swept away.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Christopher Cagrove and Miss Emma Doucette was solemnized this morning at St. Joseph's church. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Dr. Paquette, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Mr. Arthur A. Smith acting as best man and Miss Eva A. Taylor, who served as bridesmaid.

GOOD ROADS ADVOCATED

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Construction of good roads by convict labor is being urged by speakers in attendance at the eighth annual convention of the American Roadbuilders Association and National Good Roads congress, which began a second day's session here today. Today's program included addresses on "Adaptability of roads and pavements to local conditions" by Nelson H. Lewis, New York, and "Problems of construction," by Major W. W. Crosby of the Maryland state roads commission.

BASKETBALL ABOLISHED

HARTFORD, Nov. 15.—By order of the athletic committee of the Trinity college faculty basketball at that institution has been abolished. Owing to the interest felt in that branch of sport, however, it is stated, an effort may be made by the students to bring about a removal of the ban.

P. H. Goldman, the well known merchant of 147-149 Dutton st. was called away to New York last evening, through telegram, to attend a wholesale bankrupt sale on furs.

One of the Winners

If you would be one of the winners in the battle of life enlist a reserve for the emergency. But persistent saving creates a fund, the wise use of which, has often prevented failure and despair. He prepared for the unexpected. Begin saving on your next pay day.

MERRIMACK RIVER SAVINGS BANK

417 MIDDLESEX STREET

NOTICE

Middlesex Co-operative Bank

The annual meeting of the shareholders of Middlesex Co-operative Bank will be held Friday evening, November 24th, 1911, in room 83, Central Block, 63 Central street, Lowell, Mass., for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

WILLIAM D. BROWN, Clerk.

A semi-annual dividend at the rate of four and one-half per cent has been declared, making rate paid for the past year four and three-quarters per cent. Shares in series 39 are now on sale at the office of the Bank, 35 Central street, and will be on sale without a line, until November 24th.

NOTICE

Special meeting of the Bricklayers' union, No. 31, will be held at 32 Middle street, TOWNHALL at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. Per order, F. J. WARREN, Pres.

JURORS TESTIFY

Hearing of the Palmer Case Was Resumed In Court Today

The third session of the hearing of testimony relative to the alleged perjury by the grand jury, was opened before Judge John D. McLaughlin at the court house at East Cambridge this morning. Sherman L. Whipple, counsel for Jackson Palmer, conducted the direct examination and District Attorney John J. Higgins cross-examined the witnesses. The court also directed many questions to the witnesses.

William A. Drumme, a newsdealer at Pepperell, who is a member of the grand jury, was the first witness called. He said he sat directly behind Clerk Gokey at the sittings of the grand jury, but heard nothing about a vote relative to the indictment of Jackson Palmer for perjury.

"At any time since disclosures were made to His Honor has the district attorney attempted to examine you in the grand jury room?" asked Mr. Whipple.

"The court would not allow the question to be answered, but saved an exception for Mr. Whipple."

District Attorney Higgins asked for the communication signed by the jurors and the court produced the paper. "Is that your signature attached to this paper addressed to the justice of the supreme judicial court?" asked Mr. Higgins, handing the paper to the witness.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you write that?"

"No."

"Who wrote it?"

"Edward Barry."

"Did you sign it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where?"

"At the Boston City club."

"How many were present?"

"There were eight of us."

"How did you happen to meet at the City club?"

"I requested them to meet me and discuss the matter."

"Who suggested the City club?"

"It may have been Mr. Barry."

"Don't you know that it was Mr. Barry who suggested meeting at the City club?"

"I couldn't really say."

"Witness said that 'Larry Smith visited him in Pepperell several weeks ago and he and Mr. Smith visited several places and saw Dr. Perkins, father-in-law of Jackson Palmer, and several members of the grand jury. Witness said he had retained Mr. Barry, a counsel for him, but had not paid Mr. Barry any retainer. Dr. Perkins requested the witness to secure the services of Mr. Barry and the latter said he knew that Mr. Barry had been retained by eight of the grand jurors. 'You knew that Jackson Palmer had been before the grand jury?' asked Mr. Higgins."

"Yes, sir."

"And you knew what he testified to?"

"Yes."

"There was no Jackson Palmer case, so-called, called before the grand jury?"

"No."

"That the investigation was relative to the way county affairs were conducted and also the conduct at the Lowell jail?"

"Yes."

"You heard testimony offered by Jackson Palmer affecting the people at the Lowell jail, the expenses at the jail and the railroad ticket which it was alleged was used by Mr. Shaw and his family?"

"Yes, sir."

"You heard members of the grand jury say that he (Jackson Palmer) was guilty of perjury?"

"Yes, I did."

"The report of the investigation was signed on July 13," said the witness. "There were 21 members present and every man signed the report."

"What was the last thing the grand jury did before reporting?"

"You brought up from your office papers regarding the investigation which had been gone over and read to the jurors."

"Hadt't you taken some votes in the forenoon of July 13?"

"I don't think there was a vote taken."

"Will you say there were no votes taken that forenoon?"

"I don't believe there were."

Witness said that he heard Mr. Bradley, a grand juror, ask what was going to be done with Jackson Palmer and the others, and Mr. Higgins answered: "I will attend to that."

Sitting in Lowell

Reference was then made to the sitting of the grand jury in Lowell in September and adjournment to Cambridge. Mr. Higgins examined witnesses relative to what was meant by an indictment, motion, no bill and bill. Mr. Drumme said that he knew that the foreman of the jury always signed indictments. He admitted that he didn't know that an indictment was drawn until a vote was taken by the grand jurors.

certain parts of the report were acted on by the jurors."

"I saw Mr. Gokey taking notes at different times," said the witness, "but I didn't recall any of the jurors asking him to refer to his notes."

"You went to see the chief justice?"

"Yes."

"At whose suggestion?"

"Mr. Barry's."

"When?"

"A week ago last Monday."

"Where?"

"At the Boston City club."

"Are you a member of the club?"

"No, sir."

"Who paid for the entertainment?"

"I do not know."

"Do you mean to say that a motion to indict Jackson Palmer for perjury was ever put?"

"I never heard a motion put for the indictment of Jackson Palmer on July 13."

"On July 13th you had in mind that something would be brought up relative to Jackson Palmer and three others?"

"I thought that something might be done."

Could Not Remember

Mr. Drumme said that he did not remember which juror read the report of the grand jury, but thought it was Judge McLaughlin, but would not say that it was Judge McLaughlin. Referring to July 13th, the witness said that the jurors discussed the forming of a grand jury association of 1911, and it was suggested that the district attorney and his assistants be made honorary members, also that there was talk of conducting an outing at Nantasket beach.

Questioned by Lawyer Whipple, witness said that the first that he knew that Jackson Palmer had been indicted by the grand jury was when he read it in a paper.

He also had a conversation relative to the indictment with James H. Hayes, a lawyer, as to what he should do and Mr. Hayes advised him to see John C. Burke, of Lowell, counsel for Mr. Palmer.

Continued to page five.

LIVELY PARTY SCRAP

Between Republicans and Democrats in Common Council

Republicans claim that meeting adjourned—Democrats hold that adjournment was illegal, and they counted in those present but not voting to make a quorum.

Who is city solicitor—William W. Duncan or J. Joseph Hennessy?

Who is inspector of public buildings—James Dow or John W. O'Hara? These two questions bobbed up in a night and the common council is responsible for the dilemma.

The council met last night and played a double header. It was a strenuous night and now it remains for the parliamentarians, politicians and lawyers to straighten things out.

The trouble started when President Elliott insisted upon putting a motion to adjourn before notifying the board of aldermen that the council was to adjourn. Under the rules the aldermen should have been notified. The matter is governed by joint rule number 18. It reads as follows: "When both boards are in session at the same time, neither shall adjourn without giving notice to the other of its intention."

It was Councilman Bowers who moved adjournment and the democrats objected principally upon the grounds that the aldermen had not been notified. The vote to adjourn was announced, carried and the vote was doubted. A rising vote was called for and the clerk made it 14 to 12 in favor of adjournment.

Clerk Downing was asked to serve as clerk but refused on the ground that there was no quorum present. He said if there was a quorum present he would be obliged to stay.

When the president left the chair, Councilman Gargan replaced him and Councilman Coughlin took the clerk's place. They were voted in and then it was moved to take a vote for the election of an inspector of lands and buildings. There were nine men voting, Messrs. Coughlin, Gargan, Brady, Donohue, Truacy, Corbett, Connors.

Continued to page seven.

Lowell Gas Coke Satisfies

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 11, 1911.

Lowell Gas Light Company,

Gentlemen:—

After using your Coke in my steam boiler for the last nine years, I can say that I am highly satisfied with it.

Yours truly,

(Signed) BENJAMIN STAVELEY,

29 Staveley Street.

A Bit of Magic

There's a magic influence which stirs to life many an ancient apothecary shop.

Shadows disappear, vials glisten, perfumes are fragrant and good cheer reigns.

Druggists! Make your store attractive with electric light.

It works like magic.

LOWELL ELECTRIC
LIGHT CORP.

69 Central Street

J.F. O'Donnell & Sons

UNDERTAKERS

Complete equipment for city or out-of-town funerals.
A chapel where services may be held or bodies kept when desired. Advice and information given.
Telephone: Office, 439-3; residence, 439-5.
318-324 MARKET STREET, COR. WORTHEN

THE BEEF PACKERS

Declare That the Sherman Anti-Trust Law is Void

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A further effort of the indicted Chicago meat packers to avoid trial and to have the Sherman anti-trust law declared unconstitutional and void was made yesterday.

The move was a surprise to the government and consisted in the surrender to the United States marshal of the packers, and an immediate appeal to United States Circuit Judge C. C. Kohlman for a writ of habeas corpus. The arguments will be heard on Thursday.

The request for a decision on the constitutionality of the law before trial was said to have been taken as a necessary step to carry the case before the United States supreme court without the cost or delay of a trial.

Violations of the fifth, sixth and eighth amendments to the United States constitution, ambiguity and alleged failure of the act either to create an offense against the government or to define what is set up as an offense, in a manner that would enable the citizen to know when he erred, were charged against the Sherman law as the law was recently interpreted by the United States supreme court in the Standard Oil and the Tobacco cases.

Attorney John S. Miller, who, as chief of counsel for the packers, conducted today's court action, characterized the Sherman anti-trust law as a "not large enough to catch all possible offenders and leaves it to the courts to step in and say who rightfully can be detained and who set at large."

Nine Packers in Custody

Of the 10 packers indicted all but J. Ogden Armour were temporarily in custody while the petition was heard. The nine were:

Louis B. Swift, president; Edward F. Swift, vice president; and Charles H. Swift and Francis Fowler, directors, of Swift & Co.

Edward Tilden, president National Packing company.

Arthur Meeker, general manager, and Thomas J. Connors, director, of Armour & Co.

Edward Morris, president, and Louis H. Heyman, manager of Morris & Co.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus contained little material other than the argument used by the packers before United States District Judge Carpenter when they sought to have the indictments quashed, and later in the arguments demurring to the court's decision in the indictment controversy.

It goes into more detail in the allegation of insufficiency of the statute to set up a crime, and it lays more stress on what the attorneys for the packers characterize as the citizens' inability to know whether he is a law-breaker or not before a jury trial. Along this latter line the petition said: Depends on Whim of Jury

"The alleged criminality of the alleged transactions complained of in the indictments will depend entirely upon a particular jury's view of the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the particular case; it will depend not on any standard erected by the law which may be known in advance, but on one that may be created by the whim, prejudice or arbitrary views of a jury."

"There is no set standard fixed, or attempted to be fixed, to guide the citizen to a knowledge of his guilt or innocence of an offense charge before it has been adjudicated."

"The act violates the sixth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which requires that the petitioners severally shall be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation."

It further is charged that the act attempts to establish a crime acts not criminal, but civil in their nature. The large number of witnesses necessary to trace the multitudinous transactions of a national business, is pointed out as an indication of the great cost a trial will impose, both to the defense and to the prosecution.

Government attorneys were cut off from much of the results of their long investigation into the meat packing industry, as, instead of a trial on evidence, the fight, for a time at least, must be conducted purely as an argument of law.

It thus becomes not a question as to the guilt or innocence of the packers, but a plain attack on the validity of the Sherman act, according to attorneys for the packers. They explain their position, briefly, thus: The supreme court in the tobacco and oil cases, converted the Sherman law into an illegal enactment, since the court, by placing each individual or corporation on a standard of its own, built up on its peculiar individual acts, took away from all individuals the possibility of knowing how their acts were to be viewed by a jury in the light of reason. They held this doctrine of definition of what constituted crime as contrary to the eighth amendment of the federal constitution.

In short, the petition, say the attorneys, charges the supreme court interpretation with nullifying the Sherman law, in spite of the court's action in ordering the dissolution of the American Tobacco company and the Standard Oil company. Only an adverse decision to the packers' contention by the United States supreme court will give the government attorneys an opportunity to use the material they have gathered for the prosecution. In the meanwhile, the trial, postponed for Monday of next week, probably will be postponed, pending the decision of the higher courts on the new question.

Satisfaction or
Your Money Back.

The Bon Marche

DRY GOODS CO.

Shop With Us
or
We Both Lose.

United Workers of First Universalist Church Opened a Food Sale at Our Store Today at 10 o'Clock

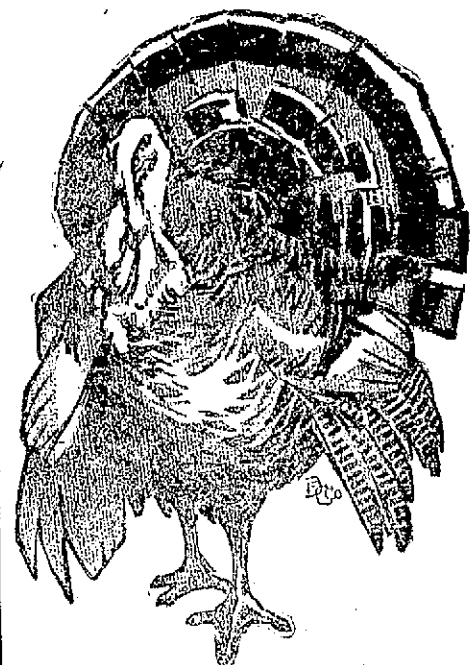

OUR ANNUAL SHOWING

OF

Thanksgiving LINENS

Opened Today

IT IS THE LARGEST AND BEST DISPLAY WE HAVE EVER HAD.
PRICES ARE RIGHT

All Linens Purchased in This Sale Hemmed
FREE

DAMASKS

Mercerized Damask—58 inches wide, 10 very attractive patterns, at, per yard.....25c

Mercerized Damask—61 inches wide, 8 different patterns in dots and floral designs, at, per yard.....39c

Mercerized Damask—66 inches wide, extra heavy, full bleached, 8 pretty patterns, at, per yard.....49c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—62 inches wide, all pure linen, handsome designs, at, per yard.....50c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—68 and 72 inches wide, all pure linen, medium and heavy weight, choice designs, in Irish and German linen, at, per yard.....75c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, in all pure linen, in new floral designs, a good heavy quality, in Irish and German linen, at, per yard.....98c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, all pure linen, in a splendid range of patterns, in dots and floral designs, at, per yard.....$1.25

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, all pure linen, in a large assortment of patterns, extra heavy quality, at, per yard.....$1.49

PATTERN CLOTHS AND NAPKINS
Pattern Cloths—Very best of Irish linen, for square or round tables, borders all around in dots and floral designs, in a large assortment of patterns, do not cost any more than the same goods by the yard for same quality:

72x72 in. pattern cloths,
$2.98 and $3.49

72x90 in. pattern cloths,
$3.49 and $3.98

72x108 in. pattern cloths,
$3.98 and $4.49

Napkins to Match Above Cloths
5-8x5-8 napkins,
$2.98 and $3.49

3-4x3-4 napkins,
$2.98, $3.98, $4.25

TRAY CLOTHS

Fringed Tray Cloths—All pure linen, assortment of patterns, at, each.....10c

Mercerized Tray Cloths—18x27 size, hemmed or scalloped edges, handsome patterns, at, each.....19c

Tray Cloths—18x27, all pure linen, hemstitched in dots and floral designs, in Irish and German linen, extra quality, at, each 25c, 39c, 50c, 75c, 98c, $1.25

ODD TABLE CLOTHS

Borders all around, good quality, assorted designs, for round or square tables, in all linen and mercerized:

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....69c

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....79c

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....89c

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....98c

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....$1.25

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each.....$1.49

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each.....$1.49

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each.....$1.75

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each.....$1.98

10-4 Silver bleached linen cloth, hemstitched, each $1.50

10-4 silver bleached linen cloth, hemstitched, each $1.75

8-4 fringed all linen cloth, each.....$1.25

10-4 fringed all linen cloth, each.....$1.98

TOWELS

A Large Assortment of fancy, plain, hemstitched and plain hem huckabuck; also fringed and hemstitched damask towels, with colored borders; also plain white, all pure linen, at, each.....25c

Plain and Fancy fringed and hemstitched huckabuck and damask towels; also with wreaths for initial, all pure German linen, at, each.....39c

Plain and Fancy fringed and hemstitched and scalloped edge in huckabuck and damask, all pure German linen, full bleached, handsome designs, extra quality and weight at, each 50c, 75c, 98c, $1.25, $1.50

TEA CLOTHS

Tea Cloths—36x36 in., 45x45 in., 54x54 in., hemstitched, border all around, very handsome patterns, in floral designs, very fine linen, at each 98c, $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.98

ODD NAPKINS

Hemstitched and Unhemmed Napkins—Every thread pure linen, a variety of sizes and patterns:.....

15 in. hemstitched napkins, doz. $2.98, $3.49, $3.98, $4.98

18 in. unhemmed napkins, bleached, per doz. 79c, 98c, $1.25, $1.49

20 in. unhemmed napkins, bleached, per doz. $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.98, $3.49, $3.98, $4.49

20 in. silver bleached napkins, doz. $1.49, $1.98, $2.49

22 in. unhemmed bleached napkins, per doz. $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.25, $3.49, $4.98

22 in. silver bleached napkins, per doz. $1.98, $2.98, $3.98

24 in. bleached napkins, per doz. $1.50, $1.98, $2.49, $2.98, $3.98, $4.98

CHECKED GLASS TOWELING
16" and 17 in. wide linen and all linen check Toweling, for glass, in 10 different sizes, checks in red or blue, at, per yard 6 1/2c, 8c, 10c, 12 1/2c

CRASH TOWELING

17 and 18 in. wide in red, blue or white borders, good heavy quality, for dish, roller or hand towels, at, yard 8c, 10c, 12 1/2c, 15c, 19c, 25c

TABLE SETS

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, all pure linen, hemmed ready for use, at per set.....$2.69

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, silver bleached, all pure linen, hemstitched, ready for use, a large assortment to choose from, at per set.....$2.98

10-4 table set, mercerized, cloth and napkins to match, full bleached, hemmed, assorted design, at, per set $3.25

10-4 table set, cloth and napkins to match, in a heavy weight and hemstitched, handsome designs, at, per set.....$4.98

10-4 table sets, cloths and napkins to match, hemstitched, borders all around, all new designs, double satin damask, at, set $6.98, $8.98, $12.98, $19.98

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, extra heavy, German linen, handsome patterns, borders all around, all new designs, double damask, in plain satin and floral designs, at, per set $6.98, $9.98, $10.98, $12.50, $15.98, $17.98

All above sets put up in nice, neat boxes free.

LABOR DELEGATES

Rally to the Support of McNamara Brothers

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—"International insubordination against aristocratic, governmental and judicial tyranny" is the way James Duncan, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, described "a craving for better conditions" before that organization yesterday.

This expression came from Mr. Duncan when describing labor conditions in Europe, on which he spoke for two hours yesterday afternoon. He consumed all the morning session by reading the voluminous report of the executive council.

For the next two days committee work will engage the attention of the delegates. Pres. Gompers last evening invited them to offer any resolutions they had and in a few minutes the hopper was swamped. Action must be taken on every one of them.

Recent collection for conspiracy of three officers of the Cigarmakers' union at Tampa because they advised their fellow workmen not to return to work was condemned by the executive council yesterday.

"Outrageous as they occurred in Tampa," declared the council, "tend to intensify the feeling among our people that 'equality before the law' is a sham and delusion."

Samuel Gompers sent a telegram to the McNamara brothers at Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, advising receipt of a message from them.

President Gompers says the McNamara may be assured of the labor delegates' belief in their innocence and pledges continued moral and financial support.

Reinstatement of the carpenters and joiners and the steam and hot-water fitters and helpers suspended from the building trades department of the federation at the St. Louis convention last year was recommended by the executive council.

The committee also recommended that steps be taken to unite the warring McNulty and Reid factions of the electrical workers.

Prospects that the strike of boiler-makers in the American Locomotive works at Schenectady would involve the allied crafts in that city in a sympathetic strike, caused several international officers of the federation to leave the convention yesterday for Schenectady.

DR. LEONHARDT'S DISCOVERY

HEM-ROID WILL INTEREST EVERY PERSON WHO HAS PILES.

The public is indebted to Dr. J. S. Leonhardt of Lincoln, Neb., for years of study of the treatment of piles, and for his discovery of a successful remedy, taken inwardly, which lives up to the stagnant blood circulation and reduces the swollen vessels. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription is HEM-ROID, sold by Carter & Sherrburne Co., Lowell, Mass., and all druggists at $1 for 21 days' treatment. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NEW PRIMARY LAW

To be Presented in the Legislature

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—A new primary law is being drafted which will abolish the enrolment system which caused more friction last year than ever before. The new law will be proposed by a combination of republicans and democrats under the leadership of David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, and Mayor Fitzgerald. Chairman John J. Minton of the Boston board of elections has been in consultation with Mr. Walsh on the matter, and the law is already in shape.

Under the present system the voter is compelled to choose a party ballot at the primary. Under the new law he would be free to select the names of all candidates upon it and he would be able to vote for one man as one party nominee of another party.

But he will be required to vote for no more than one man for the nomination of any one office. So great is the feeling developed against the enrolment this year that in several places the committees were reluctant to have checkers present to mark off the designation of the voter.

SENATOR NEWLANDS

TO EXPLAIN BILL FOR INTER-STATE TRADE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The senate committee on inter-state commerce today entered upon a series of hearings which are expected to have an important bearing upon future legislation relating to the "big business" and commerce between the states. Senator Newlands of Nevada was the first witness on the list and his testimony was expected to deal exclusively with his bill providing for an inter-state trade commission. It was understood, however, that the senator would be expected to present only until other witnesses were available.

The committee is authorized to enter on the broadest scope of inquiry, covering the entire subject of inter-state commerce. The authorization had its inception largely in the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case, which had the effect of reading the word "reasonable" into the anti-trust law. The idea was that the meaning of the law should be set forth clearly in the statute itself and not left dependent on an interpretation by the court.

PRES. MACLAURIN

THREATENS TO REMOVE TECHNOLOGY TO SPRINGFIELD

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—President Richard C. MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, last night threatened to move the college to Springfield, unless the opposition ceases, which is being manifested by Cambridge manufacturers and others. At a joint conference of the Cambridge city council and board of aldermen, President MacLaurin stated that he could state authoritatively that the institution would not come to Cambridge unless it was entirely welcomed and declared that land and money had been offered in Springfield as an inducement to remove to that city.

His remarks came as a surprise, following a 2-hour discussion of whether or not Amherst street, which runs from Ames street to Massachusetts avenue, should be closed.

lowing a 2-hour discussion of whether or not Amherst street, which runs from Ames street to Massachusetts avenue, should be closed.

Loose of Voice, sore throat or hoarseness are quickly relieved by a few sprays of Toilettine. It is pleasant to take, entirely free from drugs and contains only what will benefit the system. Your money cheerfully refunded if Toilettine does not satisfy you. All druggists 25 cents.

Sample bottle for three 2 cent stamps. THE TOILETTINE COMPANY 13 Hope Street Greenfield, Mass.

THE SODEN SUIT

Said to Have Been Settled in Private

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The $500,000 suit for the alienation of his wife's affections brought by Frederick E. Small, a stock trader, against Arthur H. Soden, the former baseball magnate, has been privately settled out of court. The amount paid is said to be about $15,000.

The odium damum caused in this alienation suit is the largest by many thousands dollars in the history of the Massachusetts courts.

Because of the character of the charges Small made against Soden, Judge Brown refused to hear the suit in the superior court last spring. Ex-

Judge Robert Harris was appointed to hear the evidence in private.

In his report Judge Harris states: "The whole evidence is strongly suggestive of collusion between the plaintiff and his wife, and even of collusion on his part, but after a careful consideration it seems to me to fall short of proof of these things, and to leave them within the realm of suspicion."

Judge Harris recommended that Small should receive the sum of $10,000 from Soden, in full settlement.

This report, and Judge Harris' resume of the evidence was to have been read to a jury when the case came up for trial again, and after hearing such additional evidence as the court might consider proper in rebuttal, the jury was to have brought in a verdict as it believed was warranted.

Because of the nature of Judge Harris' findings, and the fact that the case had not yet been definitely set for trial, the settlement out of court came as a surprise yesterday.

MAN ELECTROCUTED

Trolley Car Conductor Killed Almost Instantly

"NEW LONDON, Nov. 15.—Marion Spottswood, a trolley car conductor, was electrocuted today in this city on attempting to use the company's telephone system to report a crossing of the city electric light wire which had set fire to a pole in the up-town district. The telephone is located on a pole on the sidewalk. Spottswood had secured connection and had started to talk when the current from the trolley wire entered the telephone and he was hurled to the ground. Physicians were called and it was found that he had been killed practically instantly, about 2,300 volts having passed through the body.

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently reduced in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

CHALIFOUX'S

BARGAINLAND

BASEMENT

LADIES' FLANNELETTE GOWNS in assorted stripes, made of extra heavy materials. 69c

Outsized in LADIES' FLANNELETTE GOWNS, plain white or fancy stripes, braid trimmed, double yoke. 98c

Extra Heavy Weight FLANNELETTE GOWNS in an assortment of colors, all sizes, round neck. 49c

CHILDREN'S FLANNELETTE SLEEPING GOWNS, cut very full, button high in neck. 29c

P. N. CORSETS for medium and stout people, garters attached, draw string. 69c, 98c, $1.49

CHILDREN'S CORSET WAISTS, different styles, all sizes. 12 1/2c, 24c

LADIES' VERY HEAVY FLEECE LINED VESTS and PANTS. 24c

LADIES' BLACK WOOL HOSE, extra heavy, in plain and 2-1 rib. 19c

LADIES' FINE CASHMERE HOSE, black only, gray toe and heel. 39c

LADIES' BLACK FLEECE LINED HOSE, ribbed top, extra size. 15c

CHILDREN'S HEAVY COTTON FLEECE HOSE, worth 20c. 12 1/2c

"Extra Specials" for Thursday

LADIES' GLOVES

LADIES' CASHMERE GLOVES, doe lined, all colors and sizes. Regular price 39c. Thursday only

19c

Ladies' Handkerchiefs

100 Dozen LADIES' HANDKERCHIEFS, hem-stitched, made of good quality material, good size. Regular price 5c. Thursday only

1c

TEA APRONS

25 Dozen LADIES' TEA APRONS, made of cross bar muslin and fine lawn, trimmed with ham-burg. Worth 25c. Thursday only

9c

Ladies' Comfort Shoes

Made of VICI and GLOVE KID, lace and button, plain toe and patent tip, rubber and leather heels, sizes 4, 4 1/2 and 5 only. Worth $2.50 and $3.00. Thursday only

$1.39

MISSSES' FINE RIB HOSE, fast black. 10c

BOYS' ALL WOOL HOSE, very heavy, different ribs, worth 25c. 17c

CHILDREN'S CARACUL COATS, black, fancy trimmed, worth $7. $4.98

CHILDREN'S CARACUL BONNETS, assorted colors and styles, worth $1.00 and $1.50. 69c, 98c

MISSSES' CARACUL COATS, sizes 8 to 16, full length, quilted lining. $3.98 to $5.98

CHILDREN'S SHOES, box calf and vici kid, blucher cut, sizes 5 to 8, worth $1.00. 75c

LADIES' FELT SHOES, leather foxed, plain toes, low heels, worth $1.25. 99c

WOMEN'S JULIETTES, vici kid, patent tip, with rubber heels, worth $1.00. 79c

MISSSES' VIVI KID BUTTON, with patent tip and cuff, 10 buttons, with tassel, worth $1.50. $1.23

MEN'S VELVET HOUSE SLIPPERS, worth 65c. 49c

MURDER PREVENTED

Girl Sent Note of Warning to Intended Victim

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 15.—"If you value your life don't carry any money tonight or don't leave your place of business alone."

The man whom I love is concerned in this deal and I am warning you to save him from committing murder. Please destroy quick."

Such was the alarming note received on Saturday by Samuel Demarest, a merchant on Main street.

Mrs. Irene Whitehurst Burns, 19 years old, wrote it. The man she loved or thinks she does, for she seems to be rather emotional, is Charles Leseman.

Having told Demarest of his danger, young Mrs. Burns warned Leseman that the police were after him. So, instead of attempting the crime he had plotted with two other young men, he fled from Paterson.

Demarest took the note to the police and they arrested Mrs. Burns, Michael

POSTAL SAVINGS

Plans Arranged to Protect the System

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—As the result of the first sale of postal savings bonds in New York recently, at the low rate of 92.5, the trustees of the postal savings banks are considering the adoption of prompt methods to maintain the securities at their face value. They will announce their willingness shortly, it is expected, to invest in these bonds at par the 30 per cent. of postal savings deposits which

SAYS THIS STOPPED

DANDRUFF QUICKLY

From Worcester Post, "OVER-HEARD AT THE PLAY," Column 1, "I wish I could get rid of my dandruff. I'm fairly desperate." I heard a woman say the other night, "I shampoo my head twice a week but in a few hours it is back again as bad as ever. How on earth do you keep your head so clean and free from dandruff?" "Easily," her friend replied, "and I use nothing but plain Lavona de Composee such as any drug store sells, mixed with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and apply it twice daily."

Lavona is the technical or pharmaceutical name for the pure concentrated extract of the Peruvianum shrub of Peru, which any physician can tell you is unequalled as a hair and scalp cleanser and invigorator. I used to have dandruff quite as badly as you before trying it but after using it a week I found every trace gone and it has never returned. I simply go to my drugstore and buy 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona de Composee and one-half dr. of Menthol Crystals, mix them all together and allow them to stand for an hour. I use this mixture night and morning and rub briskly all through my hair and into the scalp with my fingers. I spent dollars for every advertised hair tonic and hair wash I read about until some time ago a friend handed me this simple inexpensive home recipe and suggested that I try it. Lavona has one drawback in my case. I find it grows my hair with almost startling rapidity wherever applied, so if you use it be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired. I wonder more bald headed men don't use it."

LAVONA de COMPOSEE

Pure Concentrated Extract of the Peruvianum shrub, the World's Greatest Hair Remedy. Stops Scalp and Restores Natural Color to Gray Hair, Without Dyes. Sold in Lowell at Ilker-Jaynes drug store.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

THE SELLING OF

Fancy Art Silks and Satins

15,000 YARDS ARE OFFERED AT MUCH LESS THAN HALF

For all sorts of Fancy Work, Kimonas, Draperies and Coverings. All the newest designs and colorings.

SILKS - - 39c Yard

SATINS - 49c Yard

Regular Price 89c to $1.25

Regular Price 98c to $1.50

EAST SECTION SECOND FLOOR

CAKE SALE TODAY

BY THE LADIES OF THE FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

MERRIMACK STREET CENTRE TABLES

CAKE SALE TODAY

BY THE LADIES OF THE FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

MERRIMACK STREET CENTRE TABLES

CAKE SALE TODAY

BY THE LADIES OF THE FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

OBJECTIONS MADE

Against Proposed Stable in Cunningham St.

The members of the board of health held a meeting late yesterday afternoon and heard remonstrants to the petition of Mrs. Bessie Gray for the erection of a stable for 30 horses in Cunningham street.

John J. Gray appeared for the petitioner and he told the board that the building would be a thoroughly modern structure, with all up-to-date connections and appliances.

The first remonstrant was Miss Rita C. Abbott, representing an estate. She considered the stable would prove a nuisance, and its erection would mean a depreciation in the value of the property nearby. Mrs. John Eber said she lives within 80 feet of the proposed barn and owns 10,000 square feet of land in the vicinity. She said the present barn is a nuisance especially in the summer months, and that the erection of a new and larger one would make things worse.

Mrs. Ernest Woessner and Curtis McEwan also objected to the granting of a permit for the proposed barn. Because of the absence of the chairman of the board, the matter was laid on the table until the next meeting.

A petition from residents of Woodward avenue, objecting to the dumping of refuse nearby, was read. Agent Bates said Supt. Putnam of the street department had agreed to stop it.

R. H. Hyman appeared and asked that he be given a permit to erect a stable in Powell street. After an explanation about what he would agree to do, the permit was granted.

LICENSE BOARD

WILL ALLOW LIQUOR DEALERS TO DISTRIBUTE GIFTS

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The licensing board at police headquarters yesterday issued two notices to Boston liquor dealers, one of them being issued in an attempt to prevent a rule previously issued from doing financial injury to many license holders.

On Oct. 9 the board issued a notice forbidding the giving of any gift, bonus or rebate with a purchase of liquor.

Later it was learned that a number of dealers had contracted for hundreds of dollars' worth of calendars, card cases, corkscrews, etched whiskey glasses for Christmas presents to old customers.

Rather than do an injustice by pressing a rule that is not vital in any way, the board has deferred the imposing of the rule until the 1st of February, provided the only gifts given are those already contracted for. The exemption, however, does not apply to coupons, trading stamps or rebate checks.

The other order issued yesterday referred to the giving away of sample or regular bottles of liquor as Christmas or Thanksgiving trade gifts.

This order is more severe this year, because it forbids the gift of even the tiny "nip" in miniature bottles containing one small drink, and because it fixes the ban from Nov. 27 to Jan. 1, thus including Thanksgiving, which heretofore has been exempted.

INTERESTING MEETING

A very interesting meeting of the Band T. Club was held at the home of Miss Mollie Bradley, Tuesday evening. Much business of importance was transacted and a social hour passed.

There were vocal selections by Howard Grant and George Seapies of Nashua, and recitations by Gilbert Manning, Catherine Delany spoke briefly on "Votes for Women." The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Elizabeth Higgins, Walnut street.

FOLLOW GILMORE, FORESTERS HALL, WEDNESDAY EVENING.

A.G. POLLARD CO.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

THE SELLING OF

Fancy Art Silks and Satins

15,000 YARDS ARE OFFERED AT MUCH LESS THAN HALF

For all sorts of Fancy Work, Kimonas, Draperies and Coverings. All the newest designs and colorings.

SILKS - - 39c Yard

SATINS - 49c Yard

Regular Price 89c to $1.25

Regular Price 98c to $1.50

EAST SECTION SECOND FLOOR

CAKE SALE TODAY

BY THE LADIES OF THE FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

YOUNG BURGLAR

Told Police He Made Many Breaks

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The choir boy face of Raymond Beck, a 14-year-old Brooklyn boy, blue eyed and golden haired, made burglary so easy that he told the police today he had robbed so many places he could not remember them all. When the police found a buried casket of jewelry to which the lad had directed them twice, they were more about his exploits. Raymond was arrested last night in a theatre. His love of the footlights caused him to use a stolen ticket and this led to his detection. Between sobs the lad confessed a career of thievery which the police say is without parallel for one so young.

A LIGHT VOTE

WAS CAST AT THE PRIMARIES IN HAVENHILL

HAVENHILL, Nov. 15.—The smallest vote that has ever been cast since Havenhill adopted its new municipal rule four years ago was polled yesterday in the preliminary election, only 1607 of the 7800 registered voters taking part.

This is about one-fourth the number that participated in the primaries in the past three years. Apathy prevailed as the only contest was to obtain enough votes to qualify for school committees.

Only two candidates, George I. Davis and Dr. E. H. Fontaine, filed nomination papers for the school board, and yesterday friends wrote in the name of John W. Tilton, whose term expires this year, and who has always refused to take out nomination papers, friends having looked after this. He polled 140 votes in this way, thus qualifying for the city election on Dec. 5.

R. E. Gardner, the other member of the school board, whose term expires this year, used stickers, having friends at each polling place, and he also qualified, polling 697 votes. The two present members will contest at the regular election with Davis and Fontaine.

There were only four aldermanic candidates and they each qualified. Ex-Supt. of Schools Albert L. Bennett, polling the highest vote, with Supt. of Streets Ralph D. Hood second. Alderman U. A. Killam, who seeks re-election, was third and Alderman Joe W. Dean was low man with 470.

ROSE FINARDI

MARRIED THE MAN SHE ATTEMPTED TO KILL

FITCHBURG, Nov. 15.—Rose Finardi, the woman who through jealousy, it is alleged, attempted to take the life of Pio Mallo, who was her lover, yesterday released from the house of correction at Worcester upon sureties furnished by the man whose life it is alleged, she attempted by shooting on Oct. 25, and later she accompanied him to the house of a clergyman, where the couple were married.

The Finardi woman has been waiting the action of the grand jury since she pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Pio Mallo.

The couple returned to this city last night. A reception was tendered them by their friends. Mallo said that he would do everything possible to have the charge against his wife quashed when it came up for trial.

GIRL DROWNED

LITTLE ONE FELL INTO A MILL TRENCH

UNBRIDGE, Nov. 15.—Beatrice, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Girard of North Unbridge, was drowned yesterday afternoon. In company with Clifford Robideau and Alford Gaertlin, both aged 5, she was playing near a mill trench which provided water power for the North Unbridge cotton mills. The little girls were walking on a wall near the high-way and the Girard girl fell in. The gates were closed by the mill officials and the body was found in half an hour. Dr. William E. Bahner of Whitinsville, medical examiner, was notified and gave the cause of death as accidental drowning.

THE ANTI-TRUST LAW

Butler Ames Tells President it Should be Repealed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Representative Butler Ames, who was unable to see the president Monday, spent some time with him yesterday. The object of Mr. Ames' call was to urge the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law. "The president and he held diametrically opposed views on the subject," and Mr. Ames left without convincing the president that his view is the correct one.

Mr. Ames is opposed to competition, which, he told the president, is ruinous to the manufacturer. He cited the case of his grandfather, Gen. Butler, who, he said, was nearly brought to ruin by the underselling on the part of rival arms manufacturers. Mr. Ames told the president that his grandfather's rivals kept the fight up for 13 years, and during that time Gen. Butler was forced to support his factory with the income he derived from his law practice.

Upon leaving the White House Mr. Ames expressed the opinion that the manufacturers of New England were not greatly alarmed over the tariff situation.

"They do not feel that they have anything to fear from a republican president," said Mr. Ames. "The manufacturers are confident that the president will not sign tariff bills that are not based on the reports of the tariff board. If they maintain the attitude they assumed last session, the tariff board will pay no attention to the tariff board, and in that event no tariff legislation is probable at the coming session."

"If, however, legislation based on the reports of the tariff board is passed, the manufacturers will not object. They have confidence in the

FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. Anna Woods Victim in Nashua

NASHUA, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Anna Woods, aged 45, was fatally burned last evening at her lodgings, at the corner of West Hills and Elm streets.

Fire is thought to have communicated to the bed clothes from a stove near the bed, as an elbow of the stovepipe was off when the flames reached the room.

Mrs. Woods ran out into the hall crying for help. George Barton, employed in a barber shop on the street door, was the first to come to the assistance of the woman. He, with George Ferris and Fred Bourassa, assisted her to the tenement of Louis Landry. An alarm of fire had been rung in and an ambulance called. Firemen bore Mrs. Woods to the ambulance and she was conveyed to the Nashua hospital.

The building, which is owned by George and Nellie Winn, was only slightly damaged.

Mrs. Woods had just returned from a hotel at Bethlehem, N. H., where she had been employed through the season.

10c Elcho Cigars

Will satisfy you or your money refunded.

Driscoll & Fitzgerald

ELCHO CIGARS FOR SALE IN LOWELL BY

Ilker-Jaynes Drug Co., 110 Merrimack St., Brown, 112 Central St., Henry F. Carr, 48 Gorham St., Falls & Burklshaw, 410 Middlesex St.

J. J. Gallagher, Merrimack St., E. J. N. Luchessi, 485 Middlesex St., Samuel Scott, 206 Middlesex St.

WE GUARANTEE

10c Elcho Cigars

Will satisfy you or your money refunded.

Driscoll & Fitzgerald

ELCHO CIGARS FOR SALE IN LOWELL BY

Ilker-Jaynes Drug Co., 110 Merrimack St., Brown, 112 Central St., Henry F. Carr, 48 Gorham St., Falls & Burklshaw, 410 Middlesex St.

J. J. Gallagher, Merrimack St., E. J. N. Luchessi, 485 Middlesex St., Samuel Scott, 206 Middlesex St.

WE GUARANTEE

10c Elcho Cigars

Will satisfy you or your money refunded.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company desires to remind its subscribers that the 20 days allowed in which to pay the service bills expire

NOVEMBER 20

Please remit by check or call at

254 CENTRAL STREET LOWELL, MASS.

CONTINUOUS WORK

North Chelmsford Mills
Running Day and Night

The Moore Scouring mill at North Chelmsford started working all day and all night this week so great is the rush of business while the Millers Worsted mills at the same place are also running day and night.

The Boston Ice company has resumed operations at its ice houses at Crystal Lake, North Chelmsford, after a suspension of three weeks and is sending away many carloads of ice daily.

The Chelmsford Iron Foundry still continues its rush of business.

DEATHS

LAIJUNESSE—Victor Laijunesse, aged 55 years, 1 month and 23 days, died today at his late home, 7 rear of 280 Middlesex street. Deceased is survived by three children, Alfred of Brockton, Wilfred of Springfield, Me., and Mrs. Albina Arcand of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

KEEFE—Mrs. Bessie Keefe, wife of Joseph Keefe an old and highly respected resident of Lowell, and a devoted attendant at St. Michael's church, died this morning at her home, 25 Seventh street. Deceased is survived by her husband, three sons, Joseph H., James C. and George E. Keefe, and five daughters, Mrs. W. C. Adams, Mrs. John Cox, the Misses Josephine E., Harriet J. and Bertha A. Keefe, and eleven grandchildren.

RYAN—Mary Ryan, an old and highly esteemed resident of this city, died today at the Chelmsford street hospital, aged 95 years.

CURRIER—Mrs. Carrie Brownell Currier died at her residence, 95 Ludlow street, Nov. 14th. She was born in Northport, Nova Scotia, in 1818, but came to the states about 1880, and for some time since had been a resident of Lowell. Deceased was a member of the Kirk Street church and was deeply interested in its welfare, taking part in its activities as time and strength permitted.

She leaves, besides her husband, Edwin M. Currier of Ludlow street, two sisters, Mrs. Martha C. Thompson of Biddeford, Me., and Mrs. Margaret E. Angus of Northport, N. S.; also a brother, Mr. James C. Brownell of Northport.

PARHAM—Mrs. Maria E. Parham died yesterday at her home, 80 Eleventh street, aged 77 years, 3 months. Deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Stuckney of this city, and Mrs. A. S. Bachelder of Waltham; two brothers, Charles and Edwin Parham of Waltham, and a half-brother, D. P. Atwood of Pelham, N. H.

JOHNSON—Died, early this morning, at his home, 15 Gates street, Byron Johnson, aged 55 years. Deceased, who was a well known stable keeper, died as a result of injuries sustained by a fall at his place of business in Thorndike st. last Sunday. He was a member of Mechanics lodge, I. O. O. F. and Antiquity lodge of Masons, and is survived by a wife, one daughter, Miss C. Frank Johnson, a brother, A. C. Johnson of Chateaugay, N. Y., and three sisters.

WELCH—Michael Welch, an old and well known resident, and a veteran of the Civil war, died yesterday at the Lowell hospital. Deceased was one of Lowell's pioneer carriage painters and served throughout the Civil war as a member of the 33d Mass. regiment as a drummer boy. He leaves a wife and four sons, John P. of Boston, William of New York, George T. of Boston and Charles of Winchester; two daughters, Miss Ella Welch of Lowell and Mrs. Warren Cady of Boston, one brother, Thomas Welch of Lowell and two sisters, Mrs. Della Baldwin and Mrs. Ann Sullivan, both of Dorchester. He was a member of Post 120, G. A. R. The body was taken to the rooms of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

SOULA—Vasiliki Soula aged 20 years, died last night at her home, 155 Market street. She leaves a father and a brother. The remains were taken to the chapel of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

LAJOIE—Mrs. Thomas Lajoie, nee Colombe Chamberlain, aged 67 years, died today at Biddeford, Me. She leaves to mourn her loss three children, Mrs. Napoleon Nadeau of Biddeford, Me., Mrs. Guillaume St. Jean of this city and Mrs. Alfred Lajoie of Lynn; a sister, Mrs. Jean Levesque of this city and three brothers, two in Canada and one in New Hampshire. The body will be brought to this city tomorrow by Undertaker Archambault and will be brought to the home of deceased's daughter, Mrs. Guillaume St. Jean, 162 Riverside street.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MARTIN—The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Martin will take place Thursday morning at 8.15 from her late home, 185 Fletcher street. At 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Undertaker Peter H. Savage in charge.

MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Murphy will take place from her late home, 72 Moody street Thursday morning at 8.15. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Columba's church at 9 o'clock. Friends are requested not to send flowers. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

CLARK—Died today, Dorothy E. Clark, aged 1 month, 24 days. She was the child of Harry B. and Ethel M. Clark of Highland avenue, North Chelmsford. Funeral services at home at 3.30 Thursday afternoon. Friends invited. Burial private. George W. Healey, undertaker. Lawrence papers please copy.

JOHNSON—The funeral of the late Byron W. Johnson will take place Friday afternoon from his home, 15 Gates street. Services at the house at 2 o'clock. Friends invited. Funeral private. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WELCH—The funeral of the late Michael Welch will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the chapel of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons. A mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church at 9.45 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

SOULA—The funeral of the late Vasiliki Soula will take place Sunday afternoon from the chapel of J. P. O'Donnell & Sons. Services will be held at the Holy Trinity church at 2.30 o'clock. Burial in the Edison cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. P. O'Donnell & Sons.

RYAN—The funeral of the late Mary Ryan will take place Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertaker Thos. J. McDermott, High mass of requiem at St. Peter's church at 10 o'clock.

KEEFE—The funeral of the late Mrs. Bessie Keefe will take place Friday morning at 8 o'clock from the family residence, 25 Seventh street, at 9 o'clock. High mass of requiem at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Undertakers Thomas J. McDermott.

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY AND MGR. FALCONIO ON WAY TO ROME TO BE MADE CARDINALS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Archbishop John M. Farley and Mgr. Dionisio Falconio are on their way to Rome, where on Nov. 27 they will receive their red hats and become members of the college of cardinals. They are making the trip by direct command, anyway to take the new oath required by the church regulations. The expense of sending messengers to picture below was made in Archbishop Farley's residence a few hours before the distinguished prelates sailed for Italy.

SUIT FOR $1000

Against Local Parties
by John J. Gray

John J. Gray, through his attorney, John W. McEvoy, has brought suit in an action of contract in the sum of $1000 against Jennie E. L. Graham, Carrie Carr and Charles H. Libbey of this city.

BOARD OF TRADE

DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET

The executive committee of the board of trade will meet at 4.30 this afternoon and the board of directors at 5 o'clock this afternoon when many routine matters will come up while the directors will hear several recommendations from the executive committee.

WORK PROGRESSING

ON THE HAMILTON WALL PROPERTY

The work of preparing the Hamilton wall property, so-called, for the new building to be erected there is going along swimmingly. One chimney has been taken down and the work of reducing the second chimney was begun yesterday. It is slow work as it is necessary to remove it brick by brick and it's a case of beginning at the top and working down. If the chimney was away from the street and buildings it could be pulled down, but as it is there's but one course to pursue and that's along the line of gradual reduction.

BRIGHT, SEARS & CO.

WYMAN'S EXCHANGE

Bankers and Brokers

SECOND FLOOR

TWO MEN INJURED

They Fell From Staging
at Merrimack Mills

Edward Gorrigan of 11 Dutton street and John Francis of 21 Bradford street were painfully injured as a result of a fall from a staging while at work at the Merrimack mills yesterday. The men were working on the staging when it broke, both men being precipitated to the ground. The ambulances were summoned and both men were taken to the Lowell hospital. Gorrigan sustained an injury to the left shoulder and Francis' left hip was injured.

THE DIVORCE COURT

A session of the divorce court will open in this city next Monday, for contested and uncontested cases and it is understood that there is quite a large list including several local cases that were continued over from last term. Judge Fessenden will preside over the session.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

Man Stole Surgical Instruments

Edward J. Halloran, of this city, was placed on trial before Judge John D. McLaughlin at the superior court at Cambridge yesterday on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a bag of surgical instruments and medicines from Dr. Edward O. Taber's automobile several weeks ago. The court found Halloran guilty and sentenced him to six months in the house of correction.

LOWELL HUNTERS

Had Great Luck in Wilds of Maine

Messrs. Freeman M. Bill, Frank B. Kenney, John MacDougall, Emmons Harris, Frank R. Strout and William Foster are back from the wilds of Maine after a very successful hunting trip. Emmons Harris was the hero of the hunt. He killed a fine bull moose with good head and antlers. The party took seven deer that are now on exhibition at Strout's market in Centralville.

The Lowell hunters penetrated to the heart of the big game district and Mr. Harris is having considerable fun at the expense of at least two of his comrades, Messrs Bill and MacDougall. They struck a fresh moose track about 6 o'clock in the morning and followed it until long after the noon hour and until they arrived at a point where other hunters had struck the same track and had preceded them.

They returned to camp about six o'clock in the evening and told of their "near capture." Emmons Harris was joking "I laid the monarch of the Forest Low," and seemed almost beside himself with joy. He had listened between verses, to the story of the comrades. "Well boys, said he, 'you had a long and useless tramp but you stuck to it until you knew it was useless to pursue it farther. That's the proper spirit for hunters to show, but if I had known where you were at I would have sent you a wireless informing you of the fact that I had shot that monarch of the forest that you so persistently pursued. I shot him at about the time you struck his track.'"

The other two thought that Emmons was joking but it was no joke. He had killed the moose and he proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that it was the moose that Messrs. Bill and MacDougall had followed. The hunters were gone two weeks. They go to Maine every fall but they report that their trip this year was the "best ever."

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

HUNDREDS AFFLICTED

IN ALL LARGE CITIES IN THE
UNITED STATES

Mrs. G. C. Bailey, of No. 110 Bartlett street, made the following statement recently in connection with "Tona Vita," the remarkable new tonic that is now being introduced in Lowell at the Hall & Lyon Drug Co. She said: "I have been sick for some time. I have been nervous and run-down and have suffered from indigestion."

"I have never known just what was the matter with me. I slept poorly, and my sleep did me little good. I was dreadfully tired most of the time, and never felt well a moment, but was always nervous and depressed. My appetite was very poor."

"I got some 'Tona Vita' and 'Leo's Rhubarb Laxative' a few days ago and have taken it regularly since. There is no other medicine that is equal to them. The first dose helped me and every day I have become stronger and better. I am now eating and sleeping better than I have for some time. I can heartily recommend this wonderful medicine."

The specialists who are introducing "Tona Vita" in Lowell, are giving demonstrations of what the medicine will do in five minutes. All day long they meet callers at the store where they are located, and try to produce a noticeable improvement in all cases of nervous debility within five minutes, the people who take the medicine to be the judge. There is no charge for this demonstration, and several hundred people tried the experiment Monday without a single failure.

One of the specialists said: "Tona Vita" will break all records in Lowell, like it is doing in all of the big cities of the United States today. People are fast realizing what it will do. We are instructed by our company to take no money for the tonic unless the medicine proves satisfactory. Hundreds upon hundreds in this and other large cities are afflicted with nervous debility caused by the strain of modern life. "The entire system becomes run-down in such cases and nervousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache, dizziness, and loss of vitality result. "Tona Vita" will work wonders in such cases in a remarkably short time. If it doesn't we want nothing other than the time it takes to come and get the medicine."

The specialists will continue to meet the public from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. for a limited time at the Hall & Lyon Drug Store, and will take pleasure in explaining the merits of their preparation to all callers.

FUNERALS

MORRIS—The funeral of Gertrude Morris took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking rooms, 415 Bridge street. Interment was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, and was in charge of Undertaker James W. McKenna.

FURDADO—John Furdado, son of Joachim and Rose Furdado, died this morning at the home, 22 Edgerly's court, off Charles street. Funeral place today and burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott.

TALBOT—The funeral of the late Mrs. Leroy H. Talbot took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence in Mount Pleasant street, North Billerica. Services were held in the home, which was filled with many relatives and friends of the deceased. Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge, pastor of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, officiated and the services were of a brief and impressive nature. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Burial was in the Lowell cemetery, in charge of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

BARCLAY—The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Barclay took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Felch, 25 Barclay street. Services were conducted by Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the body was interred in the family lot at the cemetery. Burial was in the Lowell cemetery in charge of Undertaker C. M. Young.

HIGGINS—The remains of Leonard

Higgins, son of William J. and Sophie Higgins, were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The little body was just beginning to be a comfort to his parents and a little ray of sunshine in the home will be greatly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Higgins. The esteem in which the little boy was held by all who know him was evidenced by the large number of people who visited the house about his death and also the large attendance at the funeral. The funeral took place from the home of his parents, 40 Sheldon street at 3 o'clock and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including friends from Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, Boston, West Roxbury, North Billerica and Haverhill. There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral tributes, the following being the most prominent: Large pillow of roses, pink, chrysanthemums and ferns with the inscription "Tenny," from brother George, and Misses Cunningham and Sprague; roses and chrysanthemums inscribed "Tenny" from Grandpa and Grandma Higgins of Dorchester, Mass.; basket of roses and lilies, Grandpa Leonard and Rose Swager; wreath of roses and lilies, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cunningham of Dorchester, Mass.; spray of white chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Latham of Dorchester, Mass.; cross on base of roses, pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Rodger White of Jamaica Plain, Mass.; wreath of roses, pinks and ferns, Mr. Joseph McDonough, South Boston, Mass.; spray of Marguerites from Cousin Anna, Baby Catherine Higgins of Dorchester, Mass.; spray of pinks and ferns, Aunt Emma and Cousin Frank Vaughan; large basket of white chrysanthemums and roses, Miss Hoyt and Miss Gilliam; mound of roses, pinks and ferns, Thomas Cunningham and family of West Roxbury, Mass.; spray of pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harrington of North Billerica; spray of lilies and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Bennett; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, Miss Ella Roark; spray of lilies and ferns, Mrs. Henry and family; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, Mrs. Mary Doris and family; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns, Miss Edith Farrington and Miss Ruth Smith; spray of roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of Haverhill, Mass.; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacBrayne; spray of North Billerica, Mass.; spray of pinks, chrysanthemums and ferns, Mrs. Charles Burns and children; spray of pinks and roses, Misses Jeanette and Anna Riley; spray of tea roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burbeck and Mrs. E. A. Burbeck; spray of white pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cleworth; spray of white chrysanthemums and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley; large spray of yellow chrysanthemums, Mr. Frank T. Morrissey; spray of pinks and lilies and ferns, Mrs. John J. Currier; spray of pinks, roses and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. James J. McManmon; spray of pinks and roses, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jackson; spray of roses, pinks and lilies, Mrs. Ruth Maxwell. There were several other sprays from friends.

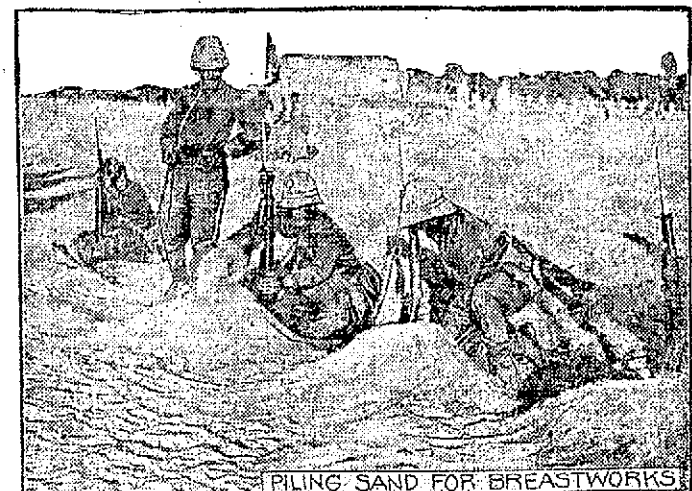

The casket was borne from the house to the hearse by the four nieces of the deceased: Messrs. Alfred T. Cunningham, John W. Latham, Thomas Higgins of Dorchester, Mass., and Leonard H. Swager of this city.

After leaving the house the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, burial being in the family lot and under the direction of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

FISHER GAINS THREE

Recount Being Held in 11th District

The recount of votes cast for representative in the 11th district in which Rep. Edward Fisher, democrat, won over Samuel L. Taylor of Westford by 14 votes is now in progress. In Westford Mr. Fisher gained one vote while in Chelmsford he gained two. The recounts in Acton and Littleton will be held tonight and no date is given for the recount in Carlisle. There is hardly any possibility of a change in the result as Mr. Fisher has gained three votes in two of the towns.

PILING SAND FOR BREASTWORKS

ITALIAN TROOPS AND ARABS ENGAGED IN FIGHTING

TRIPOLI, Nov. 15.—The Italian soldiers and the Arabs are engaged in continuous fighting on the outskirts of the city. The Italians, as a rule, fight from behind breastworks or walls. Sharpshooters on both sides are constantly on the watch, many of them being posted on tops of buildings. Walls of sand and stone have been constructed in many places. Occasionally where there are no walls available ditches are dug or ramparts of stones or sand are hurriedly thrown up. In some cases the soldiers themselves have piled up little heads of sand, behind which they lie while directing their rifle fire.

ARNOLD OF WEST POINT, LEADING GUARD IN EAST THIS SEASON

WEST POINT, Nov. 15.—Football fans, who have beaten Harvard, and has reached its semi-final stage. The West Point cadets, who defeated championship of the old "Big Four" in Yale, have not themselves suffered defeat. The Army, with only two points scored against it, has the best showing on the scoring basis of any of the larger colleges, while Carlisle has run up the biggest total of points, 246. Annapolis and Cornell are also in the unbeaten class, and Dartmouth has only the Frank goal made by Princeton on Nov. 11 to mar its winning record. Probably no guard in the east this season has played a more consistently brilliant all around game than Arnold of West Point. He is sure to be given a place on the All American team this season. Picture shows him about to snap back ball during practice.

Outside the so-called "Big Four" there are several eastern colleges whose records promise some basis for championship boasts. The Carlisle In-

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

Furniture, Stoves and Ranges

$7000 STOCK OF

M. LETOURNEAU, MOODY STREET

Sale Now Going On and Store Open Every Evening—All Goods at Cost—Must Be Sold at Once

M. LETOURNEAU.

EDW. J. TIERNEY
Assignee

MR. I. L. SHOWEM FINDS THAT HE HAS A FAMILY TREE

GERMAN AVIATOR KILLED

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Herr Pietschker an aviator, fell while making a flight over the Johannisthal field today and was killed. His neck was broken. Pietschker took part in the Berlin aviation meeting in September, using an albatross biplane. He made some good exhibitions and on several occasions developed a speed exceeding 60 miles an hour.

CHELSEA BOY SHOT

By Lad Who Was Playing Bandit

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—"Hold up your hands" is the demand which Joseph Matak, a 13-year-old boy of 48 Medford street, Chelsea, is alleged to have made of Stanley Janusk, Jr., also 13 years old, of 4 Front street, Chelsea, about 6 o'clock last evening.

The two lads had been at play with a number of other boys on Medford street, and it is claimed that when Matak made the demand of Janusk that he held in his hands a large sized air rifle.

Janusk, alarmed, told Matak he would not hold up his hands, and started to run away. He had gone but a few feet when the police asserted that the Matak boy fired a shot at the Janusk boy. The bullet fired was of .22-caliber, and it struck the Janusk boy in the back, penetrating several inches into the body.

He was hurried to the Rufus S. Frost hospital, where the bullet was removed by Dr. Horace B. Bragdon of East Boston. The condition of the Janusk boy is not dangerous.

Immediately following the shooting the police went in search of the Matak lad, but they were unable to locate him last night.

The two boys, according to the stories the police have investigated, had been friends for a long time. No words had passed between them last evening. They had been at play as usual and Matak seemed very proud of the new rifle he was exhibiting to all the boys. It was not supposed that it was loaded.

A SILKEN LUSTRE TO THE DULLEST HAIR

(Fashion's Mirror)

"Proper care of hair and scalp does not mean time-consuming and expensive trips to the hair-dresser's. Simplicity is the keynote—just an occasional brushing of scalp and hair on which has been sprinkled a tablespoonful of dry shampoo mixture. This is brushed through and out of the hair, and with it comes all dust, dandruff and excess oil. To prepare the dry shampoo, mix together either 4 ounces of orris root or corn meal and 4 ounces of thorax. Keep in sifter-top can and use once or twice each week. After a few shampoos, dull, stringy, lifeless or brittle hair grows wonderfully soft, silky and lustrous. Continued using induces a luxuriant growth."

Carroll Bros.

Plumbers, Steam Fitters and Sheet Metal Workers.

36 Middle St. Telephone 1650

F. W. Cragin & Co.

MANUFACTURERS OF Cabinet Work of All Kinds to Order. Stores and offices fitted up. Wood turning, jobbing and repairing. Old furniture repaired and finished. New furniture made to order.

40 Fletcher Street, Lowell, Mass. Telephone

ALL THE BEST GRADES OF ANTHRACITE and BITUMINOUS COAL

CAN BE HAD AT E. A. WILSON & CO.

4 MERRIMACK SQUARE, 700 BROADWAY, 15 TANNER STREET

THE PALMER CASE

Continued

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

The second day of the hearing before Judge McLaughlin on the motion to quash proceedings against Jackson Palmer of Lowell, who stands convicted of perjury, on the ground that he had not been legally indicted, occupying an hour and a half in the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday afternoon.

Frank A. Gokey of Everett, clerk of the grand jury, who was the sole witness at Monday's session, was the only one heard yesterday. Sherman J. Whipple, counsel for the defense, and Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins occupying the time in his further examination.

When the court adjourned at 5:30 and announced that an all-day session would be begun at 10 o'clock this morning, the report of the hearing had been practically completed. Among the most pertinent questions put to the witness were those asked him by Judge McLaughlin, and the answers to each proved the testimony to be of the utmost importance, in fact the most significant brought out thus far. In seeking to ascertain if the witness remembered whether or not a vote was taken on the question of indicting Palmer the court asked the witness in so many words:

"To this Mr. Gokey replied that it might have been taken, but he was not sure. There were some days when he was absent. He could not recall that a vote was taken separately on the question of indicting Palmer and based his record as clerk of the grand jury on the motion that was made and passed by the grand jury as a body."

Memory of Witness Refreshed

When asked by Dist. Atty. Higgins if he remembered that he (Mr. Higgins) had told the grand jury at the September sitting that he had drawn the Jackson Palmer indictment for perjury, but had not drawn the other indictments because of lack of time, Mr. Gokey replied that there might have been something said to that effect, but he could not honestly remember. The witness said, however, that he did remember that the district attorney had told the grand jury that he would try to have the other indictments ready for the next term.

Mr. Higgins, in raising objection to one of Mr. Whipple's questions, spoke of the possibility of a certain phase of the inquiry being "an indirect attack on the report or attitude of the grand jury." Mr. Higgins said he thought the court would not allow the grand jury to be discredited.

Mr. Whipple promptly disclaimed any intention of attacking Mr. Higgins or the grand jury and said his purpose was only to present to the court facts that should be disclosed and which were of importance in the administration of justice in the state.

The hearing was opened by Mr. Whipple, who resumed his examination of Mr. Gokey by asking if he had talked of the case with anyone between the time he left the witness stand Monday afternoon and yesterday. Mr. Gokey replied that he had some conversation with one of the jurors Monday night as the two were going to Boston.

"Has anything happened," asked Mr. Whipple, "to refresh your recollection since you left the witness stand last night?"

"No, sir, I don't know that anything has happened that will refresh my memory," replied the witness.

Signing County Report

Mr. Whipple next questioned the witness concerning testimony he had given on Monday, with particular reference to Mr. Gokey's own words in recounting events that happened at the grand jury meetings in June, July and September.

Mr. Gokey said that the transcription of his original grand jury notes on the loose sheets was not made in the record book until three weeks ago.

"Had you heard some question raised then?" Mr. Whipple asked. "No, sir, I had not," replied the witness.

"You anticipate me," Mr. Whipple went on. "I was going to say, 'Had you heard any question raised with regard to this matter?' Your mind outran my speech a little."

"That is what I thought," witness answered. Q. Let us see. It was about three months before you wrote it in the book. A. Yes. Q. Now on July 18 this report of the grand jury in the investigation of county affairs was signed, wasn't it? A. To the best of my memory it was signed July 18 or thereabouts. Q. Where was this meeting of July 18? A. I believe in this room. Q. And was the paper before you signed in this room. A. Yes. Q. That is one thing another, all the members of the grand jury signed it, did they? A. Yes. Q. Beginning with Mr. Sweetman, the foreman? A. Yes. Q. Charles Bradley next and ending with—A. Arthur J. Travis. Q. Did you sign it? A. I did.

Dist. Atty. Higgins Objects

Mr. Whipple thereupon put the question, "Was it read to the grand jury?" before the witness was allowed to answer Dist. Atty. Higgins raised his first objection of the afternoon. Mr. Whipple added, however, the remainder of the question which was—"before they signed."

"I don't think your honor, that it is necessary to go into that," said the district attorney.

"It is merely to see what time was occupied, because I regarded it as necessary," Mr. Whipple explained. The court asked: "You mean how much time on that day?"

To this Mr. Whipple replied that such was his intent. He then put the question in this form: "Was this paper read to or by the jurors before they signed it?"

In pointing out the reason for his objection Dist. Atty. Higgins said: "Whether he means that the reading of the whole of that report at that time or any time is competent is the question, and it may be an indirect attack on the report or the attitude of the grand jury. Whether it was read or not, or whether they had time to read it, or whether they think it competent, in view of the importance of that report and the importance of this whole matter, I think the court will not allow the grand jury to be discredited."

Mr. Whipple's Disclaims

In replying, Mr. Whipple said: "My learned brother seems unduly disturbed on the question of attacks on himself. I need not assure Your Honor that I am engaged in no attack. I am engaged in attempting to lay before Your Honor the facts in relation to a matter of very supreme and surpassing importance in the administration of justice in this commonwealth. It needs and it requires, as I am sure Your Honor feels the most careful investigation and consideration."

What may be the result of these facts is for some one else to say, but the facts should be disclosed and can do no harm and may affect the subject matter of inquiry. I disclaim any attack on the grand jury or its methods and nothing has been seen here, it seems to me, to warrant the belief that this inquiry should not be pursued to the utmost."

The court excluded Mr. Whipple's question.

Mr. Whipple asked the witness concerning a discussion among the grand jurors on July 18 regarding a proposed trip to Nantucket, and the district attorney had been heard in objection the witness answered that there was nothing said about it that day.

Memoranda Goes to Court Clerk

Mr. Whipple then passed to the September sitting of the grand jury, and the witness was interrogated as to what he said on the stand Monday regarding his remarks in the September sitting on the Palmer case.

This line being pursued, the court said to Mr. Whipple, "I don't see what right you have to cross-examine your own witness," and later ordered the question excluded.

Subsequently the witness said he did not know that he could remember what he had said in the September sitting regarding the Palmer case.

A question arose as to the marking of the loose sheets of memoranda, which Mr. Gokey had kept as clerk. Mr. Whipple wished to have them marked as exhibits and put in as such, but Mr. Higgins wished them marked simply for the purpose of identification and not to go into the record.

The district attorney was conducting the re-cross-examination of the witness when the subject of the memoranda came up. He called attention to the fact that there were several memoranda sheets which were not completely filled. Six of these sheets were produced by the witness, some of which were in the middle of the record and some of which were at the end, and it was shown, when finally the loose sheets were arranged in regular order that the blank lines indicated the end of the record. The court ordered the memoranda sheets placed in charge of the clerk of the court in order that they might be accessible to both sides.

As to Palmer Indictment

When Dist. Atty. Higgins asked the witness, "Do you remember whether anything was said before you made your report in regard to the Jackson Palmer case, as you sat here in the court?" Mr. Whipple objected, declaring that that had been gone into fully. The question was allowed, however, and the witness answered:

"I don't believe I can say whether there was or not. I would not want to swear there was or was not."

Mr. Higgins asked the witness: "Don't you remember that just before the court came in at the September sitting here in this room I said in substance to the grand jury that I had drawn the Jackson Palmer indictment for perjury, but I had not drawn the other indictments, because I had not had time?"

This was objected to by Mr. Whipple, who said: "While it may be that it is a question rather as to how Your Honor's mind will deal with a witness who first says one thing and then another, yet I feel that it is within Your Honor's discretion to say the further pressing of that matter may properly be excluded."

member that I said to the grand jury that I would try to have the other indictments ready the next term? A. I remember that part of it.

Judge McLaughlin Takes a Hand

The district attorney asked more questions, fixing the time when Juror Bradley made the inquiry about the indictments, and the testimony of the witness was the same as on Monday. Mr. Whipple put some questions to the witness to learn if it was Mr. Gokey's intention to change his previous testimony in the answers he had just given the district attorney, and Mr. Gokey replied that he had no such intention.

Judge McLaughlin, when Mr. Whipple had concluded, took the witness in hand.

"When the evidence is taken before the grand jury, the foreman puts the vote, doesn't he?" asked the judge. "Yes, sir," said Gokey, "that is the practice that has been carried through the year."

"How did the jurors signify whether they were in favor of a bill or not?" "By raising the right hand," "And have you any recollection in regard to the vote on the Jackson Palmer case?"

"Not except as the motion reads there," (alluding to memorandum sheet.)

"I am speaking now of the record. Do you recall that any vote was taken on the case? Do you recall that independently of what you have just said in writing? Do you remember that a vote was taken, or do you not?"

"I don't remember. It might have been taken, as I stated, when I wasn't here. I said last night there were some days I was absent."

"You say you have no recollection of a vote being taken on the subject of indicting Palmer?"

"Not separately on indicting Palmer, but alone on that."

"On what did you base your recollection?"

"Nothing any more than the motion that was made and passed by the grand jury as a body."

"Do you recall that motion?"

"Not more than that I think every jurymen voted on the question and voted in the affirmative."

"Were you present at that time?"

"I was present because I made

memoranda and recorded motions."

"How did they make known their assent to that?"

"By raising the right hand."

"Did you record it in the form of a motion put?"

"I tried to."

"Who put the motion?"

"I don't know that I could say for sure, but it seems to me it was Mr. Gokey."

"You were asked who put the motion," said Mr. Higgins.

"O, pardon me. I think the foreman put the motion," replied the witness. "That is the custom."

A conference between the court and counsel then followed, and adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

TO LET

All sufferers from piles, old sores and all skin diseases know that ST. THOMAS' SALVE has no equal. Try it. All leading druggists, 35c.

O'Donnell Dry Goods Co.

JUST FOR A THURSDAY SALE

THREE EXTRAORDINARY LOTS OF

Winter Weight STOCKINGS

ONE FOR WOMEN, ANOTHER FOR MEN, AND A THIRD FOR CHILDREN. 1200 PAIRS IN THE SELLING AT FROM ONE-HALF TO THREE-FOURTHS REGULAR PRICES.

THE FIRST LOT FOR WOMEN

50c Cashmere Stockings, Thursday at

37½¢ A PAIR

Strictly all wool, regular made, full fashioned, good elastic top, all black, natural wool foot, Oxford and natural. Sizes 8½ to 10 inclusive.

THE SECOND LOT FOR MEN

50c Cashmere Hose, Thursday, at

25¢ A PAIR

Very fine quality and regularly made, full fashioned foot, guaranteed fast black. Sizes 9½ to 11½.

THE THIRD LOT FOR CHILDREN

50c Cashmere Stockings, Thursday at

25¢ A PAIR

Black or tan, strictly all wool, fine rib, full fashioned foot, complete range of sizes, 5½ to 9½ inclusive.

WE WARRANT YOU'LL FIND THESE LOTS JUST AS REPRESENTED AND FEEL THAT WE HAVE QUANTITY ENOUGH TO JUSTIFY A GOOD THURSDAY SALE, BUT WILL NOT PROMISE ANY OF THE LOTS AGAIN THIS SEASON AT THE ABOVE PRICES.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1910 was

15,976

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The sooner the Manchu dynasty is driven out of China and into obscurity the better for China and the rest of the world.

There is much criticism of a jury of women because of disagreement on a case at Los Angeles. Nobody has yet intimated that any woman voter was subject to outside influences in reaching a decision.

Wellesley college girls have resorted to shining shoes in order to raise funds for a club house. One would imagine that they could apply their education for some money making scheme without descending to a scheme at which the lowest street urchin can go them one better.

The retirement of Lord Balfour, the leader of the Unionist forces in England, is an indication that he considers the fight against home rule for Ireland practically hopeless. He has been an able parliamentarian, but his views as a statesman are too narrow, and he was too much imbued with the ideas of government that prevailed a generation ago. He has been dumfounded by the onward march of democracy in England.

THE SPENCER MURDER TRIAL

The Spencer murder trial at Springfield will bring out a considerable amount of expert testimony on the question of showing that a man who followed his daily occupations with perfect sanity and went out as a burglar at night must be insane. In one of his nightly raids he shot Miss Blackstone because she ran screaming when she saw him, and for her death he is being tried on the charge of murder. The trial promises to be one of the most interesting held in this state since that of young Tucker.

THE ANTI-TIPPING MOVEMENT

The anti-tipping movement was launched in dead earnest in New York on Sunday night. The tipping business has been so syndicated in that city that it is made an excuse for keeping down wages. A paper has been established to voice the opposition of 40,000 hotels to the system which of late has been as distasteful to the employees as to the proprietors. Both are willing to abandon the system, but while patrons should be equally desirous of having it abolished, their desire to get "extras" for the money they pay will probably make the abolition of the system impossible.

CONGRESSIONAL STRAWS

Four congressional elections held last week gave some indication of how the political wind blows, although local circumstances may have ruled in some of the cases. In a contest in New Jersey and another in Pennsylvania, the vote showed a tendency toward the republican party, while in two other contests, one in Kansas and the other in Nebraska, the swing of the pendulum was strongly to the democratic side. The contrast in the tendency between the east and the west has caused comment, but no safe conclusion can be drawn from the results.

POPULAR OPPOSITION TO THE POLITICAL MACHINE

The general results of the elections all over the country show that the people are opposed to the political machine. Here in Massachusetts the candidate of the republican machine was backed by Senator Lodge, head of the machine, by Senator Crane and all the party leaders. The fight was a desperate one, but the machine candidate went down in defeat. That is why Governor Foss is mentioned as a candidate for the presidency today. But it was not alone in Massachusetts that the political machine was hit hard. Tammany was nearly defeated in New York, while the contractors' machine in Philadelphia was beaten for the first time in a generation. The Cox machine in Cincinnati was crushed, despite the fact that President Taft gave it the prestige of his support. Indeed some people think that the Taft influence caused the people to oppose it with greater determination. Governor Harmon is thus strengthened politically by holding Ohio in the doubtful column.

Governor Woodrow Wilson personifies this sentiment against the power of the political machine and in that as well as in his ability as an exponent of democratic principles lies his strength as a candidate. It is true that owing to the work of Boss Smith, backed by the republican machine, the legislature of New Jersey has gone republican, but that does not affect Governor Wilson's standing or ability in the least. When a political machine in his own state wanted to endorse him as a candidate for the presidency Governor Wilson objected and wouldn't have it. He believes in principle and he believes in reducing principles to action. He is opposed to the political machine that depends for its existence upon the friendly support of big business and that afterwards distributes favors to the interests in return for political support. It is in this way that the ruling machine has held itself in office at the expense of the people and by an alliance with the "interests." Governor Wilson is a formidable foe of this corruption of government and he is today the leading exponent of the opposition in spite of all the insurgent and progressive movements in and out of congress. With Governor Harmon's boom waning, Champ Clark rendered an impossibility on account of his Canadian annexation utterances, it would seem that Wilson of New Jersey and Foss of Massachusetts are coming more strongly into prominence as presidential possibilities. Both have won signal victories, both are politically strong; but Governor Wilson is of course a much abler man than our own governor so far as oratory and the exposition of democratic principles are concerned. Both these men have waged successful war against the corrupt machine government and this is what appeals to the people throughout the country; for they feel that it is the republican machine that has betrayed the people, defended the trusts and that is now trying to compromise between the people and the trusts by a mock enforcement of the anti-trust law.

TEMPERING

SEEN AND HEARD

Governor Dix, at a luncheon in Albany, said of a political leader who had been worsted: "He will get a little of his own medicine back now. It reminds me of a story. 'A man entered an eating-house and ordered a steak and fried potatoes. 'Yes, sir; steak and potatoes, sir,' said the waiter. 'And will you have chops and peas along with it?' 'No, thank you.' 'Roast beef, then, perhaps, sir?' 'The roast beef's very fine today.' 'No, just steak and potatoes.' 'How about a nice lobster or a brace of crabs, sir, with the steak?' 'No.' 'A nice mess of fried catfish and wafers.' 'But at this point the proprietor summoned the waiter to him. 'What do you mean, you scoundrel,' he said, 'by tormenting that patron in such an outrageous manner?' 'Oh, I wasn't tormenting him, sir,' said the waiter. 'I was just trying to make him feel at home. He's a barber.'"

"The new idea in business is honesty, openness, frankness," said Alton B. Parker at a dinner at Esopus. "We used to conceal our plumbing and very poor, unsanitary work it was. We expose it now, and it is altogether sound and wholesome and satisfactory. Well, business is like that."

"When I think of some of the tricks that used to obtain in reputable business firms, I am reminded of the sea-side auctioneer."

"This scoundrel once held up a $10 gold piece and said: 'Guess the date on this piece of money, friends. Make a guess and a small purchase, and the correct guesser takes the coin.' 'So everybody in the crowd guessed, everybody bought some worthless rubbish, and the dealer netted a huge profit. Then, at the end, he looked at the $10 gold piece, held it up and said: 'Now, for it! Who guessed 1894?' 'Me! Me! Me! cried every man jack in the shop. 'The dealer smiled. 'When you all guessed wrong,' he said, 'slipping the coin into his pocket. The date is 1852.'"

Our friend, J. Carpenter from whom we had not heard for some time has mailed us the following and it is self explanatory: "The recent death of Lon Brine of Boston will bring to the memories of many Lowell people those few occasions when he visited our city and sang some songs which all love and nobody ever forgets. They will recall his magnificent voice and fine presence, big and handsome Lon Brine's audiences were always with him before he even sang a line. His was a baritone voice of exceptional worth, powerful, yet flexible, rich and mellow, and of that rare sympathetic quality which very few singers possess. Twenty or more years ago he was one of Boston's most popular singers, yet of late years he rarely appeared in public. I associate his singing of 'Kathleen Mavourneen' with old Brimble's 'Goodbye, Sweetheart, Goodbye,' George Henschel's 'The Two Grenadiers' and Gertrude Franklin's 'Knowest Thou the Land?' That is Mr. Brine's singing that night of 'Kathleen Mavourneen' is still to me the standard interpretation of Crouch's beautiful song. The tragic end of him whom nature endowed with a charming personality, physical and mental attractions and to which she added the gift of song, is deeply regretted by those who knew him ever so slightly. But the singer and his song will long haunt the halls of memory and wake anew when the gray dawn is breaking and the horn of the launter is heard on the hill—Kathleen Mavourneen!

OUR YESTERDAYS
We've traced our sweetest dreams, my dear, in wonder here, glow, and never thought the pictures there were of a long ago. Unmindful of the fleeting years we've wandered on, we two, and you have been the same to me and I the same to you—Your voice as sweet and clear as just as ever, till tonight I saw a single strand of gray deflected the ruddy light. A single silvery strand of gray 'twas brushed by the rays, and then I knew the time has come when we have yesterdays."

I had not ceased to think of you as blithe and young and fair And I was strong and straight as when I waited for you there, Until tonight! Our youngest, one said here upon my knees And looked into my eyes forlorn and studied earnestly. Then looked at you, and said at length—my heart was fairly wrung. 'I'm trying to imagine how you looked when babe of you were young. I tried to laugh it all away, but dear, through all the haze, There came the thought, 'the time has come when we have yesterdays.'"

—John D. Wells.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Johnstown Democrat: That Mr. Bryan will eventually force Mr. Taft to put some trust magnate in jail as he has already forced him to begin action against the steel trust can hardly be doubted. But would the jailing of a trust magnate solve the trust problem? Would it serve to restore competition? Would it take away the privilege which has invited the formation of a trust?

Mr. Bryan is unquestionably making things extremely uncomfortable for Mr. Taft and the trusts are getting no particular joy out of the situation. They feel pretty certain that sooner or later the president will be compelled to invoke the criminal clause of the anti-trust act and they are not so certain who would be the fellow that would have to go to jail. If each trust magnate could be sure in his own mind that it was the other fellow that must wear the stripes and learn the lesson step, there would be less temptation of spirit among them.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

Worcester Post: It may be that Massachusetts will join the seven other states having presidential primaries next year, not only electing delegates to the national conventions in this way but also recording preferential votes for candidates. Senator Roger Sherman Fairbank has drafted a bill to be presented to the next legislature providing for such primaries next spring and it is predicted that Governor Foss will advocate it in his inaugural.

TRAVELERS' PERSONAL EFFECTS

San Francisco Chronicle: The November Century, under the title 'The Tariff Penalty for Traveling Abroad,' makes a plea for a more liberal exemption of personal effects. Perhaps it might have been wise for the authors of protection to heed pleas of fair play, for after all that is said and done, the most vigorous assailants of the tariff are those who resent the imposition of duties upon the costly articles of dress, etc., which they bring into the country. Of course, they do not talk much about their real objection to protection, preferring to make believe that they are disappointed and that all they seek is to benefit the poor consumer, who, by the way, rarely ever wears or uses an imported article of any kind. If the schedules were so arranged that this class of importers could escape paying duties there would be much less talk about the onerous burdens imposed by the protective tariff than we hear at present.

TO THE WEST

Life: Well, what do you think of our president now? You have had a splendid chance to look him over. Do you think he will do for another term? Do you accept his apology for the Payne-Aldrich Tariff bill? Do you think he possesses the power and is willing to take a straight hold on the trusts and hang on till the people escape? Just between you and us, a good many people out here are beginning to feel very doubtful. They think he is just talking to gain time, and that his talk isn't even interesting. But, then, we may be hysterical. Now, what do you think? What impression did you get at close range? Anything you tell us will be held in strictest confidence.

BOARD OF POLICE

Postponed Hearing of Liquor Dealer's Case

The hearings against Hugh Ferguson, licensee of the St. James hotel in Middlesex street, and Frank Barnard, who conducts a liquor saloon in Merrimack street, which were scheduled for last night before the board of police, did not materialize.

Owing to the court decision in the case of illegal sale against Mr. Ferguson, the complainant was dismissed as it was found that there was a technical error in making out the complaint.

The complaint against Mr. Barnard alleges that he or his clerks sold liquor to minors and counsel for Mr. Barnard asked for a continuance and the board voted to continue the hearing until November 28.

The minor licenses granted were as follows: Billiards and pool: Peter Contas, transfer from 49 1/2 Market street to 527 Market street; Heermidas Gaudreault, 242 Allen street. Hawker and peddler: Frank Horne, 194 Fayette street; special police, William G. Morse; sixth class druggist, Anders Thomasson, 557 Central street; theatre, William T. Howley, Academy of Music.

Surrendered and cancelled: Theatre, G. H. Willey and Charles F. Fitzalan, Academy of Music.

Good music and dancing, Foresters hall, Wednesday evening.

DANCE AT ARMORY

Over 250 couples attended the dancing party held at the armory last night under the auspices of the members of Co. M. The Manhattan orchestra supplied the music and a general good time was enjoyed till a late hour. Among the guests were all the officers from the local companies.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Putnam & Son Co.

166 CENTRAL STREET

OVERCOATS

For Young Men

IN A WONDERFULLY GREAT VARIETY OF THE NEW STYLISH FANCY OVERCOATINGS

Every new model smartly cut, capably tailored, and as fine fitting as any young man can wish for. Fancy overcoats with full back or half belt, double or single breast, button through or fly front, with regular or convertible collars, and Raglans and Hollanders. A splendid stock, featuring all of the new browns, tan and gray mixtures, Scotch effects, overplaids and herringbone weaves—

PRICED AT SURPRISINGLY LOW FIGURES

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Regulation and convertible collars, for $8.00

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—New brown, tan and gray mixtures, made with convertible collars, for..... $10

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Made with half belts and full belts, single or double breast, from..... $12 to $25

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Button through, cloth collars, in handsome Scotch effects, extremely stylish, for..... $12, $13.50 and $15

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Fancy plaid backs, made with inside yokes, cloth collars, for..... $18, up to $25

New DERBIES

To go with the OVERCOATS

Our London Derby—Nap British like the "hairy" soft hats $3.00

Our Special Derby—Six new blocks, warranted not to fade or break—three dollars' worth of hat for $2.00

IN THE CHURCHES

Dr. Chas. Rivier gave an interesting lecture at the Eliot Congregational church last evening on the subject: "Recollections of Athens and Delos." The lecture was highly illustrated. The affair was under the auspices of the John Eliot Literary club.

Westminster Presbyterian
The Men's league of the Westminster United Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow evening. The supper will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and will be followed by speaking. Mr. J. J. Rogers will preside as toastmaster. Rev. B. H. Harris will deliver the address of welcome to the boys. H. W. Gibson of Boston, one of the best talkers to boys in the country, will present the call to service. Henry A. Smith will speak for the men of the city. The musical call is to furnish music for the occasion.

MacLeod, Rev. S. A. Jackson, Matthew Doyle, Hugh C. Walker, John S. Johnston and Sandy McDonald.

Page Street Banquet
The "Boys' Council" of the Page Street Free Baptist church will be held tomorrow evening. The supper will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and will be followed by speaking. Mr. J. J. Rogers will preside as toastmaster. Rev. B. H. Harris will deliver the address of welcome to the boys. H. W. Gibson of Boston, one of the best talkers to boys in the country, will present the call to service. Henry A. Smith will speak for the men of the city. The musical call is to furnish music for the occasion.

Asthma! Asthma!
POPHAM'S ASTHMA REMEDY gives instant relief and an absolute cure in all cases of Asthma, Bronchitis, and Hay Fever. Sold by druggists; mail on receipt of price $1.00.
Trial Package by mail 10 cents.
POPHAM'S ASTHMA REMEDY, CLEVELAND, OHIO.
For sale by Falls & Burkinshaw.

There is only one best kind of Mince Meat "like mother used to make," and that is NONE SUCH MINCEMEAT "LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE" Been at it 26 years.
Two-plate package 10 cents
MERRILL-SOULE CO.
SYRACUSE NEW YORK

Meet Me AT THE LOWELL INN
The best place in Lowell to get a good square meal

CUTICURA SOAP BEST

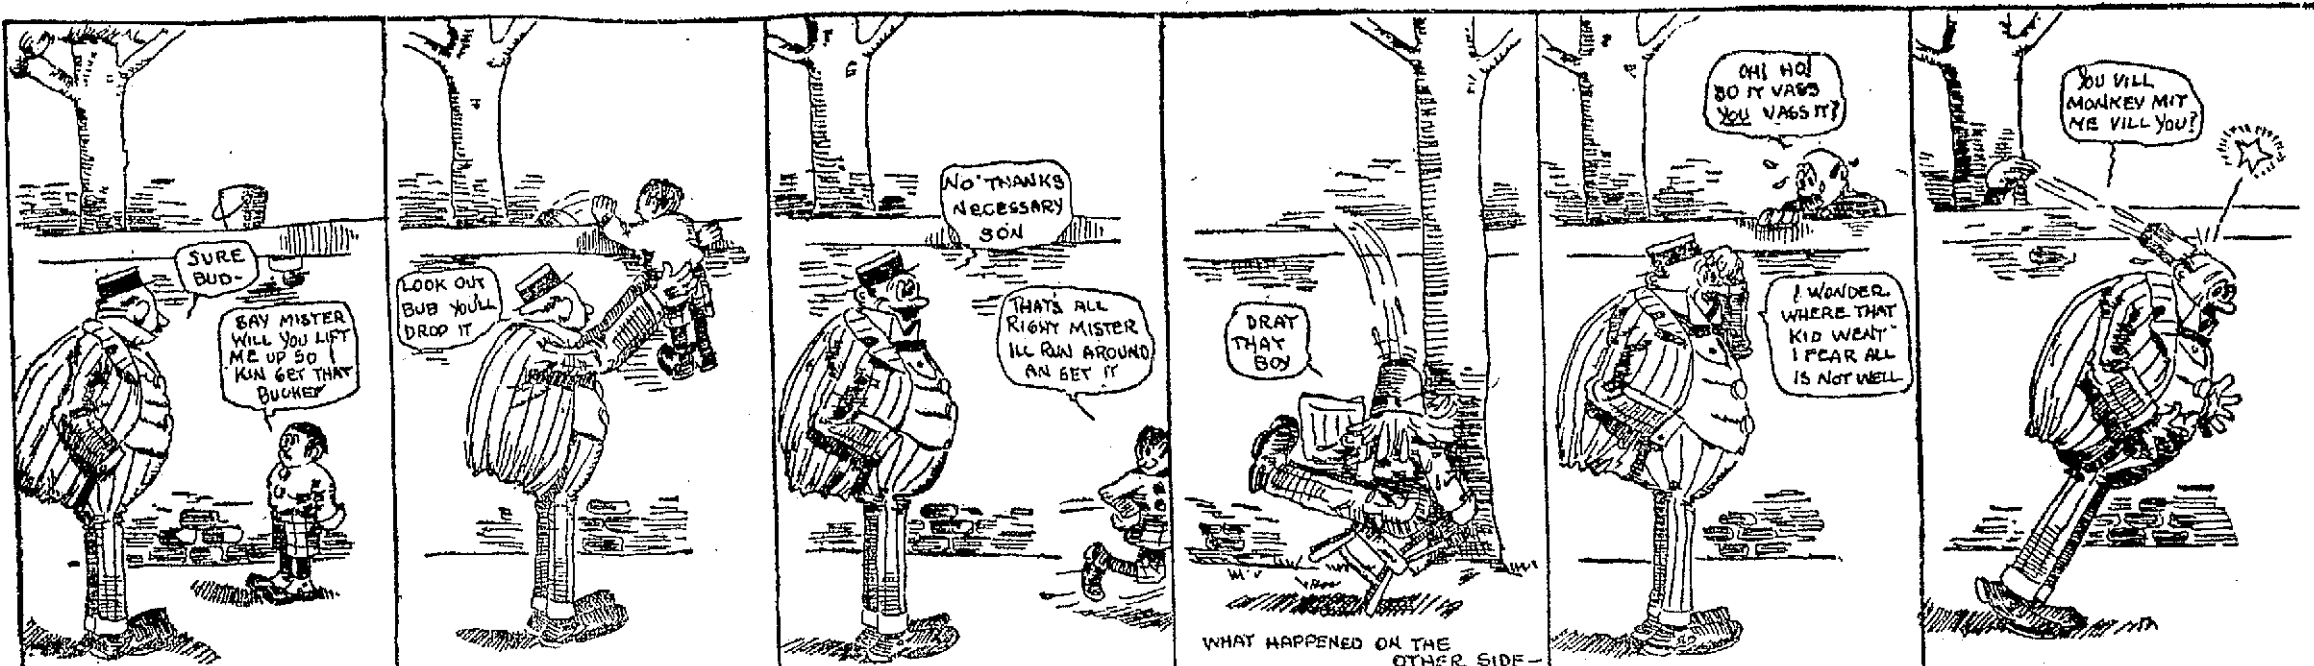

FOR SKIN AND HAIR

It is so because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective medication, and refreshing fragrance. It costs but little more than ordinary soaps, wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with Cuticura booklet as the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 33, Boston.

BEN'S HUNK O' KINDNESS GETS HIM INTO TROUBLE!

LIVELY PARTY SCRAP

Continued

Royal and Crowley, and they all voted for John W. O'Hara. He was declared elected in concurrence with the board of aldermen.

A vote for the office of city physician was suggested but a recess of ten minutes was taken.

After the ten minutes was up the roll call was again taken. Besides the nine members already mentioned there were present in the chamber but not participating in the meeting, Messrs. J. J. Rogers, Cheney, Whitte, Allard, Heran, Genest, Fulton, and C. E. Rogers. The chairman pro tem counted them as being present, thus establishing a quorum. This was following the precedent set by Speaker Reed in counting a quorum in congress.

A motion was made to ballot for superintendent of streets and the nine men who voted for Mr. O'Hara voted for Newell P. Putnam and Mr. Putnam was declared elected on the part of the common council.

When the clerk of the council left the chamber he took his books with him and Mr. Royal moved that the records be sent for. A messenger came back with the news that the clerk had left the building.

The next proposition was to ballot for city solicitor. J. Joseph Hennessy received six votes, James F. Corbett one, and W. W. Duncan one, and Mr. Hennessy was declared elected. Mr. Hennessy's name was sent down by the board of aldermen last January so that his election by the council last night was in concurrence.

The First Meeting

Before the adjournment declared by President Elliott the following business had been acted upon.

Notices of personal injuries were received, read and ordered on file. Various sidewalk and light petitions were read and referred to the proper committees.

A joint order to borrow $2700 for repairs on the Middlesex village school, the Dracut rifle range and for a hot water heater for city hall was adopted. It was provided for in the order that the money would be paid in ten annual payments. Councilman J. J. Rogers thought it was a pretty small amount for a ten year loan and on motion of Councilman Delandore the order was made a one year loan and adopted as amended.

Councilman Royal's Order

A joint order to borrow $15,000 to erect a combination bath house and comfort station at the junction of Cross, Willie and Fletcher streets, was read. Mr. Delandore moved that the order be referred to next year's government.

Mr. Royal, author of the order, said the plans had been submitted by the inspector of lands and buildings. He believed such a house could be made self-sustaining. It is not a drive to put the Butler Vets out of the old fire house now on the land. The order was defeated by a vote of 16 to 11. Those voting in favor were Messrs. Brady, Connor, Corbett, Coughlin, Crowley, Gargan, Mahoney, C. E. Rogers, Royal, Tracy and Whitte. Those opposed—Achin, Allard, Bernard, Bowers, Chadwick, Chapman, Cheney, Davis, Delandore, Donohoe, Elliott, Fulton, Genest, Ranellet, J. J. Rogers and Taylor.

$20,000 Sewer Order

An order to borrow $20,000 for the construction of sewers, to be paid in ten equal annual payments, was read. J. J. Rogers said that as a matter of courtesy to the new government he should favor the taking of no action. He moved that the matter be laid on the table until the next meeting, and that Supt. Putnam be asked to appear before the council at that time. The motion was seconded.

Councilman Chapman wanted to know if the sewer work was urgent. The chairman said that most of the money would be spent on the Lawrence street sewer. Mr. Gargan didn't want to see the order held up. He said it would put men out of work. Councilman Rogers wanted the matter explained by some member of the sewer committee and Alderman Rountree, chairman of the committee, was sent for. In answer to questions asked by J. J. Rogers, Mr. Rountree said: "The Lawrence street sewer, now under construction, was needed badly. The street is very lousy there, and much money will be needed to complete it. All of that amount will be spent on that sewer."

"Do you know how long sewer work can be done?" "I suppose all winter." "The ground will be frozen in two or three weeks and all work will have to cease."

"The frost will not touch where the men are working, at a depth of 28 feet."

"Do you think that the sewer committee would object to this order being held up?"

"I feel that it would hamper the work there somewhat," said Mr. Rountree.

Mr. Coughlin said the work should be pushed through at once. Men of the sewer department usually work until January 1st. Mr. Chadwick said the failure to appropriate the money would be to take the bread and butter out of poor men's mouths.

"I don't care if the government of Zion City is coming next year," said

Mr. Coughlin, "we should go ahead and do this work."

J. J. Rogers wished the borrowing of a smaller sum of money at once, so that the men need not suffer through loss of work. He moved an amendment to the effect that $5000 be borrowed.

Alderman Daly said that more than $5000 of the loan order in question is already spent in anticipation of the order being passed. The failure of the order to pass will not interfere with the committee, but it will seriously interfere with the construction of sewers.

"No one here seems to know as to the definite finances of the sewer department," said Mr. Rogers. "We have not the men present who make it their business to know—the superintendent of sewer work and the city engineer."

COUNCILMAN GARGAN, Who Presided Over Session at Which Officials Were Chosen

"Will the whole of that $20,000 be spent before the first of the year comes around?" asked Mr. Achin. "I was given to understand that it would be," said Mr. Daly. "If that amount of money is not to be spent by this government, then that part of it which will be spent should only be appropriated," said Mr. Delandore.

The question of amending the order came up. It was voted not to amend. The question of adopting the original order came up, and it was unanimously adopted.

In Cambridge a year or two ago James J. Aylward was elected city solicitor and the meeting at which he was elected was very similar to last night's meeting of the common council. The then city solicitor of Cambridge was Gilbert A. Pevey. He contested the election of Aylward and the supreme court decided against him.

In this particular case it was said that the vote to adjourn was doubted and was not verified by the president. The question of the council should have resolved the doubt on vote to adjourn, and he was not relieved of this duty by his immediately leaving the chair.

Hasn't Considered It

J. Joseph Hennessy, who was elected city solicitor by the council last night, was asked if he would qualify for the office. "I haven't given it any attention. I have been at the superior court all forenoon," said Mr. Hennessy.

HATHAWAY
THEATRE
Garland & Shapiro, Lessees
WEEK OF NOV 13
The Donald Meek Stock Co.
Presents
A KNIGHT FOR A NIGHT
A Roaring Comedy by HENRY ROUSSEAU
Vocal Selections by MR. WILLIAM WALSH
Popular Prices Telephone 811
Matinee Daily
Chocolate Matinee MONDAY Afternoon
Next Week
"THE STRUGGLE"

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

GARBAGE MEN LOSE

But There is Still Danger of a General Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—No doubt realizing that the city has won its fight with the municipal ash and garbage men, the collection of refuse which was abandoned when the drivers of the street cleaning department struck a week ago progressed almost as fast today as under normal conditions. The city administration has emerged victorious from its first serious strike and established its right to dictate hours of labor to its many thousand employees.

Night work, to avoid which the drivers struck, will be resumed as soon as the department can get its force of green men going smoothly.

The danger of a general teamsters' strike remains, but, judging from the action of the union, it is remote. The question arose last night at a meeting of the Greater New York district council of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and was put aside to await the wishes of the various organizations. No plans have been announced for any general movement among the locals to decide the matter.

The street cleaning department announced today that no more strike breakers would be hired. As rapidly as possible the department will fill the places of the imported strike breakers with recruits from the civil service list.

to Lowell a few years ago he met with great success as a teacher of piano and when the new organ was installed in St. Jean Baptiste church he was selected as organist, a position he still retains. He has played with different moving picture houses and orchestras of this city and for the past two seasons up to last Sunday was musical director of the Hathaway theatre orchestra. From the classics to rag-time he is equally at home on either piano or organ and as a director he has met with great success wherever he has appeared. Prof. Martel has a host of friends in this city who will wish him every success on "the new job." He is a popular member of the Lowell Lodge of Elks and the Lowell Musicians' association.

Court City of Lowell, 25th anniversary, Wednesday evening.

Lowell Opera House

Julius Cohn, Prop. and Mgt.

Wednesday, Nov. 15

THE YIDDISH PLAYERS

Thursday, Nov. 16

THE WHITNEY OPERA CO.

THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER

Company of 100, Augmented Orchestra

Prices: $1.50, $1.75, 50c, 25c, Seats on Sale

Friday, Nov. 17

GERTRUDE RENNYSON

Assisted by

LEO ORNSTEIN

Talented Russian Violinist and ALBERT A. WEIDENHOLD, Harpist

Prices: 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50. Seats now

SATURDAY, Nov. 18, Mat. and Night

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin

Mat. 10c and 25c. Night, 10c, 25c, 30c

TUESDAY, DEC. 5TH

Charles Frohman Presents

MAUDE ADAMS

In Hosted's Poetic Drama

"CHANTECLER"

Prices: $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c.

MAIL ORDERS accompanied by remittance will now be accepted and filled in the order received. Mail orders delivered Nov. 27th. Box office sale opens Nov. 28th. Telephone orders suspended for this engagement.

ARTHUR J. MARTEL

and in the centre a beautiful silver smoking set. Manager Will H. Stevens immediately stepped forth and stopping the orchestra with a wave of his hand remarked: "You're a bit hasty, tonight professor." Mr. Stevens then referred to the ability and popularity of Prof. Martel and in conclusion presented him the gifts that appeared on the stage.

The beautiful roses which Manager Stevens said were from a lady patron of the Hathaway theatre; and a large bunch of chrysanthemums from "The Jolly Good Fellows." Prof. Martel bowed his acknowledgments after the storm of applause had subsided and then the show went on. Prof. Martel though in the early 30's has had a long and successful career as a pianist and musical director. When only ten years of age and before he had grown sufficiently to be able to strike the piano pedals with his feet he played professionally at the old Bijou theatre in McCormack street, opposite city hall, when such latter day stars as the Rogers Bros., the Four Cohans and others came there. He then studied music from leading teachers of Boston and New York and perfected his musical education in London. He then went on the road with the western "482" original company and later played with different musical comedies, light operas and leading burlesque companies. His last professional engagement out of Lowell was with the Lyman Howe Moving Picture company, the greatest travelling moving picture show in America. Returning

BOWLING GAMES

SOME LIVELY CONTESTS ON AL-

LEYS LAST NIGHT

The T. & S. team won from the Bigelow by 44 pins in the Manufacturers' league on the Crescent alleys last night. The scores:

T. & S.	1	2	3	Tot
Halfpenny	99	95	81	275
French	95	101	91	285
E. Farrell	73	70	100	243
McMahon	96	101	80	277
Sargent	89	89	83	261
Totals	446	474	448	1368

Bigelow

Bigelow	1	2	3	Tot
Sargent	89	89	93	261
McMahon	91	85	92	268
McKinley	82	83	85	250
Rourke	83	115	86	284
Thurston	90	82	90	271
Totals	444	454	426	1324

FOUNDRY TEAM LOST

The Foundry team was defeated by the Kitchon team in a league game on Les Miserables alleys last night.

Both teams are from the L. M. S. league. The totals:

Kitchon	1	2	3	Tot
Harrod	91	85	78	254
Guth	73	74	74	221
Langovin	82	82	84	248
Conley	73	83	86	242
Totals	404	426	399	1229

Foundry

Foundry	1	2	3	Tot
Davis	78	74	78	230
P. Finnerty	69	77	83	229
T. Finnerty	78	89	80	247
P. Clark	103	97	98	298
Hornby	72	68	80	220
Totals	400	405	399	1204

YARD MEN WON

The Yard team and the Drafting room team of the L. M. S. league met on Les Miserables alleys last night and after a hot game the Yard men came out winners.

The totals:

Drafting Room	1	2	3	Tot
Goodchild	84	84	84	252
C. Hedrick	83	70	78	231
Soule	103	70	71	244
Dana	75	80	82	237
Chase	83	85	85	253
Totals	425	399	380	1197

THE BRUNSWICK ALLEYS

The weekly roll-off on the Brunswick alleys was won by Martel with a total of 327. The winners:

THE BRUNSWICK ALLE

The weekly roll-off on the wick alleys was won by Martel total of 327. The winners:

	1	2	3
Martel	122	97	118
Winn	93	105	100
Whitelock	107	98	94

A LIVELY GAME

A lively bowling game was played on the Moody Bridge alleys last night between the Mt. Groves and the Pawtucket Blues, the former winning the three strings by 35 pins. The totals:

Mt. Groves	1	2	3	Tot
W. Stack	77	82	97	256
C. Lyness	85	91	92	268
J. Sheehan	81	110	75	266
A. Silcox	86	88	83	257
W. Silcox	93	82	83	258
Totals	422	453	429	1304

Pawtucket Blues

Pawtucket Blues	1	2	3	Tot
B. Silcox	83	101	97	281
S. Silcox	75	90	92	257
S. Kenworthy	78	86	69	233
F. Chouhoun	83	83	94	260
A. Schouhoun	81	89	80	250
Totals	404	429	432	1265

THE ATHLETICS WON

The Tigers lost to the Athletics on the Y. M. C. I. alleys last night. Both teams are from the Concord league. The totals:

Athletics	1	2	3	Tot
W. King	97	89	69	255
McManmon	104	81	90	275
J. Hayes	83	102	83	268
O'Keefe	78	96	81	255
Cole	82	83	86	251
Totals	442	451	400	1293

Tigers

Tigers	1	2	3	Tot
Hessian	92	97	94	283
Harrington	82	92	81	255
Carney	89	71	93	253
Sharkey	89	79	81	249
Sub.	76	81	69	226
Totals	428	420	418	1266

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. J. Arthur Miller and Miss Edith Harrison were united in marriage yesterday by the Rev. James Bancroft at his residence, 65 Fort Hill avenue. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at 58 Royal street.

RIVAL LIGHTWEIGHTS

Gallant and Jasper Will Appear Here

Interest in the coming boxing match between Johnnie Gallant of Chelsea and Young Jasper of Haverhill has extended beyond Lowell judging from the several applications for membership that have been received from Boston, Chelsea and Haverhill at the office of the Lowell Social and Athletic club.

The pair met before in this city with honors even after one of the best bouts ever witnessed here and since then there has been much discussion in the sporting papers elsewhere as to their respective merits. The pair would have been seen before at the armory club had not that club been obliged to suspend its meeting in the Cyclopedia building on account of the law relative to no public gatherings being permitted in buildings in which gasoline is stored, the basement of the Cyclopedia building being used as a garage.

Thus the boys intended for Boston is being brought to this city. The semi-final between Young Kelly of Centralville and Charlie Anastos, the Greek boxer is attracting much attention locally.

WITH RED SOX

Arthur Foye Signed by

John I. Taylor

Arthur Foye of Centralville, brother of Purchasing Agent Foye and Walter and Raymond Foye, of baseball fame, promises to outstrip his older brothers on the diamond, for yesterday he was signed up by John I. Taylor, for the Boston Americans and will go south with them. Arthur first came before the public as a ball player while a student at St. Anselm's, and caught for that team against Lowell when they played here. Since leaving school he has played at St. Stephens, N. B., and at Maplewood, Mass., at which latter place he attracted the attention of John I. Taylor. Arthur is not yet 20 years old but stands six feet tall and weighs 175 pounds and is strong and active.

BASEBALL CLUBS

MUST SETTLE CLAIMS BEFORE

JANUARY 1

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 15.—Hereafter baseball clubs and leagues must settle all claims before January 1 or protection of the National Association of Professional Leagues will be withdrawn. This rule was decided on by the board of arbitration while en route to San Antonio to attend the annual meeting of the association. As there are 172 claims now outstanding, the effect of the ruling will be sweeping. It was also decided that the Western Canada League should be raised from class D to class C but the application of the Canadian League for similar advancement was denied on grounds of insufficient population.

"BY GUM"

Character Party and

Barn Dance

In aid of St. Margaret's Church

Associate Hall

TONIGHT

Specialty Dancing and Costume March at 8. Dancing, 8.45 till 12. Tickets 35c. Augmented Orchestra

7-20-4

10c Cigar

Factory output—upwards of 100,000 daily. Largest selling brand of cigars in the world. Factory—Hester, N. H.

MEMBERS, NOTICE

Lowell Social and Athletic Club

REGULAR MEETING

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV.

GALLANT vs JASPER

And Other Amusements

Lowell Opera House, Thurs., Nov. 16

The World's Greatest Musical Entertainment

The Chocolate Soldier

DIRECTION F. C. WHITNEY

COMPANY OF 100 AUGMENTED ORCHESTRA

This is the second appearance in Portland of this opera. It is a far better presentation of the opera than that which Jefferson theatre patrons were so enthusiastic about a year ago. Singers chosen especially for this production.—Portland Maine Daily Press, Nov. 11, 1911.

One might visit the Bangor Opera House for seasons without witnessing a more satisfying production, in every way superbly done, than "The Chocolate Soldier" as given Monday evening by the F. C. Whitney Opera Co.—Bangor Daily Commercial, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1911.

PRICES—$1.50 $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c

POISONED BY GAS

Young Woman Was Found Dead in Her Room

Vasilki Soula, a young woman aged 20 years, was found dead in her room at 155 Market street late yesterday afternoon, and death was due to gas poisoning. When the body was found, gas was pouring out of an unlighted jet, and the girl had been dead but a short time.

No definite reason can be ascribed for the act, if it was suicide, except that the girl had been ill for a few days. She was last seen at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by some of the other roomers of the house. Late in the afternoon the odor of gas was distinctly perceptible around the place and a roomer started an investigation. The trail led to the young woman's room, and as the door was locked, it was burst open. The body of the young girl was found on the bed with all the windows closed tightly and the gas was escaping from a nearby jet which had not been lighted.

The girl had been employed at the Boot Mills and had worked until Saturday, when she complained of being ill. She did not return to work Monday or Tuesday, although she seemed to be in good spirits.

Deceased is survived by a father and a brother.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Still on the crest of a wave of popularity which only increases in volume with each successive season, "The Chocolate Soldier" will tarry in this city for one performance only to regale the amusement lovers of Lowell on Thursday, Nov. 16 with his merry adventures, his grotesque romances, and a fund of delicious songs and melodies of a variety that will appeal to people of every temperament. Oscar Straus, the composer of this operatic conqueror of two continents and a dozen capitals, is author of a long list of successful operas, but in "The Chocolate Soldier" he has not only surpassed himself but has reached the absolute summit of light operatic achievement, and given a stimulus to activity in that realm of music which it has been sadly in need of since the days of Gilbert and Sullivan. Music such as has not been heard for a generation rings through the acts of the opera which derives its story from Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man." It is music that surprises by its capriciousness when a song of warm, radiant passion gives place to a mad, mocking ballad with mirth bursting at every note. Straus' spontaneous and responsive melody very deftly catches the moods of the plot which upon him is the grand secret of the opera's success. Full evidence of this is found in the wide fame attained and maintained by "My Hero," "The Letter Song," "Sympathy," "Falling in Love" and "The Fall of a Coat" and as many more of equal beauty. The grandeur and romance of the Bulgarian atmosphere, the gay lures and colors in vogue among the people of the region, and the military note in music and costume that pervades the opera have given Mr. Whitney many an opportunity to exhibit his prowess as a producer. The superb mounting of the present production and the strong company of artists assembled for its interpretation, mean the greatest season in the history of "The Chocolate Soldier" in this country. As in past seasons, the Whitney Opera Company orchestra will assume the orchestral duties.

GERTRUDE RENNYSON

Friday evening, Nov. 17, is the date set for the appearance at the Opera House of Miss Gertrude Rennyson, who at one time sang in the High Street church choir and who for five years studied under eminent European masters. Upon her return to America, Miss Rennyson became a member of the Henry W. Savage Grand Opera Co. The charm of her singing and acting is fresh in the memory of all those who have heard her, and it may be safely said that in all the cities where the organization appeared, the name of Gertrude Rennyson stands for the highest in music and art.

After winning fame in America and doing much towards the furthering of opera in English in this country, Miss Rennyson continued her operatic career in Europe, singing at the Theatre de la Monnaie, Brussels, the Hofoper in Vienna, the Stadt Theatre in Prague, the Royal Opera of Dresden, besides a season at Covent Garden and Bayreuth. It was at Brussels that the late Heinrich Conrad heard Miss Rennyson and offered her an engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House of New York, but at the onset of a brilliant European career the American singer thought it best to decline the offer.

After five years in Europe, Gertrude Rennyson returns to her own country to be heard in opera, concert and oratorio during the season of 1917-18. There is no doubt that the countless admirers of Miss Rennyson will be glad to have the opportunity of hearing her again.

MAUDE ADAMS

The advance mail order sale for the engagement here at the Opera House, December 5th, of Maude Adams in Rostand's drama "Chanticleer" is now going on and indications point to an unusually large attendance to welcome here again, one of Manager Charles Frohman's most popular stars.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

The Stetson Big Double "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company which appears at the Opera House Saturday is making a spectacular scenic production of this play this season. Some of these scenes are the "Sawney River" by moonlight, the cotton fields in full bloom, the Ohio river in winter and the escape of Eliza carrying her child across the floating ice, the rocky pass in which George Harris made his stand against the men pursuing him, and protects his family; the St. Clair plantation, and the levee at New Orleans, showing a slave auction; Legree's plantation, and, lastly, the beautiful transformation scene showing Eliza's ascent to the Celestial City.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

It is seldom that an audience rises en masse at the playing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" that honor being paid only to the "Star Spangled Banner," but "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" as played by the Five Musical Kosses at the close of their charming act at Keith's this week, was so inspiring that the audience with patriotic fervor arose and remained standing until the last notes of the familiar tune had died away when they burst forth in applause. The Kosses are way ahead of anything ever seen in the musical line in vaudeville. They present a scene from Old Seattle, the centre of music and romance, and appear in the picturesque costume of Spain. Their instruments in addition to the great brass horns on which they inspire the audience consist of mandolins and guitars of the old fashioned Spanish type; violins and cellos and the different forms of saxophones. They include in their program both popular and classical music and play either with equal skill. McCormick and his partners, the Australian ventriloquists, have everything in their line beaten and it is really hard to believe that the figures they introduce are not real and alive. Miss Wallace in addition to her ability as a ventriloquist is a pretty singer, good dancer and exceedingly fair to behold. Lewis and Doby, the parodist and comedy singers, have one fine act and original into the bargain. It starts quietly but soon becomes an uproar. The pair are at home in Dago, Yid, Cherman or Cean, and they are saying or singing something every minute. Arthur Whitehead, the Irish-American actor giving a feast of funny stuff, closes his act with a tender sentimental recitation, "The Top of the Morning." Al and Mattie Barlow do a delightful piano solo with some new songs. Les Monforts are bar artists par excellence. Introducing their celebrated "Loop the Loop" act, "The Helicon-Croquet Company" has all the well known stunts in their repertoire. The two stranded actors and their way to get the price of a feed. Bert Melrose is the prince of clowns and his break-neck falls are a marvel of narrow escapes. The pictures are in keeping with the rest of the bill, the best ever.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Donald Meek in the long list of funny characters that he has portrayed either on the Hathaway stage or elsewhere has never appeared in a funnier one, than as Julius Cashdown Bragg, actor-manager and producer of plays, in "A Knight for a Night," now the attraction at the Hathaway and the greatest scream of the season. Mr. Meek makes the part of a trivial humorist actor to use the parlance of the stage, who can play anything from Romeo to roasting over railroad ties to the next town and his make-up is as tragic as his histrionic career. He is ably assisted in presenting the uproariously funny farce by the entire Hathaway stock company. For every member of the cast becomes involved in some of the innumerable complications that attend the production of the Roman tragedy which causes all the trouble in the home of a staid and dignified college professor. A very pleasing feature of the play aside from the humor which pervades it is the singing of Mr. William Walsh, who before going into stock theatrics was a big success in musical comedy. Mr. Walsh will be pleasantly recalled as a favorite singer in this city several years ago before going upon the stage and his voice is still as good as time. He is accompanied on the piano by Miss Lucille Spimney, who in addition to her dramatic ability is an accomplished musician. From the time that J. C. Bragg appears on the scene early in the first act until the closing of the play there is not a sober moment for the audience and a continuous riot of laughter is the rule at each performance. Next week the Donald Meek stock company will present "The Struggle." Seats for this week's performances may be ordered in advance by telephone, 811.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

All first-class acts and photo-plays that are unequalled constitute this week's offering at the Merrimack Square theatre. Not in many months has such an excellent program been offered the patrons of this playhouse. John J. Quigley, the well-known news boy tenor, is being heard in some of his latest song successes, as well as several of his old-time songs that won for him country-wide reputation as a singer. Mr. Quigley is still in excellent voice and his endeavors to please have met with unqualified success at all performances.

Real's Acrobatic Bill Terriers do all kinds of amusing stunts and Nebraska Bill & Co. in a novel wild west entertainment, consisting of knife throwing, whip snapping, sharp shooting and a horse act as an added feature, are contributors to this excellent bill. The presentation of Parent and King, comedians of high rank, is unusually amusing and the photo-plays are without question the best of the season. On the last three days of the week Pathe's wonderful views of world-wide events will be shown. On Friday night the Merrimack Square concert orchestra will feature selections from the opera "Norma."

MASS MEETING

TO SELECT A CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMAN

The members of the committee of 12, who were appointed by the mass meeting held at C. M. A. C. hall last Sunday, met at the same hall last night and discussed the matter of holding a caucus in order to determine which candidate to endorse and support during the coming municipal campaign.

Dr. E. E. Lawrence, having declined to run for mayor, a new candidate will now be brought forward for alderman and he will be supported at the polls. It was found that the committee would not have time to prepare for a caucus, so that project was abandoned and instead a mass meeting will be held Sunday again at C. M. A. C. hall at which time the stamp of approval will be put on some particular candidate or candidates and they will be supported to the best of the committee's ability.

The committee of 12 named last Sunday are: Xavier Dolan, Homer L. Turcotte, Henry Achin, J. J. Thompson, C. M. A. C.; William Renard, William A. Parthenakis, Joseph Provost, representing the Middlesex Social Club; Fierro A. Brousseau, Arthur Demers, C. E. Burrell, representing the Centralville Social Club; Joseph A. Sawyer, Rodger Deschenes, Thomas J. Goyette, representing the Taylortown Social Club.

They're Your Biscuit, Remember

No matter how much we help you—

The credit all goes to you.

And all the failures due to faulty flour are charged to the cook.

So this is your question, Madam.

When you order simply "a sack of flour," you do yourself an injustice.

Flours differ immensely.

By simply saying "Gold Medal," you make certain of getting the best flour ever milled.

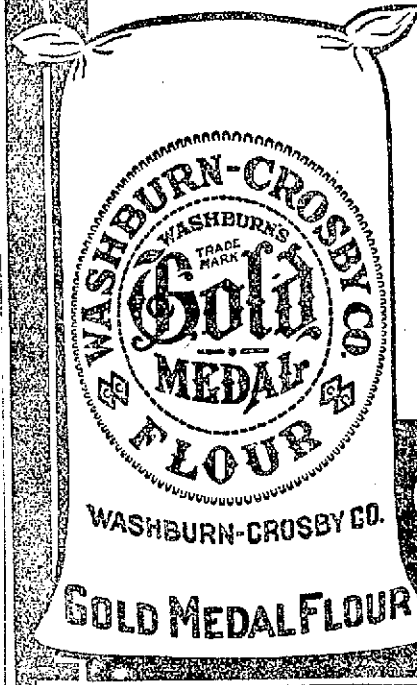

Here is one of the proofs:

Gold Medal Flour, in the test of time, has come to outsell all others.

Millions have made their comparisons. As a result, 24,000,000 folks daily are now fed on the bakings of Gold Medal Flour.

Just because they have found, in the actual baking, that no other flour gives the results of Gold Medal.

Next time you order be sure to say—

Washburn-Crosby's
GOLD MEDAL
FLOUR

MADAM—You can buy your coat today—money or no money, if you come here. We've been doing a credit business for so many years that we can't remember doing anything else. We've been improving and broadening our terms every season.

YOU CAN BUY YOUR COAT TODAY—WITHOUT A CENT DEPOSIT AND START PAYMENTS A WEEK LATER.

More new customers have come in this season than over before. Are you going to wait—or will you be one of the progressives?

Caesar Misch Store
ALEXANDER STRAUSS, INC.

220 CENTRAL STREET

BUILDING UP CHURCH

Talk by Field Secretary Waterbury

Willard E. Waterbury, field secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist missionary society, gave an interesting talk on the laymen's missionary movement at the Highland Methodist church, last evening, substituting for Rev. Frederick B. Fisher, who was unable to attend.

Mr. Waterbury spoke of the Men's Forward Movement of today and the growing feeling among men that religion concerns them as well as women, and that the work of the church is unsuitably womanly and the plan of broadening out of the work of the individual churches and the passing of the old narrow denominational form of religious life.

In closing he outlined the means of building up the church, both from without and from within by the contribution of small sums paid in weekly, as the best means of handling this work among the men. He concluded with a very convincing statement of the actual results of missionary campaigns which had been conducted by dividing up the work into committees of men similar to that employed by the Y. M. C. A. in their campaigns, an intelligent and concerted action on the part of everybody engaged in the campaign.

GOLD CAUSE HEADACHE

LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. GROVE, 25c.

AT REGISTRATION

Women Outnumber the Male Applicants

The women are running way ahead of the men at registration, yesterday's record being 30 men and 84 women. The registration by wards was as follows:

Ward one, seven; ward two, five; ward three, five; ward four, three; ward five, two; ward six, two; ward seven, five; ward eight, one; ward nine, none. Total, 30.

Women—Ward one, 12; ward two, nine; ward three, nine; ward four, one; ward five, one; ward six, six; ward seven, eight; ward eight, 11; ward nine, 24; total, 84.

Registration will continue every afternoon and evening this week.

There will be registration every day this week except Saturday.

THE COLONIAL MAIDENS

A meeting of the Colonial Maidens took place last night at the home of Miss Ethel Dumbear. The officers of the club were elected as follows: Miss Anna Mahoney, president; Miss Margaret McNeeney, vice-president; Miss Ella Murray, treasurer; Miss Mary McNeeney, secretary. After the officers were elected a fine program was carried out. Readings by Miss Helen Shea; piano selections by Miss Mary Connor and Miss Margaret McNeeney; mandolin solo by Miss Greenwood Blake. Refreshments were served by Miss Agnes Hamel and Miss Irene Lyons. The meeting adjourned at a late hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Alice Hogan.

CHOKED TO DEATH

Cleveland Man Victim of Piece of Meat

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—S. J. Cannon, a Cleveland salesman, was choked to death by a piece of roast beef while eating in a local hotel cafe yesterday. There were few in the room at the time, and when a waiter saw him leaning over the table he thought the man was dozing. A touch on the shoulder failed to arouse Cannon and an investigation was started and a physician summoned.

The doctor arrived too late to save the man's life. Cannon had been here several days demonstrating. He was about 32 years of age and is understood to have a wife and one child in Cleveland.

ONLY SOBER MEN WANTED

Every line of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. If you are a drinking man, it may be your time next. Better stop drinking at once. Orlene, the standard remedy for the liquor habit, will help you. By the aid of Orlene thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry.

We are so sure that Orlene will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

Orlene is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORLENE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORLENE costs only $1 a box. If you are interested in some one who drinks you owe it to yourself to come to our store and get free booklet and information. Hiker-Jaynes Co., 115-123 Merrimack street.

ACCIDENT AT NO. CHELMSFORD

An accident which considerably delayed the car traffic in North Chelmsford occurred in the latter place this afternoon when a car jumped the tracks. A woman was slightly injured and the car was badly damaged. Car No. 408 of the Bay State Street Railway company, in charge of Motorman John Molloy and Conductor William Hill was scheduled to reach Merrimack square at 2:18. It left North Chelmsford on time and when it reached Mr. John McMenamin's grocery store it jumped the tracks and came near going over the embankment and into the adjoining field. The motors of the car dropped and the front axle was snapped. Mrs. Stanley who was a passenger aboard the car when the accident occurred was slightly injured. The accident tied up traffic and it was some time before the regular time schedule could be taken up again.

GOV. FOSS' EXPENSE ACCOUNT

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The expense account of Gov. Foss during the recent campaign, which was returned to His Excellency by Secretary of State Langtry on the ground that it was not sufficiently explicit, has been sent to the law firm of Littlefield & Littlefield of New York at its request but for what reason is not known at the state house. The leading member of the law firm is former Congressman Charles Littlefield of Maine, a republican.

It was stated in unofficial circles that the account might be used as a basis for procedure under the corrupt practice act, which provides forfeiture of office as one of the penalties.

Governor Foss returned from Virginia today and refused to comment upon the action of the secretary of state.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Gov. Foss issued his first Thanksgiving proclamation today, agreeing with President Taft in naming the 30th instant. The document is unusually short and has the customary approval of the executive council and the signature of Secretary of State Langtry.

SENATOR CAUSED A SENSATION

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.—U. S. Senator Owen of Oklahoma created a sensation at today's session of the trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress when he declared he had every reason to believe that the same people who fought Dr. Harvey Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, were now furnishing money to oppose the movement looking to the establishment of a national department of health.

CANADIAN NORTHERN EXPRESS WRECKED

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 15.—The Canadian Northern express, running from Regina, Sask., to Winnipeg, was wrecked at Ladysmith today. All of the cars left the track, the sleeper being turned over on its side. Several passengers were injured but none fatally.

THE REPUBLICANS

HAVE ISSUED AN ADDRESS TO THE CONSULS

AMOY, Nov. 15.—The republicans who took formal possession of the city yesterday have published an address to the consuls in which the neutrality of the latter is requested and assurance given that their property, including the churches, would be protected. The city remained quiet today. The American cruiser Saratoga and the American gunboat Quinos will sail for the north today. The British cruiser Monmouth is relieving the British sloop Rosario.

Hai Cheng, on the mainland south-west of Amoy, has gone over to the revolutionists. The city magistrate has been made a prisoner. Chang Chow, 24 miles west of here, reports fighting of the sodality for the success obtained there. Word comes from Tusan Chow, a seaport 50 miles northeast of Amoy, that the local officers have fled and the revolutionary element is in control.

A RECEPTION

TO YOUNG WOMEN WHO ORGANIZED WHIST PARTIES

The young women who so successfully organized the recent whist party at St. Louis' parochial school hall, were tendered a reception last night by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. N. Jacques, the latter being ably assisted in the affair by Rev. Fr. Bedard, chaplain of the Holy Mary sodality.

The young women, numbering about 40, gathered in the school hall and spent a very pleasant evening. A delightful musical and literary program was rendered, every one present taking part in it. The assembly was addressed by both the pastor and the curate, who congratulated the members of the sodality for the success obtained there, and also thanked them for their good work toward the parish. At the close of the affair a dainty buffet lunch was served.

BAY STATE LOSES

Will Not Get Eddy Inheritance Tax

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Through the failure of Atty. Gen. Swift to take an appeal in the required time the state of New Hampshire will have the full benefit of the inheritance tax on the estate of the late Mrs. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science church.

Attorney General Swift, however, will press the contention that Mrs. Eddy had no right, under the state statutes, to bequeath property giving an annual dividend of more than $2000 to the directors of the Christian Science church, which question probably will be argued in the supreme court of Massachusetts within a few weeks.

The relinquishment of whatever rights Massachusetts may have had in the inheritance tax on the Eddy estate removes a bone of contention between the two states which might have carried the case to the supreme court at Washington.

It also brings the whole will litigation a step nearer final settlement.

AMERICAN BANKER

SAYS HE DINED WITH MIX SUNDAY EVENING

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Nothing developed today to throw greater light on the disappearance of Edgar W. Mix, the American consulting engineer and aeronaut, who is supposed to have committed suicide by dropping overboard from a mailboat Sunday night. J. O'Leary, an American banker in London, has written friends here saying that he dined with Mix Sunday evening, when the latter told him that he would return to Paris that night.

Mr. Mix had the papers presenting the American side in the case of the Statue of Liberty fight, the prize for which was awarded successively to John B. Moisant, the American who was later killed, and Count De Lesseps and which is to come up on appeal by Claude Grahame-White before the International Aeronautic Federation at its meeting in Rome Nov. 25. Officers of the Aero club of America have enabled here asking that these documents be obtained from Mr. Mix's effects and turned over to the secretary of the American club, who is now on his way to Paris.

TWO SUSPECTS

WERE ARRESTED AT PITTSFIELD, ME. TODAY

NEWPORT, Me., Nov. 15.—Two French Canadians who belong in Waterville were taken into custody at Pittsfield early today by Night Watchman Corey on suspicion that they were the ones who escaped last night after exchanging pistol shots with Night Watchman Heffron when they were discovered in the Pittsfield post office. They offered no resistance when captured. They were brought here and were identified by several persons as having been seen here early last evening. Together with Angus Henderson of Waterville, who was caught in the cellar of the post office, they were taken to Bangor to be arraigned before United States Commissioner Reid, Jr., this afternoon.

M. E. CONFERENCE

DENVER, Nov. 15.—Bishops attending the Home Mission and Extension of the Methodist Episcopal conference today, the last of the six days meeting, participated in the ceremonies of the breaking of ground for the new science hall, a donation of Andrew Carnegie to Denver university, a Methodist institution.

Among the appropriations made are the following: The Italian mission, this including all Italian work east of Indianapolis $37,800; Porto Rico $20,000; the several German conferences $33,200; Boston $2000; with an additional grant of $1635 for the Morgan Memorial church.

A Big Boom in

Coats at $10

100 in kersey, broadcloth and mixtures, all $12.50 and $15 coats. Sale price.....$10

Silk Messaline

Petticoats

To match the suits, worth $5.00, at.....$2.98

THE McNAMARA TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—For the second time in eight days the privilege for peremptory challenges against talesmen in the McNamara trial was expected to be invoked today, to the inevitable loss of some now in the jury box. With three jurors already sworn, the ninth man needed to fill the box again and precipitate the volley of peremptory challenges was in view when court convened as M. W. Coreoran, who had passed the defense for cause, was undergoing examination by the state.

COATS and SUITS

We have received the past three days 500 COATS AND SUITS, mostly samples and the balances of Fine Coths made in the season's BEST STYLES. This fortunate purchase will be offered to you at the same reductions that our big buying power scooped them for.

SALE COMMENCES

THURSDAY MORNING

230 SUITS

Handsome cloths and in five of the best styles. All goods used earlier in $25 and $30 suits at.....$18.75

You should see these five suits.

Suits at $15.00 Suits at $12.50

Fine cheviot, serge and mixtures; only the lucky buy would allow us to offer them so cheap.

About 50 in this lot, mixtures, serges, one and two of a kind. This price represents only the labor.

If You Want a Suit See This Stock Today

Coats at $15.00

150 coats, mostly samples, Skinner lining, new collar effects, all $20 and $25 coats

100 DRESSES IN FINE SERGES, 12 STYLES, SELLING TO $12.50, AT....$7.95

New York Cloak and Suit Co.

12-18 JOHN STREET

THEATRES TO CLOSE

WARWICK, R. I., Nov. 15.—Because of the continued spread of the smallpox epidemic in the Pawtucket valley the board of health in this town requested the theatres and moving picture showhouses to close until further orders. Bowling alleys, poolrooms and all other places of amusement will be closed. The number of cases was swelled today to 92 and nearly 50 buildings are under quarantine. The town authorities have secured the Bullard block, occupied by six families under quarantine and one free from the disease, as an emergency hospital and have requested the family not under quarantine to move to another house. Among the new cases discovered today was William Rice, a man of 85 years.

AMOSKEAG CO. SHARES LISTED

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Temporary certificates of the Amoskeag Mfg. Co., a voluntary association representing 169,242 shares of common and 112,829 shares of preferred stock, were listed today on the Boston stock exchange. This action follows the reorganization of the Amoskeag from a joint stock company to a voluntary association, plans for which were approved by the stockholders a few weeks ago.

STANDARD OIL DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey declared today a dividend for the last quarter of the year of seven dollars a share. This is the last dividend to be declared before the company dissolves under the mandate of the supreme court.

The Standard Oil Co. of New York declared a dividend of $20 a share which is equivalent to a dividend of $3.05 a share on the stock of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

The regular Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey dividend for the last quarter of the year has been $10 a share.

Since the Standard Oil was formed into corporate form in 1882 it has distributed about $751,000,000 in dividends.

BUTTER AND EGGS SCORE THE MAYOR

Chicago Board Cuts Prices of Them

Norfolk Aldermen Denounce His Utterances

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A surprise equal to that caused by the action of the Chicago Butter and Egg board when on Monday it forced up the price of butter and eggs came today when it became known that the board had just as suddenly cut the prices to the figures which prevailed on last Saturday. The board, which is under investigation by the government, cut the price of butter from 32 cents to 32 cents a pound. The board reduced the price of eggs from the Monday price of 26 and 25 cents to the Saturday price of 25 and 27 cents. The prices were sent up on the day that the cold wave struck Chicago.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—Denouncing it as a "gross breach of the proprieties and an affront to the dignity of those assembled," the Norfolk board of aldermen last night adopted a resolution formally repudiating a "bloody shirt" utterance said to have been made at the recent waterways convention in Richmond by Mayor James Riddick, who attended the convention as a representative of this city. It is alleged that the mayor declared in his address: "I am from a southern city and I am a southerner through and through. If I had one drop of northern blood in my heart I would tear it out."

THE GILBRIDE COMPANY

Tomorrow Morning

WE BEGIN OUR ANNUAL

Thanksgiving Sale of LINENS

We believe our linen store carries a larger and more varied assortment of Thanksgiving table linens than any other establishment in Lowell. Only the very best production from Irish, Scotch, German and Austrian manufacturers find room in this popular section of our store. "Quality" first, fast and all the time in our linen department.

See the beautiful linens—displayed in Merrimack street window.

DAMASKS

20 pieces 62-inch Table Damask, warranted every thread pure linen, full grass bleached, extra heavy and all new designs to select from. These goods retail at 62 1-2c yard. Thanksgiving sale price 49c yard

Remnants of 72-inch Table Damask in satin stripe and floral designs, extra good value at 98c yard. Thanksgiving sale price 69c yard

Dollar Satin Damask

Everybody says we have the best Dollar Table Damask in the city. We invite comparison on our special Thanksgiving number, full 72 inches wide. Thanksgiving sale price.....$1.00 yard

72-inch Satin Table Damask in 10 beautiful designs to select from, warranted to be the best damask sold at $1.50 yard. Thanksgiving sale price.....$1.25 yard

We carry a complete line of all Linen Crashes and Glass Linen with prices ranging from 8 1-2c up to 25c yard

NAPKINS

100 Dozen 20-inch Napkins, all hemmed, a good value at $1.25. Thanksgiving sale price.....75c dozen

72 Dozen 22-inch Napkins, all hemmed, regular price $1.50. Thanksgiving sale price.....98c dozen

22-inch Warranted All Pure Linen Napkins, a good value for ordinary use, regular price $2.30. Thanksgiving sale price.....$1.98 dozen

22-inch Double Damask Napkins, one of our leaders at $3.25. Thanksgiving sale price.....$2.50 dozen

Cloths and Napkins, hemmed free of charge if desired. Just say the word.

TRAY CLOTHS

Size 15x24 All Linen Unhemmed Tray Cloths, regular value 17c. Thanksgiving sale price.....12 1-2c each

Size 18x27 Satin Damask Unhemmed Tray Cloths, a dandy at 39c. Thanksgiving sale price.....25c each

Size 18x27 Hemstitched Tray Cloths, five designs to select from, value 39c. Thanksgiving sale price.....25c each

Size 20x30 Hemstitched Double Damask Tray Cloths, regular value 69c. Thanksgiving sale price.....50c each

45-inch Round Scalloped Edge Luncheon Cloths, all linen with beautiful embroidered designs, regular value $5.95. Special for Thanksgiving sale.....$2.98 each

TELLING MEN'S CHARACTERS BY THEIR BACKS

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

WE all know of the reading of persons' characters by the lines traced by nature on their palms. Some folks pin their faith on the study of physiognomy, asserting that every man's character is written in his features. Others believe that there is much personal history in the shape of the finger nails. Did you ever stop to think that turning a man around and or, rather, two pictures of the one back, show President Taft. He is the biggest man in the country in point of position and one of the biggest physically, so two rear views of him are included. The president "puts up a good front," it is generally agreed, and his back is a good one also. It is like Mr. Taft himself, ponderous and massive, but well set up and suggesting the activity with which the chief executive astonishes observers frequently.

You are straight enough in the shoulders;
You care not who sees your back.

—King Henry IV., Part 1, Act 2, Scene 4.

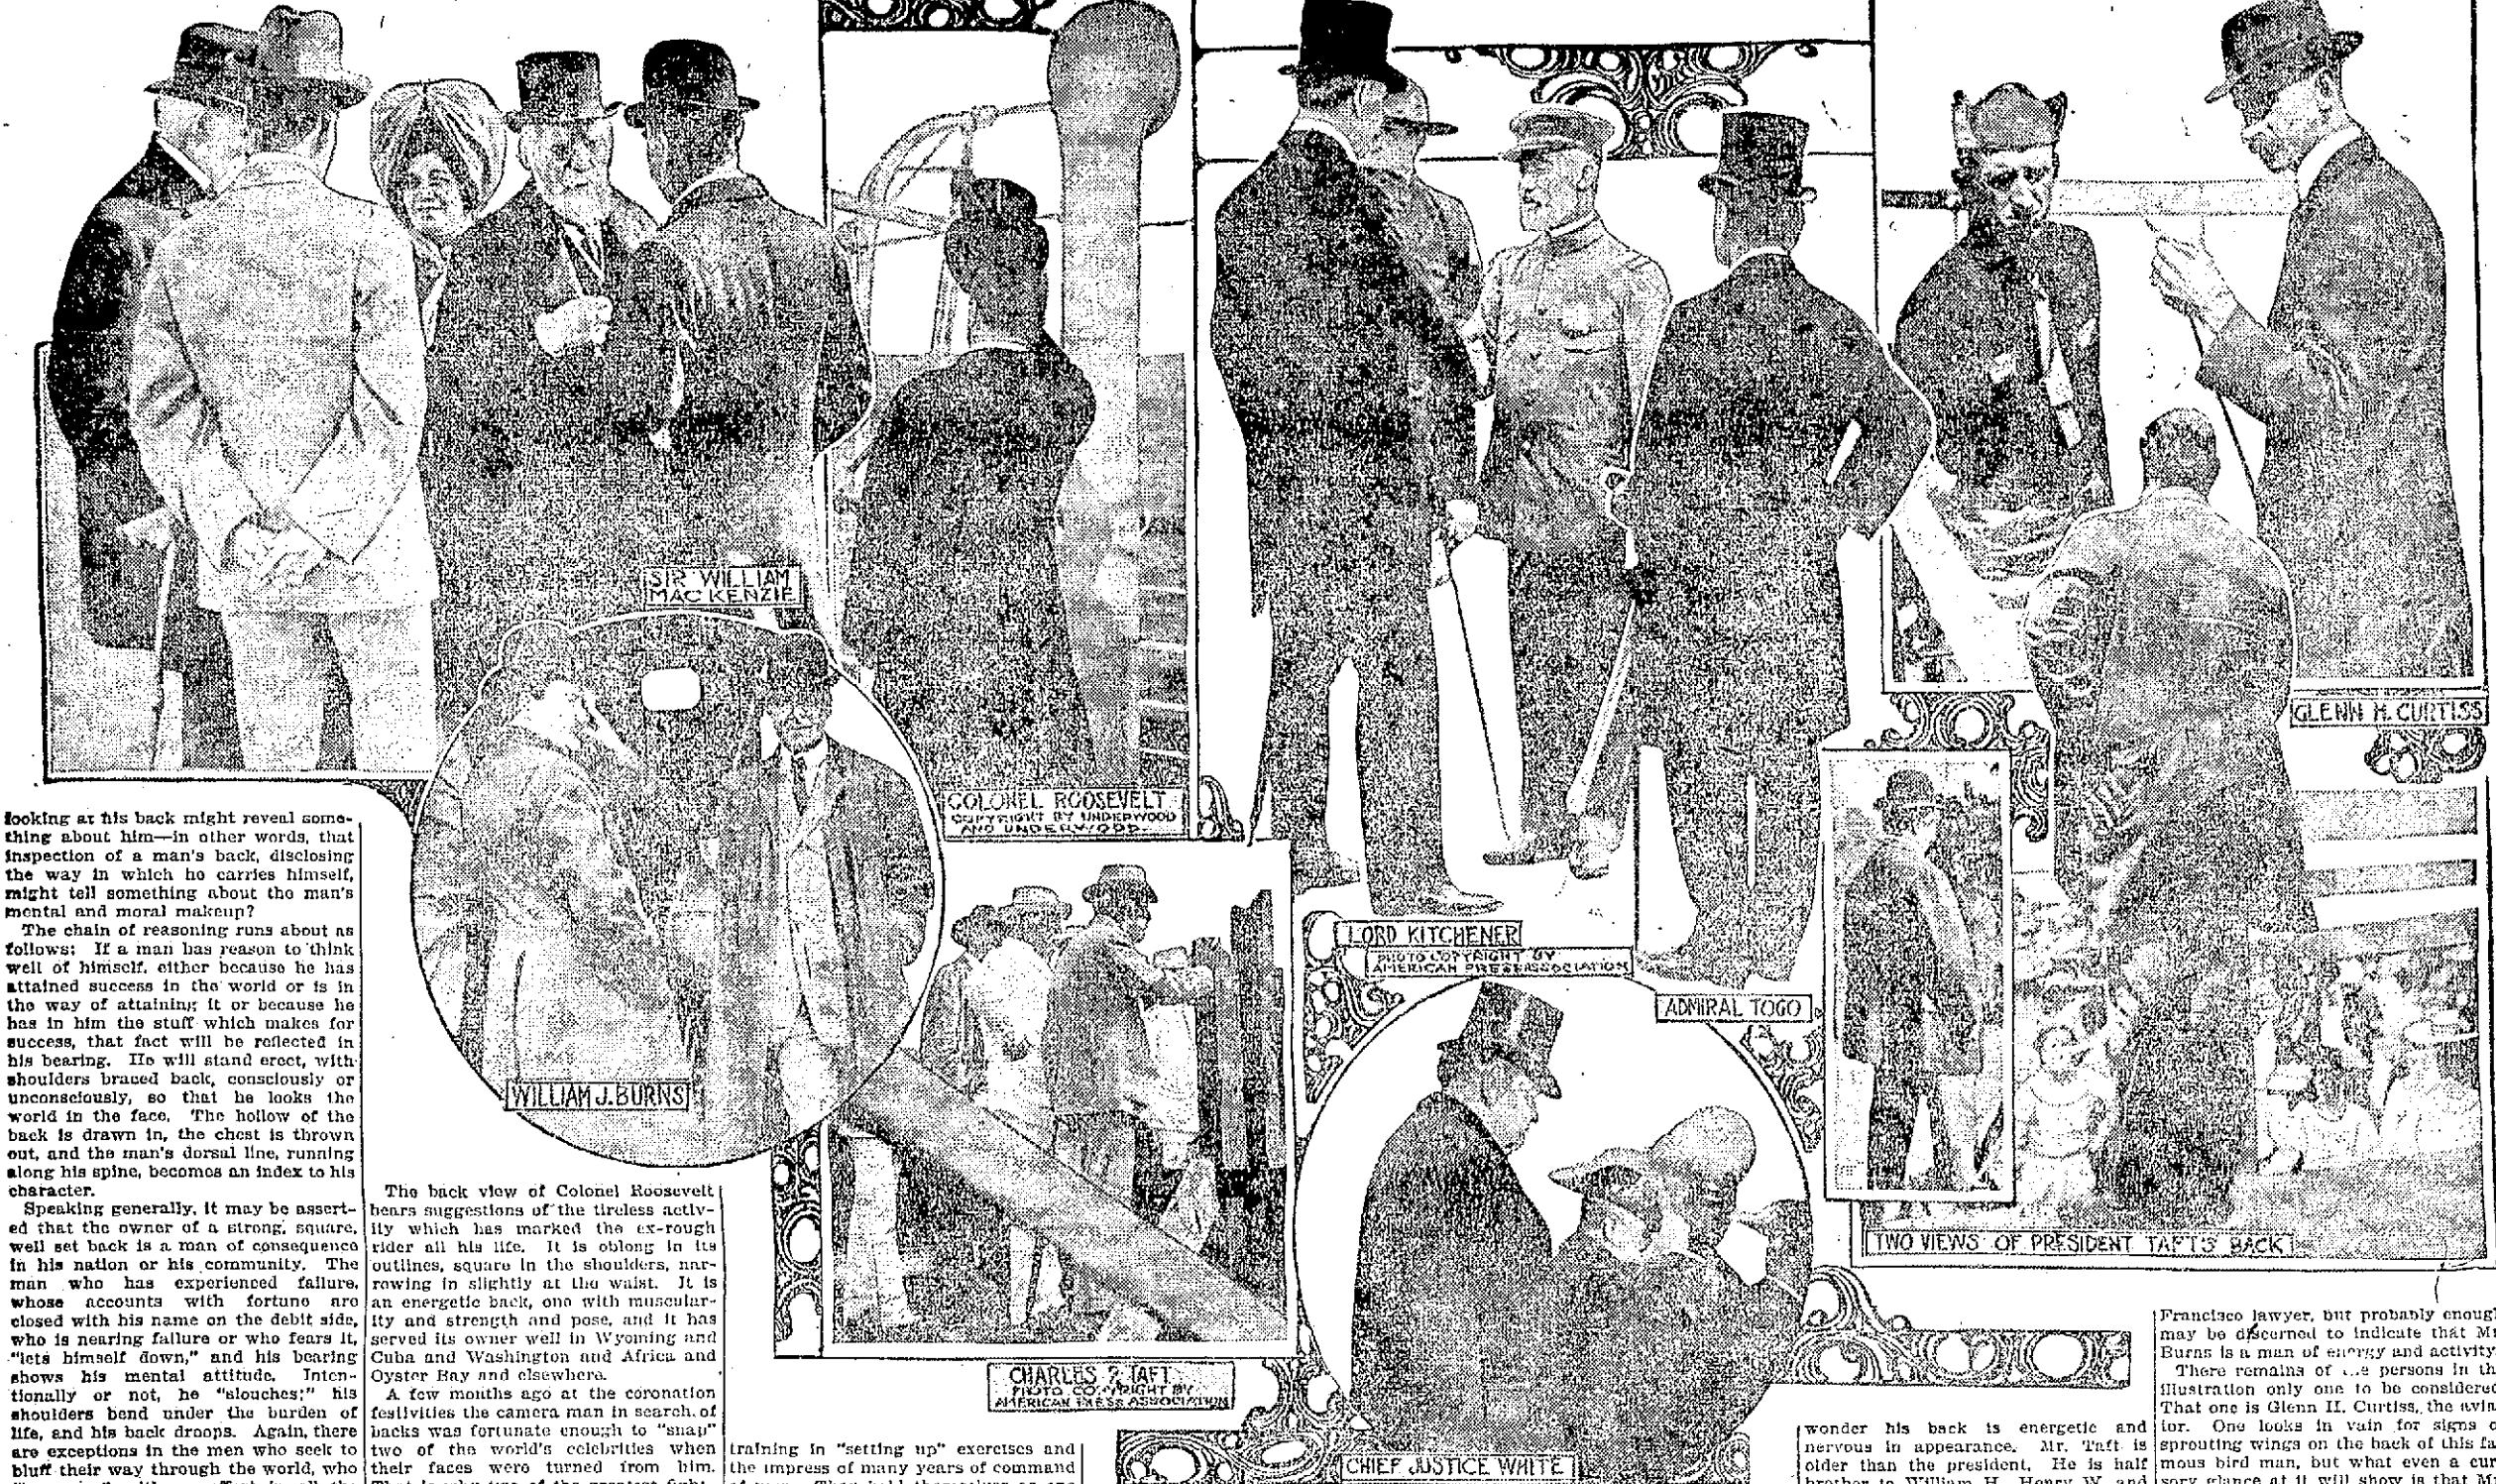

crowds recently. Despite the difference in the statures of these two men, there is a striking similarity in their backs. Both show the effects of early

White, chief justice of the United States. It is turned partly from the observer. Is there not something impressive and judicial looking in the side the former while the two men are inspecting the work on the Panama canal. Mr. Taft is much more slender in build than his distinguished relative, and his back shows it. He is an energetic citizen, a newspaper proprietor and a man of extensive business affairs, as well as a lawyer by training. Besides, he is financially interested in one of the big league baseball clubs, and he is a member in good standing of the Honorable Army of Fans. No square, well built and strong, as befits a man of large affairs. The old man in whom he is talking is Lord Strathcona, the Canadian statesman and administrator.

One of the groups of two shows the back of William J. Burns, the well known detective, a prominent figure in the McNamara case. The detail of his rear view is lost in the heavy coat which he is wearing as he talks with looking at his back might reveal something about him—in other words, that inspection of a man's back, disclosing the way in which he carries himself, might tell something about the man's mental and moral makeup?

The chain of reasoning runs about as follows: If a man has reason to think well of himself, either because he has attained success in the world or is in the way of attaining it, or because he has in him the stuff which makes for success, that fact will be reflected in his bearing. He will stand erect, with shoulders braced back, consciously or unconsciously, so that he looks the world in the face. The hollow of the back is drawn in, the chest is thrown out, and the man's dorsal line, running along his spine, becomes an index to his character.

Speaking generally, it may be asserted that the owner of a strong, square, well set back is a man of consequence in his nation or his community. The man who has experienced failure, whose accounts with fortune are closed with his name on the debit side, who is nearing failure or who fears it, "lets himself down," and his bearing shows his mental attitude. Intentionally or not, he "slouches"; his shoulders bend under the burden of life, and his back droops. Again, there are exceptions in the men who seek to bluff their way through the world, who "brace up" with an effort in all the working hours of the day—or of the night. But in the end their efforts fail, and their backs demonstrate their lack of real success.

Look at the backs of the men in the pictures. There are nine men and ten pictures of backs. Two of the backs,

The back view of Colonel Roosevelt bears suggestions of the tireless activity which has marked the ex-rough rider all his life. It is oblong in its outlines, square in the shoulders, narrowing in slightly at the waist. It is an energetic back, one with muscularity and strength and pose, and it has served its owner well in Wyoming and Cuba and Washington and Africa and Oyster Bay and elsewhere.

A few months ago at the coronation festivities the camera man in search of backs was fortunate enough to "snap" two of the world's celebrities when their faces were turned from him. That is why two of the greatest fighting men of the age are shown in the illustration. They are Field Marshal Lord Kitchener, one of Great Britain's most famous generals, and Vice Admiral Togo, the Japanese sea fighter, whose diminutive but strong figure was the center of cheering American training in "setting up" exercises and the impress of many years of command of men. They hold themselves as one should expect men to stand whose lives have been spent in giving orders. Let us pass from the battlefield and the deck of the warship to the scholarly atmosphere of the court highest in dignity and power. Contemplate for a minute the back of Edward Douglas square shoulder, holding itself firm, as becomes part of the anatomy of a man who fills one of the highest places in the United States and in the world? Chief Justice White is a large man and dignified in the back of the chief justice. In one of the pictures appears the back of Charles P. Taft, half brother of the president, who is standing be-wonder his back is energetic and nervous in appearance. Mr. Taft is older than the president. He is half brother to William H. Taft, Henry W. and Horace D. Taft.

The group in the upper left hand corner of the picture shows the back of a distinguished Canadian, Sir William Mackenzie, founder and president of the Canadian Northern railway. His back is a distinctly "good" one, being Francisco lawyer, but probably enough may be discerned to indicate that Mr. Burns is a man of energy and activity. There remains of the persons in the illustration only one to be considered. That one is Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator. One looks in vain for signs of sprouting wings on the back of this famous bird man, but what even a cursory glance at it will show is that Mr. Curtiss is essentially a man of action rather than a student, although the slightly bowed shoulders speak of hours spent in the laboratory and the drafting room. His is the back of the man of nervous energy and action, of initiative and enterprise.

CLARENCE S. DARROW, CHIEF COUNSEL OF McNAMARAS

Left to right—James B. McNamara, Clarence S. Darrow, Joseph Scott, Leconte Davis (Scott and Davis are lawyers associated with Darrow in defense of the McNamaras).

PICTURE to yourself a man of middle age, wearied almost to the breaking point of physical exhaustion, eager to cast off the burden of thirty years of unending legal strife, yet enlisted in a hard legal campaign and fighting, fighting, ever delivering hard and tolling blows as his cause is strongly attacked. You will have then an impression of Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the McNamara brothers in their defense on the charge of having blown up the Los Angeles Times.

Before the McNamara trial began Darrow said publicly that he would not be associated with the defense, although it had been asserted and assumed generally that he would be chief counsel. He said he was tired.

Darrow said recently that the true reason behind his defense of the accused was not himself, but Mrs. Darrow. He admitted his reliance on her sympathy in maintaining his position. He has induced him to consent to conserve his energies, to exert himself not beyond the bounds of his limited endurance.

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE S. DARROW.

Several years ago Darrow, who is the author of several books, wrote:

"All my life I have been planning and hoping and thinking and dreaming and loitering and waiting. All my life I have been getting ready to begin to do something worth while. I have been waiting for the summer and waiting for the fall. I have been waiting for the winter and waiting for the spring, waiting for the night and waiting for the morning, waiting and dawdling and dreaming until the day is almost spent and the twilight close at hand."

Yet the man who wrote that of himself was only fifty when it was written, and he is now only fifty-four. The words breathe humility and lack of self assertiveness, but Darrow is not at all humble when occasion demands expression of his true self, which is that of a whole souled fighter for the causes in which he enlists body and mind. Yet he is a believer, theoretical at least, in the doctrine of nonresistance, which he learned from Tolstoy.

It may be said of Darrow that he hates a fight; that he would like to see the asperities of the world smoothed down without fighting, but that he can and does battle lustily when his sympathies are roused. His philosophy, then, is something like that of Hamlet when he declared:

The time is out of joint; O cursed spite That ever I was born to set it right!

For thirty-six of his fifty-four years Darrow has been a lawyer, most of the time in Chicago. He is an Ohio man by birth, and his schooling was received in the public schools of his state. He was still a very young man when he met John P. Altgeld, the greatly criticized governor of Illinois, and the two men found much in common in their ideas of life and society.

His attention was turned early to the labor union question, and he attracted international notice when he defended Meyer, Haywood and Pettibone in the dynamiting case. He served as counsel in the famous Debs strike case and in other important matters. He has been member of the Illinois legislature for one term and has been urged to stand for mayor of Chicago on a radical platform, but he has refused, as he has no liking for public office.

The word most frequently applied to Darrow is "radical," and both his friends and his enemies assert that it is the term which describes him best. He is not only a radical, however; he is one of America's most radical radicals in ideas and expression.

ARTHUR J. BRINTON.

MONUMENT TO HONOR CIVIL WAR WOMEN PROPOSED

THROUGHOUT the north, wherever men were sent from city, town or village to take up arms for the preservation of the Union, stand soldiers' and soldiers' monuments. The south preserves in monuments the memory of the men who fought for the "lost cause." Inscribed in enduring bronze and granite may be read the records of the men who battled and died, but nowhere save in books or from the lips of survivors may one learn of the deeds of the women who played parts so large in the war between the sections.

The women of both sides, north and south, gave up their homes to nurse their wounded and attend to the burial of their dead; they devoted themselves without stint and untriflingly to the work of gathering supplies for the men at the front, and they deprived themselves of luxuries and of necessities that the "boys" in gray or blue might not want. In hundreds of cases they acted as spies, rendering services of great value to the commanding generals, and in a few cases they donned uniforms and fought until they died or until their sex was discovered, sometimes by reasons of wounds sustained in action.

It is for the purpose of honoring the women who aided the northern cause that the Loyal Legion has taken up the matter of erecting in Washington a monument to the women of the civil war. The movement to rear the monument was started at a recent meeting in New York. A contribution of $50,000 by a retired army officer with a distinguished record, a resident of New York city, was offered on condition that $300,000 more should be raised within a year. The matter has been taken up with enthusiasm by various patriotic bodies.

One of the prime movers for the proposed monument is James M. Beck, the well known lawyer, who is counsel for the Loyal Legion, New York commandery.

Statistics of the number of women of Federal and southern sympathies who served in the war as nurses are wanting. There were many hundreds of them, and they aided greatly in their respective causes by nursing wounded and sick men back to health so that they could return to the field. Two northern women, one of whom earned probably the largest fame of any woman as a nurse and the other of whom saw active service as a soldier, spy and nurse, are pictured in the illustration.

The first is "Mother" Mary A. Bickerdike, remembered with gratitude by many Union soldiers for her heroic labors in organizing relief.

So far as diligent research can dis-

E. Edmonds, who had an interesting career in the Union army as nurse and spy and wrote a volume, "Nurse and Spy," telling her experiences in the war. The book was completed in close, there is in the United States only one monument to a woman who served in the civil war. That is the "Mother" Bickerdike statue in Galesburg, Ill. The other woman in the picture, standing beside her horse, is S. Emma Edmonds. It is recorded that up to that time the author had "penetrated the enemy's lines in various disguises no less than eleven times, always with complete success and without detection." JUDSON PERRY ADAMS.

COUPLE ARRESTED

Boy Says He Was De-frauded of $50

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Accused of obtaining $50 fraudulently from Rudolph Bishop, a boy of 15, who lives at 55 Compton street, Thomas O'Toole, aged 25, and his wife, Catherine, aged 25, were locked up yesterday at the Court Square police station by Special Officer William J. Carey. The O'Tooles live at 381 Shawmut avenue. The husband has an alias of John S. Wheeler and the wife was known to Bishop as Nellie Donahue.

The boy answered an advertisement which led him, he said, to go to 139 Washington street, where the O'Tooles had an office. He says they agreed to employ him at $10 a week, providing he would post $50 as a guarantee of his honesty. This, young Bishop said, he did October 2. He worked one week and was paid $10, but thereafter he could not collect, he alleges, and that later O'Toole left the Washington street office.

The Bishop boy says he had an agreement the couple made with him, but that Mrs. O'Toole went to his home and cajoled him into delivering it to her in return for a promissory note which was worthless.

Special Officer Carey arrested a man who was claiming O'Toole's mail and the latter informed the police O'Toole was at 219 Tremont street. Later the wife was arrested at her home. The O'Tooles say they came here from Providence. The husband advertised continuously for bright boys who would post guarantees of $50 in order to get jobs that O'Toole, it is alleged, would represent would pay them $10 to $25 a week.

TWO NAVY TEAMS

To Play for the Football Championship

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 15.—Having settled all disputed points in naval excellence during the last ten months of manoeuvres, 22 men of the Atlantic fleet came ashore today to settle the football championship with eleven from the fleet. The football game of the first squad, and the battleship Idaho of the second squad, are the contestants in the final struggle. At the temporary gridiron near Mile corner, arrangements were made for several thousand spectators to witness the struggle.

The Connecticut team has been ashore several times during the past few days working under the direction of several of the officers who won their football stripes in games with the army. The Idaho eleven came on from Philadelphia yesterday and berthed for the night on the North Dakota.

Possessing the honor of being hailed champions of the fleet, the players had the additional incentive of a silver trophy offered by State Senator Beckman on this day.

On each team was a naval officer of Atlantic experience. Middiehampton Richardson playing quarterback on the Connecticut team while Ensign Robertson was at left guard on the Idaho eleven.

MGR. FALCONIO

Pays Tribute to American Women

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The last word of Mgr. Falconio, whose duties as apostolic delegate to this country terminated Monday, on the eve of his departure for Rome to be formally invested with the red hat of a prince of the church, was a message to the women of America.

"There can be no greater service, no greater glory, than the rearing of children," he said.

"I have nothing but sentiments of the highest esteem for American ladies," said the cardinal. "American women are extremely well educated. They are full of energy, and it is impossible to overestimate the great results to be obtained when they exert their influence for the welfare of society."

"I do not think it proper for any woman to go outside of the sphere which is assigned to her sex. A good woman should have in mind, above all, the proper care of her family—she is first and foremost a citizen of the home, and it is her duty to see that the duties of citizenship she will have no leisure for outside affairs. In the home should be her heart and soul. There is no higher or nobler mission than here—the care and education of children."

"Should she go outside this sphere and mix in affairs which are unbecoming to a lady and the mother of a family, then her prestige will be lost, and the sublimity of the rank assigned to her by the Almighty will be eclipsed."

"There can be no greater service, no greater glory, than the rearing of children. The woman who looks properly after her home and children keeps her husband's love. Men revere, honor and love the home woman. No other woman can compare with her in dignity and honor."

"I earnestly hope that American women, while they inherit the staidness of the Roman matrons and the courage of Spartan mothers, will cherish at the same time the noble mission assigned to them, that of wisdom and motherhood."

"It should be the duty of women to exert their powerful influence to combat the divorce evil, the greatest evil of our day, which is undermining the life of families and of society."

"If men and women lived according to the rules laid down by our Blessed Redeemer in regard to their relations in married life, there would be no divorce."

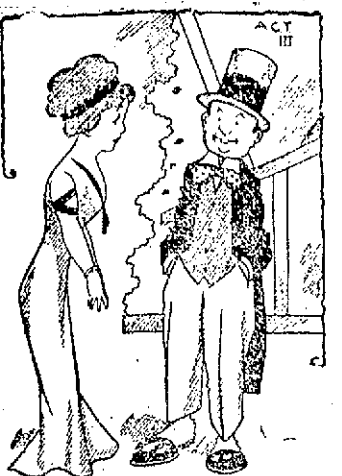

BRIDAL COUPLE

WERE ASPHYXIATED BY GAS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Forty minutes before the time set for their marriage a young woman of 21 years and her fiancé, a year older, were found asphyxiated by gas yesterday in the rooms which they had furnished as their home.

The victims were Stella Gera and Frank Mycek. The tragedy occurred at 141 West Superior street. The couple's rooms on the second floor were filled with flowers, wedding

A LITTLE NONSENSE

WILLING TO HELP.

Heroine—Yes, and there by the gates of the mansion I began to sob, "H-here I stand before you in the snow."

Comedian—How realistic! How was it received?

Heroine—Why, the gallery began to throw old boots.

WRONG TIME.

Missionary—I've come to do you good. Can't you do it for me?

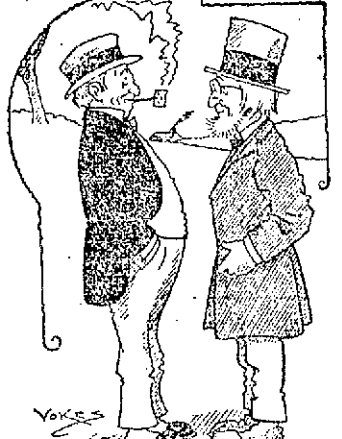

Comedian—You can't do it; I'm on a diet.

UNFORGIVABLE.

Mrs. Wise—I used to know the name of the man who first invented football.

Mr. Wise—Well, it's easier to forget than forgive.

TIT FOR TAT.

Mrs. Benton Holmes (engaging new maid)—Why did you leave your last place?

Bridget Burns—Shure, an' why did you last cook lave you?

NOTHING OBTAINED.

"Waiter! Come here at once! Here's a book-and-eye in this salad!"

"Yes, yes! That's a part of the dressing, sir!"

TIT FOR TAT.

Mrs. Benton Holmes (engaging new maid)—Why did you leave your last place?

Bridget Burns—Shure, an' why did you last cook lave you?

A CARD

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Groce's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

F. H. Butler, Carleton & Hovey, A. Thompson, Bristol Pharmacy, C. E. Carter, A. E. Storey & Co., P. C. Goodale, A. W. Davis & Co., F. A. & B. B. Shaw Carter & Sherburne, D. T. McEvoy, Albert E. Moore, F. P. Moody, Rochette & Delisle.

HARD COAL BRIQUETTES

At the reduced price of $5.50

Per Ton

For a limited time only

A GOOD FUEL AT THE RIGHT PRICE

Horne Coal Co.

9 CENTRAL STREET

E. G. SOPHOS

IMPORTER AND WHOLESALE

DEALER IN

Oriental, Greek and Italian Produce

Specialties in all cases

TELEPHONE 1849

Cor. Adams & Salem Sts., Lowell, Mass.

We guarantee our olive oil strictly pure. Give us a call.

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

SAVE YOUR OWN REPT BY BUYING one of the many bargains in two tenements and cottages on city and suburbs. Some very easy payments. All kinds of insurance, lowest rates. M. J. Sharkey, 22 Central st., room 25. Open Saturday and Monday evenings.

NEAR ST. PETER'S—VERY PLEASANT 7-room cottage with bath; respectable neighborhood, good yard; very small amount down. M. J. Sharkey, 22 Central st., room 25.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

POISONED BY GAS

MISS EMMA COYLE FOUND DEAD IN BED

LEWISTON, Me., Nov. 15.—Miss Emma Coyle, aged 35, and who was employed in the home of Allan Ross of Pierce street as a domestic, was found dead in her room yesterday. Death was due to asphyxiation.

Miss Coyle had been working at Ross house about two and a half months. She retired as usual Monday night but failed to respond when called yesterday morning. Neighbors were called in and the door to her room broken down.

The room was filled with gas and Miss Coyle was in bed. It is believed she had been dead several hours. Gas was still escaping from the jet, which is believed to have been accidentally opened.

Coroner H. A. Teague took charge of the body. He deemed an inquest unnecessary and pronounced death due to accidental causes.

WANTED

ROOMERS AND BOARDERS WANTED—Mrs. McGregor pays all attention to her guests; sets a first class table; clean, sunny bath; electric light; nothing to equal it can be found in Lowell. For the price charged, Gent's $2.50, ladies $2.00. Baths with hot and cold water. All are welcome. Transients accommodated. If you feel hungry go to the Quincey House, 55 Lee st.

HORSE WANTED—A GOOD SOUND horse for city delivery best he brook on to electric and automobiles and warranted to stand without hitching. Address A. C. Sun Office.

LEGAL NOTICES

Under authority of Section 49, Chapter 190 of the Acts of 1908, I, Mary M. Duffy of Lowell, Mass., do hereby give notice that I have made written application to the Lowell District Court, in said County of Middlesex, for a duplicate deposit book of Account No. 10112, standing in my name, and which said deposit book is lost or destroyed.

Said Court is held at Lowell, Mass., on the first Monday of each month, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and for the custody of said minor as aforesaid.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court by Joseph G. Gifford, of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex, praying for the appointment of himself, or some other suitable person, as guardian of the person and estate of said minor, and for the custody of said minor as aforesaid.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lowell, Mass., in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-first day of November, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any, why a guardian should not be appointed and have the custody of said minor as aforesaid.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Allen P. Fenton, at least seven days before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McIntire, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this 15th day of November, in the year one thousand nine hundred eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

FELL FROM WAGON

Joseph Babbin Was Fatally Injured Late This Afternoon

Joseph Babbin, a driver in the employ of D. T. Sullivan, fell from his wagon this afternoon and was killed when the heavy load passed over his body.

The accident occurred at 3.30 o'clock at the corner of Chambers and Kinsman streets. Babbin was seated on a load of brick and he suddenly lost his balance and fell to the pavement. The horses could not be stopped in time, and the heavy wagon ran over the unfortunate man, killing him instantly. The ambulance was called and the body was removed to the chapel of Undertaker Peter H. Savage. The deceased lived at the corner of George and William streets.

INJURIES WERE FATAL

Byron W. Johnson Fell From Hay Loft in Barn in Chelmsford

Mr. Byron W. Johnson, the well known proprietor of a livery stable at 292 Chordike street, died this morning at his home, 15 Gates street, as the result of an accident which occurred last Sunday afternoon in East Chelmsford.

Mr. Johnson went to the Brown farm in East Chelmsford to purchase a few articles. He bought a wagon and then he was informed that there were other things in the barn attic for sale. He went up on the hay loft and on his downward trip, he missed his footing and fell with force to the floor below. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and removed to his home in a carriage. There, Drs. Bell, Jones and Livingston were called and the three physicians found that their patient was suffering from a fractured wrist and internal injuries.

Despite the treatment of the attending physicians and their efforts to save his life, the injured man passed away this morning. The funeral notice appears in another column.

ACTION OF PRES. TAFT

Was Severely Criticised by Gov. Hawley of Idaho

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 15.—Gov. James Hawley today gave out a signed statement addressed to the people of Idaho in which he condemns the action of President Taft in granting a pardon yesterday to Clarence Robnett, bookkeeper in the Lewiston National bank of Lewiston, Idaho. He was convicted of embezzling funds of the bank and was sentenced in the federal court at Idaho Springs to ten years' imprisonment. He never entered upon service of his sentence.

"I feel that the pardon of Robnett is a fitting sequel to the proceedings in the federal court during the last four years while the special assistants to the United States attorney general have been usurping the functions of the United States attorney and his assistants and have been running the cases in which the United States has been interested with a high hand, regardless of justice or decency," the statement sets forth.

"For more than four years, in every important case in which the United States was interested, the regular prosecuting officers have been retired and these special assistants to the attorney general have been given full control."

"Without the slightest interest in our state, caring nothing for our people, simply desirous of establishing a reputation in the department of justice, these special prosecutors have done more to injure Idaho and retard its development since the autumn of 1907 than all other causes combined. The injustice of this action of President Taft, inspired without doubt by the special prosecutors, will long rankle in the minds of our citizens and will inspire them with a wholesome contempt for such disgraceful methods."

"It is probably unfair to severely blame President Taft directly for this unspeakable action, as he undoubtedly acted at the request of the attorney general, who evidently had been in collusion with his associates in charge of this prosecution."

ment addressed to the people of Idaho in which he condemns the action of President Taft in granting a pardon yesterday to Clarence Robnett, bookkeeper in the Lewiston National bank of Lewiston, Idaho. He was convicted of embezzling funds of the bank and was sentenced in the federal court at Idaho Springs to ten years' imprisonment. He never entered upon service of his sentence.

"I feel that the pardon of Robnett is a fitting sequel to the proceedings in the federal court during the last four years while the special assistants to the United States attorney general have been usurping the functions of the United States attorney and his assistants and have been running the cases in which the United States has been interested with a high hand, regardless of justice or decency," the statement sets forth.

"For more than four years, in every important case in which the United States was interested, the regular prosecuting officers have been retired and these special assistants to the attorney general have been given full control."

"Without the slightest interest in our state, caring nothing for our people, simply desirous of establishing a reputation in the department of justice, these special prosecutors have done more to injure Idaho and retard its development since the autumn of 1907 than all other causes combined. The injustice of this action of President Taft, inspired without doubt by the special prosecutors, will long rankle in the minds of our citizens and will inspire them with a wholesome contempt for such disgraceful methods."

THE GOVERNMENT

Will Appeal From Commerce Court's Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The government will immediately appeal to the United States supreme court from the decision of the commerce court granting temporary injunctions against the orders of the inter-state commerce commission in the trans-continental freight rate cases. It is not the purpose of the government's counsel to await final action by the commerce court before taking the appeal to the highest judicial tribunal. Under the law, an appeal may be taken from a temporary injunction. It is the desire of all parties in interest to have a final determination of the constitutionality of the long and short haul provisions reached as soon as practicable.

FAMOUS NOVELIST

WAS WOUNDED WHILE OUTSHOOTING PHEASANTS

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Lemberg says that Henryk Sloniewski, the novelist, author of "Quo Vadis," was shot while shooting pheasants yesterday.

The shooting was done by another of the party who aimed at a pheasant. Some of the shot lodged in the novelist's forehead near the left eye and his knee also was injured.

He is now in a hospital at Warsaw.

APPOINTMENT BY GOVERNOR

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The only appointment made by Gov. Foss at the meeting of the executive council today was that of Register of Probate Arthur M. Alger of Taunton to be judge of probate for Bristol county, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of William M. Fuller.

Mr. Alger is a cousin of U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

BIG REUNION

OF HOLY NAME SOCIETY OF IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Tonight will be a red letter night in the history of the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception parish. There will be a grand reunion held in the school hall, to which all members are invited. John W. McEvoy will be the speaker and there will be an entertainment program. Messrs. Callery and Cunningham of the local council, Knights of Columbus, will give a fine athletic exhibition and there will be attractions to please the members and their friends.

ESTABLISHED 1882

J.F. O'Donnell & Sons

UNDERTAKERS

Complete equipment for city or out-of-town funerals.

A chapel where services may be held or bodies kept when desired. Advice and information given.

Telephone: Office, 439-3; residence, 439-5.

318-324 MARKET STREET, COR. WORTHEN

One of the Winners

If you would be one of the winners in the battle of life, enlist a reserve for the emergency. Small but persistent saving creates a fund, the wise use of which, has often prevented failure and disaster.

Be prepared for the unexpected. Begin saving on your next pay day.

AT THE

MERRIMACK RIVER

SAVINGS BANK

417 MIDDLESEX STREET

NOTICE

Middlesex Co-operative Bank

The annual meeting of the shareholders of Middlesex Co-operative Bank will be held Friday evening, November 24th, 1911, in room 39, Central Block 53 Central street, Lowell, Mass., for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

WILLIAM D. BROWN, Clerk.
A semi-annual dividend at the rate of four and one-half per cent has been declared, making rate paid for the past year four and three-quarters per cent. Shares in series 39 are now on sale at the office of the Bank, 53 Central block and will be on sale without a line, until November 24th.

NOTICE

Special meeting of the Bricklayers' union, No. 34, will be held 22 Middle street, TONIGHT at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. Per order,

P. J. WARREN, Pres.

MONUMENTS AND MEMORIALS of all descriptions in granite, marble and bronze. Our manufacturing plant has the most modern power equipment and every labor saving device.

GUMB BROS.

Cor. Gorham and Anderson Sts. Near Edison Cemetery

Telephone 1614

STORY OF TRAGEDY

Alleged Confession of Spencer Read in Court Today

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—With the expectation of hearing the alleged confession of Bertram Spencer that he murdered Miss Martha Blackstone, the school teacher, on the night of March 31, 1910, an immense crowd today surged about the court here, where Spencer is being tried for his life. This confession which the police declare they secured from Spencer shortly after for his arrest, has never been made public. However, it has been authoritatively stated that Spencer in the confession laid bare his career for three years previous to his arrest, admitting that he was the man who caused a reign of terror throughout western Massachusetts by daring robberies and telling in detail of the killing of Miss Blackstone in the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow. It was intimated before the opening of the court that only the part of the alleged confession that related to the murder of Miss Blackstone would be read in the court today. As yet the prosecution has been unable to place Spencer in the Dow home on the night of the murder. The woman in the house at the time Miss Blackstone was shot down were unable to identify Spencer as the robber in

Continued on page four

JURORS TESTIFY

Hearing of the Palmer Case Was Resumed In Court Today

The third session of the hearing of also directed many questions to the testimony relative to the alleged legal indictment of Jackson Palmer for perjury by the grand jury, was opened at Popperell, who is a member of the before Judge John D. McLaughlin at grand jury, was the first witness called. The court house at East Cambridge this morning. Sherman L. Whipple, Gokey at the sittings of the grand jury, counsel for Jackson Palmer, conducted but heard nothing about a vote relative to the indictment of Jackson Palmer. Attorney John J. Higgins cross-examined the witnesses. The court

"At any time since disclosures were made to His Honor has the district attorney attempted to examine you in the grand jury room?" asked Mr. Whipple.

The court would not allow the question to be answered, but saved an exception for Mr. Whipple. District Attorney Higgins asked for the communication signed by the jurors and the court ordered the paper.

Continued on page four

INDEPENDENT DEALERS

Want to Intervene in Suit to Dissolve Tobacco Trust

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The filing today by independent tobacco dealers of a petition to intervene in the government's dissolution suit against the tobacco trust makes certain an appeal from the plan to the United States supreme court and may delay the dissolution of the trust. In the opinion of counsel in the case.

Should the independent's petition be granted by the circuit court the case will be taken to the supreme court by the protestants, who would then be parties to the suit, their counsel, Felix H. Levy, declared. Should the circuit court deny the independent's plea notwithstanding, he declared.

The petition bears the signature of the National Clear Leaf Tobacco Association and the Clear Manufacturers' Association of America. The independent dealers are vitally interested in the dissolution of the tobacco trust and base their plea to intervene on the grounds that "the decision will not, in substance and effect, conform to the requirements of the opinion and decree made in this cause by the United States supreme court."

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Man Was Killed, While Hunting Deer

BRISTOL, Vt., Nov. 15.—A few hours after the opening of the deer season, in this state today Charles Barnard was accidentally shot and killed by Charles Gove. Both men were deer hunting near here. Gove, who was walking behind Barnard, stumbled and fell. His rifle was discharged when it struck the ground, fatally wounding Barnard.

ENEMY REPULSED

Derna Was Attacked by Turks

TRIPOLI, Nov. 15.—A report from an Italian source says that Derna was attacked by the Turks last night but the enemy was repulsed. The Italian outposts at Tobruk were attacked about the same time with the same result. It is stated that it had been discovered that a large number of Italians are in a critical state as a consequence of wounds made by bullets and heavier projectiles which had been purposely mis-shaped in violation of the rules of war.

BADLY DAMAGED

TWO MASTED SCHOONER TOWED INTO PORT

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 15.—With her jibboom, bowsprit and headgear carried away the little two masted schooner General Scott of Calais was towed into port today by the Maine Coast Transportation Co.'s steamer Mohawk after the schooner and steamer had been in collision off Portland headlight last night. The schooner's railway and forward superstructure was demolished. Commanders of both craft disagreed on the cause of the accident. Captain Pray of the Mohawk claimed the schooner ran down the steamer, while Captain James Brown of the General Scott claimed just the opposite. A thorough investigation will be made. The schooner was not damaged below the waterline. The schooner will repair here before proceeding to Calais.

A Bit of Magic

There's a magic influence which stirs to life many an ancient apothecary shop.

Shadows disappear, vials glisten, perfumes are fragrant and good cheer reigns.

Druggists! Make your store attractive with electric light.

It works like magic.

LOWELL ELECTRIC
LIGHT CORP.

60 Central Street

C. H. HANSON & CO., Inc.

Auctioneers

Office, Rock Street, Lowell, Mass.

Mortgagee's Sale

OF THE WELL KNOWN
GALLAGHER HOUSE PROPERTY

BY PUBLIC AUCTION, ON THE PREMISES, 20 AND 22
WILLIAM STREET.

Tuesday, Nov. 21st, at 3 P. M.

The above described property will be sold as above stated. The Gallagher House is situated on the northerly side of William street containing about 1700.30 square feet of land and consists of a THREE-STORY BRICK BUILDING having a frontage of 23 feet on William street and a depth of 75 feet. The property has always been used for hotel purposes. The lower floor has been used as a public bar and kitchen. The two upper stories have thirteen sleeping rooms.

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, and other municipal assessments. Purchaser will be requested to deposit with, or secure to the auctioneer $300 when property is struck off. Other terms made known at time and place of sale.

Per order of Mortgagee.

Lowell Gas Coke Satisfies

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 11, 1911.

Lowell Gas Light Company,

Gentlemen:—

After using your Coke in my steam boiler for the last nine years, I can say that I am highly satisfied with it.

Yours truly,

(Signed) BENJAMIN STAVELEY,

29 Staveley Street.

THE BEEF PACKERS

Declare That the Sherman Anti-Trust Law is Void

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A further effort of the indicted Chicago meat packers to avoid trial and to have the Sherman anti-trust law declared unconstitutional and void was made yesterday.

The move was a surprise to the government and consisted in the surrender to the United States marshal of the packers, and an immediate appeal to United States Circuit Judge C. C. Kohlman for a writ of habeas corpus. The arguments will be heard on Thursday.

The request for a decision on the constitutionality of the law before trial was said to have been taken as a necessary step to carry the case before the United States supreme court without the cost of delay of a trial. Violations of the fifth, sixth and eighth amendments to the United States constitution, ambiguity and alleged failure of the act either to create an offense against the government or so to define what is set up as an offense, in a manner that would enable the citizen to know when he is charged against the Sherman law as the law was recently interpreted by the United States supreme court in the Standard Oil and the Tobacco cases.

Attorney John S. Miller, who, as chief of counsel for the packers, conducted today's court action, characterized the Sherman anti-trust law as a "net large enough to catch all possible offenders and leaves it to the courts to step in and say who rightfully can be detained and who set at large."

Nine Packers in Custody

Of the 10 packers indicted all but J. Ogden Armour were temporarily in custody while the petition was heard. The nine were:

Louis E. Swift, president; Edward B. Swift, vice president; and Charles H. Swift and Francis Fowler, directors, of Swift & Co.

Edward Tilden, president National Packing company.

Arthur Meeker, general manager, and Thomas J. Connors, director, of Armour & Co.

Edward Morris, president, and Louis H. Heyman, manager of Morris & Co.

The petition for a writ of habeas corpus contained little material other than the argument used by the packers before the United States district Judge Carpenter when they sought to have the indictments quashed, and later in the arguments denouncing to the court's decision in the indictment controversy.

It goes into more detail in the allegation of insufficiency of the statute to set up a crime, and lays more stress on what the attorneys for the packers characterize as the citizens' inability to know whether he is a law-breaker or not before a jury trial. Along this latter line the petition said:

"The alleged criminality of the alleged transactions complained of in the indictments will depend entirely upon a particular jury's view of the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the particular case; it will depend not on any standard created by the law which may be known in advance, but on one that may be created by the whim, prejudice or arbitrary views of a jury."

"There is no set standard fixed, or attempted to be fixed, to guide the citizen to a knowledge of his guilt or innocence of an offense charge before it has been adjudicated."

"The act violates the sixth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which requires that the petitioners severally shall be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation."

It further is charged that the act attempts to establish a crime which is criminal, but civil in its nature. The large number of witnesses necessary to trace the multitudinous transactions of a national business, is pointed out as an indication of the great cost a trial will impose, both to the defense and to the prosecution.

Government attorneys were cut off from much of the results of their long investigation into the meat packing industry, as, instead of a trial on evidence, the fight, for a time at least, must be conducted purely as an argument of law.

It thus becomes not a question as to the guilt or innocence of the packers, but a plain attack on the validity of the Sherman act, according to attorneys for the packers. They explain their position, briefly, thus: The supreme court in the tobacco and oil cases, converted the Sherman law into an illegal enactment, since the court, by placing each individual or corporation on a standard of its own, built up on its peculiar individual acts, took away from all individuals the possibility of knowing how their acts were to be viewed by a jury in the light of reason."

The trial, since the decision of what constituted crime as contrary to the eighth amendment of the federal constitution. In short, the petition, say the attorneys, charges the supreme court interpretation with nullifying the Sherman law, in spite of the court's act in the tobacco and oil cases. The American Tobacco company and the Standard Oil company. Only an adverse decision to the packers' contention by the United States supreme court will give the government attorneys an opportunity to use the material they have gathered for the prosecution. In the meantime, the trial, scheduled for Monday of next week, probably will be postponed, pending the decision of the higher courts on the new question.

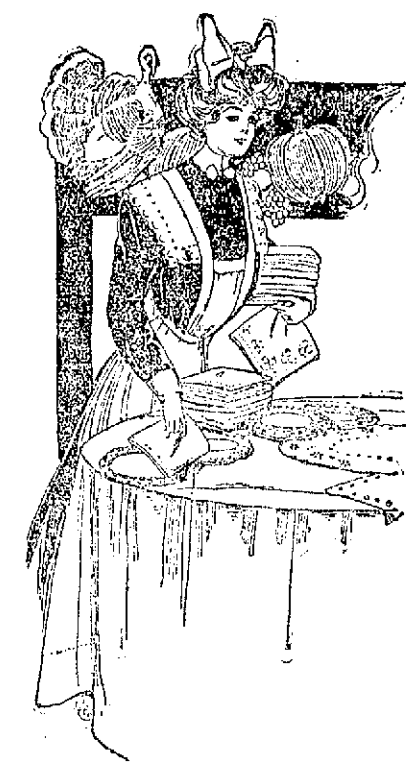

Satisfaction or
Your Money Back.

The Bon Marche

DRY GOODS CO.

Shop With Us
or
We Both Lose.

United Workers of First Universalist Church Opened a Food Sale at Our Store Today at 10 o'Clock

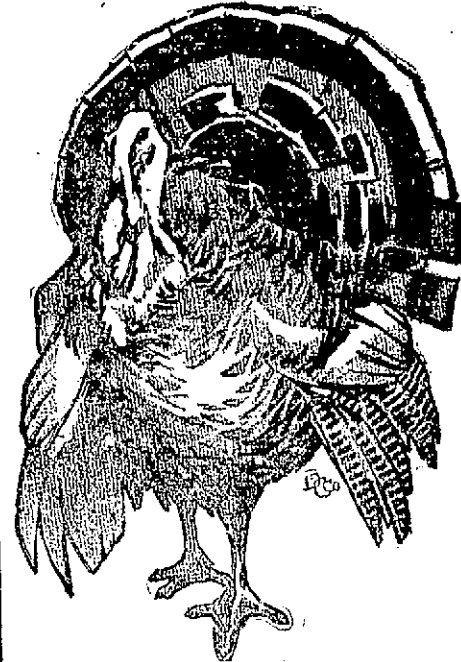

OUR ANNUAL SHOWING

OF

Thanksgiving LINENS

Opened Today

IT IS THE LARGEST AND BEST DISPLAY WE HAVE EVER HAD.
PRICES ARE RIGHT

All Linens Purchased in This Sale Hemmed
FREE

DAMASKS

Mercerized Damask—58 inches wide, 10 very attractive patterns, at, per yard... 25c

Mercerized Damask—64 inches wide, 8 different patterns in dots and floral designs, at, per yard... 39c

Mercerized Damask—66 inches wide, extra heavy, full bleached, 8 pretty patterns, at, per yard... 49c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—62 inches wide, all pure linen, handsome designs, at, per yard... 50c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—68 and 72 inches wide, all pure linen, medium and heavy weight, choice designs, in Irish and German linen, at, per yard... 75c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, in all pure linen, in new floral designs, a good heavy quality, in Irish and German linen, at, per yard... 98c

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, all pure linen, in a splendid range of patterns, in dots and floral designs, at, per yard... $1.25

Bleached and Silver Bleached Damask—72 inches wide, all pure linen, in a large assortment of patterns, extra heavy quality, at, per yard... $1.49

PATTERN CLOTHS AND NAPKINS
Pattern Cloths—Very best of Irish linen, for square or round tables, borders all around in dots and floral designs, in a large assortment of patterns, do not cost any more than the same goods by the yard for same quality:

72x72 in. pattern cloths, $2.98 and $3.49

72x90 in. pattern cloths, $3.49 and $3.98

72x108 in. pattern cloths, $3.98 and $4.49

Napkins to Match Above Cloths
5-8x5-8 napkins, $2.98 and $3.49

3-4x3-4 napkins, $2.98, $3.98, $4.25

TRAY CLOTHS

Fringed Tray Cloths—All pure linen, assortment of patterns, at, each... 10c

Mercerized Tray Cloths—18x27 size, hemmed or scalloped edges, handsome patterns, at, each... 19c

Tray Cloths—18x27, all pure linen, hemstitched in dots and floral designs, in Irish and German linen, extra quality, at, each... 25c, 39c, 50c, 75c, 98c, $1.25

ODD TABLE CLOTHS

Borders all around, good quality, assorted designs, for round or square tables, in all linen and mercerized:

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... 69c

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... 79c

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... 89c

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... 98c

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... $1.25

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemmed, each... $1.49

8-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each... $1.49

10-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each... $1.75

12-4 mercerized cloth, hemstitched, each... $1.98

10-4 silver bleached linen cloth, hemstitched, each... $1.50

10-4 silver bleached linen cloth, hemstitched, each... $1.75

8-4 fringed all linen cloth, each... $1.25

10-4 fringed all linen cloth, each... $1.98

TOWELS

A Large Assortment of fancy, plain, hemstitched and plain hem huckabuck; also fringed and hemstitched damask towels, with colored borders; also plain white, all pure linen, at, each... 25c

Plain and Fancy fringed and hemstitched huckabuck and damask towels; also with wreaths for initial, all pure German linen, at, each... 39c

Plain and Fancy fringed and hemstitched huckabuck and damask towels; also with wreaths for initial, all pure German linen, at, each... 39c

Checked Glass Toweling

16 and 17 in. wide linen and all linen check Toweling, for

TEA CLOTHS

Tea Cloths—36x36 in., 45x45 in., 54x51 in., hemstitched, border all around, very handsome patterns, in floral designs, very fine linen, at each... 98c, $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.98

ODD NAPKINS

Hemstitched and Unhemmed Napkins—Every thread pure linen, a variety of sizes and patterns: ...

15 in. hemstitched napkins, doz. $2.98, $3.49, $3.98, $4.98

18 in. unhemmed napkins, bleached, per doz. 79c, 98c, $1.25, $1.49

20 in. unhemmed napkins, bleached, per doz. 98c, $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.98, $3.49, $3.98, $4.49

20 in. silver bleached napkins, doz. $1.49, $1.98, $2.49

22 in. unhemmed bleached napkins, per doz. $1.25, $1.49, $1.98, $2.25, $2.98, $3.49, $3.98

24 in. bleached napkins, per doz. $1.50, $1.98, $2.49, $2.98, $3.98, $4.98

Checked Glass Toweling

16 and 17 in. wide linen and all linen check Toweling, for glass, in 10 different sizes, checks in red or blue, at, per yard 6 1/4c, 8c, 10c, 12 1/2c

CRASH TOWELING

17 and 18 in. wide in red, blue or white borders, good heavy quality, for dish, roller or hand towels, at, yard 8c, 10c, 12 1/2c, 15c, 19c, 25c

TABLE SETS

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, all pure linen, hemmed ready for use, at per set... $2.69

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, silver bleached, all pure linen, hemstitched, ready for use, a large assortment to choose from, at per set... $2.98

10-4 table set, mercerized, cloth and napkins to match, full bleached, hemmed, assorted design, at, per set, $3.25

10-4 table set, cloth and napkins to match, in a heavy weight and hemstitched, handsome designs, at, per set... $4.98

10-4 table sets, cloths and napkins to match, hemstitched, borders all around, all new designs, double satin damask, at, set... $12.99

10-4 table sets, cloth and napkins to match, extra heavy, German linen, handsome patterns, borders all around, all new designs, double damask, in plain satin and floral designs, at, per set, $19.98, $10.98, $12.50, $15.98, $17.98

All above sets put up in nice, neat boxes free.

LABOR DELEGATES

Rally to the Support of McNamara Brothers

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—"International insurrection against aristocratic, governmental and judicial tyranny" is the way James Duncan, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, described "a craving for better conditions" before that organization yesterday.

This expression came from Mr. Duncan when describing labor conditions in Europe, on which he spoke for two hours yesterday afternoon. He consumed all the morning session by reading the voluminous report of the executive council.

For the next two days committees will engage the attention of the delegates. Prof. Gompers last evening invited them to offer any resolutions they had and in a few minutes the hopper was swamped. Action must be taken on every one of them.

Recent conviction for conspiracy of three officers of the Cigar makers' union at Tampa, because they advised their fellow workmen not to return to work was condemned by the executive council yesterday.

"Outrages as they occurred in Tampa," declared the council, "tend to intensify the feeling among labor people that 'equality before the law' is a sham and delusion."

Samuel Gompers sent a telegram to the McNamara brothers at Los Angeles yesterday acknowledging receipt of a message from them.

President Gompers of the McNamara may be assured of the labor delegates' belief in their innocence and pledges continued moral and financial support.

Reinstatement of the carpenters and joiners and the steam and hot-water fitters and helpers suspended from the building trades department of the federation at the St. Louis convention last year was recommended by the executive council.

The committee also recommended that steps be taken to unite the warring McNamara and Reid factions of the electrical workers.

Prospects that the strike of boiler-makers in the American Locomotive works at Schenectady would involve the allied crafts in that city in a sympathetic strike, caused several international officers of the federation to leave the convention yesterday for Schenectady.

DR. LEONHARDT'S DISCOVERY HEM-ROID WILL INTEREST EVERY PERSON WHO HAS PILES.

The public is indebted to Dr. J. S. Leonard of Lincoln, Neb., for years of study of the treatment of piles, and for his discovery of a successful remedy, taken inwardly, which liberates the stagnant blood circulation and reduces the swollen vessels. Dr. Leonard's prescription is HEM-ROID, sold by Carter & Shorburn Co., Lowell, Mass., and all druggists at $1 for 21 days' treatment. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Dr. Leonard, Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

NEW PRIMARY LAW

To be Presented in the Legislature

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—A new primary law is being drafted which will abolish the enrollment system which caused more friction last year than ever before. The new law will be proposed by a combination of republicans and democrats under the leadership of David L. Walsh of Hingham, democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, and Mayor Fitzgerald. Chairman John M. Minton of the Boston board of elections has been in consultation with Mr. Walsh on the matter, and the law is already in shape.

Under the present system the voter is compelled to choose a party ballot at the primary. Under the new law he would be given a ballot with the names of all candidates upon it and he would be able to vote for one man as one party nominee of another party.

But he will be required to vote for no more than one man for the nomination of any one office. So great did the feeling develop against the enrollment law this year that in several places the committees were reluctant to have checkers present to mark off the designation of the voter.

SENATOR NEWLANDS

TO EXPLAIN BILL FOR INTER-STATE TRADE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The senate committee on inter-state commerce today entered upon a series of hearings which are expected to have an important bearing upon future legislation relating to the "big business" and commerce between the states. Senator Newlands of Nevada was the first witness on the list and his testimony was expected to deal exclusively with his bill providing for an inter-state trade commission. It was understood, however, that the senator would be expected to proceed only until other witnesses were available.

The committee is authorized to enter on the broadest scope of inquiry, covering the entire subject of inter-state commerce. The authorization had its inception largely in the supreme court's decision in the Standard Oil case, which had the effect of reading the word "reasonable" into the anti-trust law. The idea was that the meaning of the law should be set forth clearly in the statute itself and not left dependent on an interpretation by the court.

PRES. MACLAURIN

THREATENS TO REMOVE TECHNOLOGY TO SPRINGFIELD

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—President Richard C. MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, last night threatened to move the college to Springfield, unless the opposition ceases, which is being manifested by Cambridge manufacturers and engineers. At a joint conference of the Cambridge city council and board of aldermen, President MacLaurin stated that the institution would not come to Cambridge unless it was entirely welcome, and declared that land and money had been offered in Springfield as an inducement to remove to that city.

His remarks came as a surprise, following a 2-hour discussion of whether or not Amherst street, which runs from Ames street to Massachusetts avenue, should be closed.

THE SODEN SUIT

Said to Have Been Settled in Private

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The $500,000 suit for the alienation of his wife's affections brought by Frederick L. Small, a stock trader, against Arthur H. Soden, the former baseball magnate, has been privately settled out of court. The amount paid is said to be about $15,000.

The ad damnum named in this alienation suit is the largest by many thousands of dollars in the history of the Massachusetts courts.

Because of the character of the charges Small made against Soden, Judge Brown refused to hear the suit in the superior court last spring. Ex-

MAN ELECTROCUTED

Trolley Car Conductor Killed Almost Instantly

NEW LONDON, Nov. 15.—Maurice Spottswood, a trolley car conductor, was electrocuted today in this city on attempting to use the company's telephone system to report a crossing of the city electric light wire which had set fire to a pole in the up-town district. The telephone is located on a pole on the sidewalk. Spottswood had secured connection and had started to talk when the current from the trolley wire entered the telephone and he was hurled to the ground. Physicians were called and it was found that he had

HOW TO TREAT PIMPLES

It is really remarkable how Cadum, the new remedy, causes pimples to disappear. Bad cases are frequently relieved in a few days. Cadum causes pimples to dry up and fall off leaving the skin soft and smooth. Pimples are a disease of the skin, and are not caused by bad blood, as many people suppose. Cadum helps these disgusting blemishes because it is applied direct to the trouble. It is an antiseptic and prevents infection from disease germs. Cadum should be immediately applied to a pimple scratch, sore or wound, as neglect of these small troubles sometimes proves serious. At all druggists, 10c and 25c.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

TOILETINE

Soothes and Heals
Loss of Voice, sore throat or hoarseness are quickly relieved by a few soundings of Toiletine. It is pleasant to take, entirely free from drugs and contains only what will benefit the system. Your money cheerfully refunded if Toiletine does not satisfy you. All druggists 25 cents.

Sample bottle for three 2 cent stamps.
THE TOILETINE COMPANY
13 Hope Street Greenfield, Mass.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

CHALIFOUX'S

BARGAINLAND

BASEMENT

- LADIES' FLANNELETTE GOWNS in assorted stripes, made of extra heavy materials..... 69c
- Oversizes in LADIES' FLANNELETTE GOWNS, plain white or fancy stripes, braid trimmed, double yoke..... 98c
- Extra Heavy Weight FLANNELETTE GOWNS in an assortment of colors, all sizes, round neck..... 49c
- CHILDREN'S FLANNELETTE SLEEPING GOWNS, cut very full, button high in neck..... 29c
- P. N. CORSETS for medium and stout people, garters attached, draw string..... 69c, 98c, $1.49
- CHILDREN'S CORSET WAISTS, different styles, all sizes..... 12 1/2c, 24c
- LADIES' VERY HEAVY FLEECE LINED VESTS and PANTS..... 24c
- LADIES' BLACK WOOL HOSE, extra heavy, in plain and 2-1 rib..... 19c
- LADIES' FINE CASHMERE HOSE, black only, gray toe and heel..... 39c
- LADIES' BLACK FLEECE LINED HOSE, ribbed top, extra size..... 15c
- CHILDREN'S HEAVY COTTON FLEECE HOSE, worth 20c..... 12 1/2c

"Extra Specials" for Thursday

LADIES' GLOVES

LADIES' CASHMERE GLOVES, doe lined, all colors and sizes. Regular price 39c. Thursday only

19c

Ladies' Handkerchiefs

100 Dozen LADIES' HANDKERCHIEFS, hem-stitched, made of good quality material, good size. Regular price 5c. Thursday only

1c

TEA APRONS

25 Dozen LADIES' TEA APRONS, made of cross bar muslin and fine lawn, trimmed with Hamburg. Worth 25c. Thursday only

9c

Ladies' Comfort Shoes

Made of VICI and GLOVE KID, lace and button, plain toe and patent tip, rubber and leather heels, sizes 4, 4 1-2 and 5 only. Worth $2.50 and $3.00. Thursday only

$1.39

- MISSSES' FINE RIB HOSE, fast black..... 10c
- BOYS' ALL WOOL HOSE, very heavy, different ribs, worth 25c..... 17c
- CHILDREN'S CARACUL COATS, black, fancy trimmed, worth $7..... $4.98
- CHILDREN'S CARACUL BONNETS, assorted colors and styles, worth $1.00 and $1.50..... 69c, 98c
- MISSSES' CARACUL COATS, sizes 8 to 16, full length, quilted lining..... $3.98 to $5.98
- CHILDREN'S SHOES, box calf and vici kid, blucher cut, sizes 5 to 8, worth $1.00..... 75c
- LADIES' FELT SHOES, leather foxed, plain toes, low heels, worth $1.25..... 99c
- WOMEN'S JULIETTES, vici kid, patent tip, with rubber heels, worth $1.00..... 79c
- MISSSES' VIVI KID BUTTON, with patent tip and cuff, 10 buttons, with tassel, worth $1.50..... $1.23
- MEN'S VELVET HOUSE SLIPPERS, worth 65c..... 49c

MURDER PREVENTED

Girl Sent Note of Warning to Intended Victim

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 15.—"If you value your life don't carry any money tonight or don't leave your place of business alone."

"The man whom I love is concerned in this and I am warning you to save him from committing murder. Please destroy quick."

Such was the alarming note received on Saturday by Samuel Demarest, a merchant on Main street.

Mrs. Irene Willchurast Burns, 19 years old, wrote it. The man she loves, or thinks she does, for she seems to be rather emotional, is Charles Lessemann.

Demarest took the note to the police and they arrested Mrs. Burns, Michael

POSTAL SAVINGS

Plans Arranged to Protect the System

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—As the result of the first sale of postal savings bonds in New York recently, at the low rate of 92.5, the trustees of the postal savings banks are considering the adoption of prompt methods to maintain the securities at their face value. They will announce their willingsness to have these bonds at par the 30 cent of postal savings deposits which the law places at their disposal for investment "in bonds or other securities of the United States."

This, it is pointed out, would virtually insure 100 cents on the dollar to the holders of these bonds at the time during the twenty years' life of the securities. The low price for which the first bonds were sold created surprise in government financial circles. If 92.5 could be accepted as a criterion of the market value of the investment, the trustees believed the success of the postal savings system, designed to bring into the open the hoardings of timid savers and encourage saving among all classes, would in large measure be placed in jeopardy.

While the bonds are as good as gold at maturity, it could hardly be expected, it is said, that there would be any extensive investment in them if there was a probability that, in case a holder had to surrender them before the expiration of twenty years, he would lose 7 1/2 per cent. of his principal.

If the 30 per cent. at the disposal of the trustees should be insufficient at any time to maintain the parity of outstanding bonds, it is pointed out that the law authorizes the president to direct the withdrawal of 65 per cent. or all but 5 per cent. of the remainder, for investment in bonds or other securities of the United States, at the discretion of the general welfare and interests of the United States so require.

Your coupon or 10c. admits to Foresters' hall, Wednesday evening.

TRIED SUICIDE

NASHUA GIRL TOOK A DOSE OF CHLOROFORM

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 15.—Miss Lilla G. Peck, aged 18, a stenographer in the employ of the Improved Paper Machinery company, took poison yesterday in her room at a house on East Pearl street where she had engaged lodgings Monday evening.

People in the house discovered the girl suffering severely and summoned Dr. William E. Reed and Dr. Harry G. Mygatt. They gave the sufferer what immediate relief they could and she was removed to the Nashua hospital. It was found she had taken a morphine solution and chloroform.

Her health is assigned as the cause of her act. She has a mother who has remarried, two brothers and another sister. The family live at 35 Temple street, having recently moved from William street. Miss Peck is spoken of highly by her employers and acquaintances.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

OBJECTIONS MADE

Against Proposed Stable in Cunningham St.

The members of the board of health held a meeting late yesterday afternoon and heard remonstrants to the petition of Mrs. Bessie Gray for the erection of a stable for 20 horses in Cunningham street.

John J. Gray appeared for the petitioner and he told the board that the building would be a thoroughly modern structure, with all up-to-date connections and appliances.

The first remonstrant was Miss Rita C. Abbott, representing an estate. She considered the stable would prove a nuisance, and its erection would mean a depreciation in the value of the property nearby. Mrs. John Eder said she lives within 80 feet of the proposed barn and owns 10,000 square feet of land in the vicinity. She said the present barn is a nuisance especially in the summer months, and that the erection of a new and larger one would make things worse.

Mrs. Ernest Voessner and Curtis McEwan also objected to the granting of a permit for the proposed barn.

Because of the absence of the chairman of the board, the matter was left on the table until the next meeting. A petition from residents of Woodward avenue, objecting to the dumping of refuse nearby, was read. Alder Bates said Supt. Putnam of the street department had agreed to stop it.

R. H. Flynn appeared and asked that he be given a permit to erect a stable in Powell street. After an explanation about what he would agree to do, the permit was granted.

Follow Gilmore, Foresters hall, Wednesday evening.

LICENSE BOARD

WILL ALLOW LIQUOR DEALERS TO DISTRIBUTE GIFTS

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The licensing board at police headquarters yesterday issued two notices to Boston liquor dealers, one of them being issued in an attempt to prevent a rule previously issued from doing financial injury to many license holders.

On Oct. 9 the board issued a notice forbidding the giving of any gift, bonus or rebate with a purchase of liquor.

Later it was learned that a number of dealers had contracted for hundreds of dollars' worth of calendars, card cases, corkscrews, etched whiskey glasses for Christmas presents to old customers.

Rather than do an injustice by pressing a rule that is not vital in any way, the board has deferred the imposing of the rule until the 1st of February, provided the only gifts given are those already contracted for. The exemption, however, does not apply to coupons, trading stamps or rebate checks.

The other order issued yesterday referred to the giving away of sample or regular bottles of liquor as Christmas or Thanksgiving trade gifts.

This order is more severe this year, because it forbids the gift of even the tiny "nips" in miniature bottles containing one small drink, and because it fixes the ban from Nov. 27 to Jan. 2, thus including Thanksgiving, which heretofore has been exempted.

INTERESTING MEETING

A very interesting meeting of the Band T. club was held at the home of Miss Mollie Bradley, Tuesday evening. Much business of importance was transacted and a social hour passed. There were vocal selections by Howard Grant and George Seales of Nashua and recitations by Gilbert Manning. Catherine Delany spoke briefly on "Votes for Women." The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Elizabeth Higgins, Walnut street.

YOUNG BURGLAR

Told Police He Made Many Breaks

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The choir boy face of Raymond Beck, a 14-year-old Brooklyn boy, blue eyed and golden haired, made burglary so easy that he told the police today he had robbed so many places he could not remember them all. When the police had a hurried search of the city records they had directed them they expect to learn more about his exploits. Raymond was arrested last night in a theatre. His love of the footlights caused him to use a stolen ticket and this led to his detection. Between sobs the lad confessed a career of thievery which the police say is without parallel for one so young.

A LIGHT VOTE

WAS CAST AT THE PRIMARIES IN HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, Nov. 15.—The smallest vote that has ever been cast since Haverhill adopted its new municipal rule four years ago was polled yesterday in the preliminary election, only 1507 of the 1900 registered voters taking part.

This is about one-fourth the number that has participated in the primaries in the past three years. Apathy prevailed as the only contest was to obtain enough votes to qualify for school committee.

Only two candidates, George I. Davis and Dr. E. H. Fournelle, filed nomination papers for the school board, and yesterday friends wrote in the name of John W. Titton, whose term expires this year, and who has always refused to take out nomination papers, friends having looked after this. He polled 140 votes in this way, thus qualifying for the city election on Dec. 5.

R. B. Gardner, the other member of the school board, whose term expires this year, used stickers, having friends at each polling place, and he also qualified, polling 607 votes. The two present members will contest at the regular election with Davis and Fournelle. There were only four aldermanic candidates and they each qualified. Ex-Supt. of Schools Albert L. Barrott polling the highest vote, with Supt. of Streets Ralph D. Hood second. Alderman U. A. Killam, who seeks re-election, was third and Alderman Joe W. Bean was low man with 470.

ROSE FINARDI

MARRIED THE MAN SHE ATTEMPTED TO KILL

FITCHBURG, Nov. 15.—Rose Finardi, the woman who through jealousy, it is alleged, attempted to take the life of Pio Mallo, who was her lover, was yesterday released from the house of correction at Worcester upon sureties furnished by the man whose life it is alleged, she attempted by shooting on Oct. 25, and later she accompanied him to the house of a clergyman, where the couple were married.

The Finardi woman has been waiting the action of the grand jury since she pleaded guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Pio Mallo.

The couple returned to this city last night. A reception was tendered them by their friends. Mallo said that he would do everything possible to have the charge against his wife quashed when it came up for trial.

GIRL DROWNED

LITTLE ONE FELL INTO A MILL TRENCH

UNBRIDGE, Nov. 15.—Deatrice, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Girard of North Unbridge, was drowned yesterday afternoon. In company with Clifford Robitseau and Adeline Guerin, both aged 5, she was playing near a mill trench which provides water power for the North Unbridge cotton mills. The little girls were walking on a wall near the highway and the Girard girl fell in. The gates were closed by the mill officials and the body was found in half an hour. Dr. William E. Bulmer of Whitinsville, medical examiner, was notified and gave the cause of death as accidental drowning.

THE ANTI-TRUST LAW

Butler Ames Tells President it Should be Repealed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Representative Butler Ames, who was unable to see the president Monday, spent some time with him yesterday. The object of Mr. Ames' call was to urge the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law. The president and he held diametrically opposed views on the subject, and Mr. Ames left without convincing the president that his view is the correct one.

Mr. Ames is opposed to competition, which, he told the president, is ruinous to the manufacturer. He cited the case of his grandfather, Gen. Butler, who, he said, was nearly brought to ruin by the underselling on the part of rival arms manufacturers. Mr. Ames told the president that his grandfather's rivals kept the fight on for 13 years, and during that time Gen. Butler was forced to support his factory with the income he derived from his law practice.

Upon leaving the White House Mr. Ames expressed the opinion that the manufacturers of New England were not greatly alarmed over the tariff situation.

"They do not feel that they have anything to fear from a republican president," said Mr. Ames. "The manufacturers are confident that the president will not sign tariff bills that are not based on the reports of the tariff board. If they maintain the attitude they assumed last session, the democrats will pay no attention to the tariff board, and in that event no tariff legislation is probable at the coming session."

"If, however, legislation based on the reports of the tariff board is passed, the manufacturers will not object. They have confidence in the tariff board, which they know is composed of honest men. If a fair and unbiased board of experts recommends tariff revision, either up or down, the New England manufacturers are willing to abide by their decision."

FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. Anna Woods Victim in Nashua

NASHUA, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Anna Woods, aged 45, was fatally burned last evening at her lodgings, at the corner of West Hollis and Elm streets. Fire is thought to have communicated to the bed clothes from a stove near the bed, as an elbow of the stove-pipe was off when the firemen reached the room.

Mrs. Woods ran out into the hall crying for help. George Barton, employed in a barber shop on the street floor, was the first to come to the assistance of the woman. He, with George Terris and Fred Bourassa, assisted her to the tenement of Louis Landry. An alarm of fire had been rung in and an ambulance called. Firemen bore Mrs. Woods to the ambulance and she was conveyed to the Nashua hospital.

The building, which is owned by George and Nellie Winn, was only slightly damaged.

Mrs. Woods had just returned from a hotel at Bethlehem, N. H., where she had been employed through the season.

10c Elcho Cigars

Will satisfy you or your money refunded.

Driscoll & Fitzgerald

ELCHO CIGARS FOR SALE IN LOWELL BY

Riker-Jaynes Drug Co., 119 Merrimack St.

H. D. Brown, 112 Central St.

Henry F. Carr, 98 Gorham St.

Falls & Burkinshaw, 416 Middlesex St.

J. J. Gallagher, Merrimack St.

F. J. N. Luchessa, 498 Middlesex St.

Samuel Scott, 206 Middlesex St.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company desires to remind its subscribers that the 20 days allowed in which to pay the service bills expire

NOVEMBER 20

Please remit by check or call at
254 CENTRAL STREET
LOWELL, MASS.

SAYS THIS STOPPED

DANDRUFF QUICKLY

From Worcester Post, "OVERHEARD AT THE PLAY." Column.

"I wish I could get rid of dandruff. I'm fairly desperate. I heard a woman say the other night, 'I shampoo my head twice a week but it is back again as bad as ever. How on earth do you keep your head so clean, and free from dandruff?' 'Easily,' her friend replied, 'and I use nothing but plain Lavona de compose such as any druggist sells, mixed with Bay Rum and twice daily.'

Lavona is the technical or pharmaceutical name for the pure concentrated extract of the Peruvian shrub of Peru, which any physician can tell you is unequalled as a hair and scalp cleanser and invigorator. I used to have dandruff quite as badly as you before trying it but after using it a week I found every trace gone and it has never returned. I simply go to the drug store and buy 1 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona de compose and one-half oz. of Menthol Crystals, mix them together and allow them to stand for an hour. I use this mixture night and morning and rub briskly all through my hair and into the scalp with my finger tips. I spent dollars for every advertised hair tonic and hair wash I read about until some time ago a friend handed me this simple inexpensive home recipe and suggested that I try it. Lavona has one drawback in my case. I find it grows hard to wash out, so I use it with a little kerosene, which I apply wherever applied, so if you use it be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired. It is more bad headed men don't use it."

LAVONA de

COMPOSEE

Falling Hair, Dandruff, Itching Scalp, Restored Natural Color to Gray Hair, Without Dyes. Sold in Lowell at Riker-Jaynes drug store.

A.G. POLLARD CO.

THE STORE FOR THRIFTY PEOPLE

THE SELLING OF

Fancy Art Silks and Satins

15,000 YARDS ARE OFFERED AT MUCH LESS THAN HALF

For all sorts of Fancy Work, Kimonos, Draperies and Coverings. All the newest designs and colorings.

SILKS - 39c Yard

Regular Price 89c to $1.25

SATINS - 49c Yard

Regular Price 98c to $1.50

EAST SECTION

SECOND FLOOR

CAKE SALE TODAY

BY THE LADIES OF THE FIFTH ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

MERRIMACK STREET

CENTRE TABLES

LIVELY PARTY SCRAP

Between Republicans and Democrats in Common Council

Republicans claim that meeting adjourned—Democrats hold that adjournment was illegal, and they counted in those present but not voting to make a quorum, then elected two officials.

Who is city solicitor—William W. Duncan or J. Joseph Honessy?
Who is inspector of public buildings—James Dow or John W. O'Hara?
These two questions bobbed up in a night and the common council is responsible for the dilemma.

The council met last night and played a double header. It was a strenuous night and now it remains for the parliamentarians, politicians and lawyers to straighten things out.

The trouble started when President Elliott insisted upon putting a motion to adjourn before notifying the board of aldermen that the council was to adjourn. Under the rules the aldermen should have been notified. The matter is governed by joint rule number 18. It reads as follows: "When both boards are in session at the same time, neither shall adjourn without giving notice to the other of its intention."

It was Councilman Bowers who moved adjournment and the democrats objected principally upon the grounds that the aldermen had not been notified. The vote to adjourn was announced, carried and the vote was counted. A rising vote was called for and the clerk said it was 14 to 12 in favor of adjournment.

Clerk Dowling was asked to serve as clerk but refused on the ground that there was no quorum present. He said if there was a quorum present he would be obliged to stay.

When the president left the chair, Councilman Gargan replaced him and Councilman Gargan took the clerk's place. They were voted in and then it was moved to take a vote for the election of an inspector of lands and buildings. There were nine men voting, Messrs. Coughlin, Gargan, Brady, Donohue, Tracey, Corbett, Connors, and Bowers.

Continued to page seven

STORY OF TRAGEDY

Continued

their home because the intruder was masked.

Only four or five more witnesses for the prosecution awaited an opportunity to testify when the doors of the courtroom were thrown open today and it was expected that the direct testimony would be completed in time for the opening address of the defense by the jury by Counsel Young. He will sketch the life of his client for the purpose of showing that Spencer was insane at the time of the murder.

The confession of Spencer, alleged to have been secured by the police, was given in detail by Captain Boyle of the police department on the witness stand almost immediately after the court was called to order. Captain Boyle testified that in his confession Spencer said that he believed he was surrounded by persons on all sides while in the Dow home and thinking that the only way he could escape capture was to shoot his way out, he followed that plan. Throughout the testimony of the police captain the accused man remained calm, in contrast to his nervousness of yesterday. His mother, however, was apparently greatly agitated and wept while the confession was being read.

Captain Boyle said that the alleged confession by Spencer was made on the day after his arrest, Spencer saying that "his conscience troubled him."

The captain said that Spencer talked freely regarding his career, knowing that he said was to be used against him.

Captain Boyle said that Spencer stated that in his early youth his father struck him over the head with the butt of a whip, leaving him lying unconscious and bleeding. He claimed that ever since that injury he had a tendency toward stammer and had stammered continually until the time of his arrest. The long list of crimes that the defendant is alleged to have committed was not read by the captain.

Telling of the night of the tragedy, the defendant says in his alleged confession that he left his home about 7 p. m. and shortly afterward was in the vicinity of the Dow home. After removing his outside clothing and disguising himself, Spencer entered the Dow home by securing entrance to an unlocked window. Walking through several unoccupied rooms he came to a doorway leading to a room in which four women were seated. Spencer went into the room and demanded money. He said that the women screamed and jumped up, one grabbing hold of him and another seizing a chair. He thought that he was being seized and all sides and felt sure that the house was surrounded on the outside. Believing that he could escape only by shooting his way out, Spencer pulled his revolver and fired. He then ran out of the house, secured his street clothes and made his way home through side streets.

In his alleged confession Spencer said he got home at about nine o'clock. Examining his revolver, he found there were two empty shells in the weapon. He cleaned and reloaded the weapon and went to bed, sleeping all night. He went to his work the next day as usual and continued to do so until he was arrested five days after the murder.

"Send me to Siberia or anywhere you see fit except to the electric chair," these words were uttered by Spencer

REV. FR. HARKINS

PASTOR OF ST. MARGARET'S ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

Rev. Fr. Harkins who has been in St. John's hospital from a severe attack of illness is now at home and on the road to recovery. He is much disappointed at being unable to attend the party by the people of his parish in the interior of St. Margaret's church is progressing rapidly.

PHYSICAL HYGIENE

LECTURE AT Y. M. C. A. HALL TONIGHT

Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. hall, Dr. William W. Jones will deliver a talk to men upon physical hygiene. The lecture will open at 7.30 o'clock and at its conclusion those who attend will witness an exhibition by the gymnasium class. Next week, Dr. Simpson will lecture upon the hygiene of the employed.

HOMEMARKET CLUB

WILL NOT CONTRIBUTE TO POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Improved instead of new legislation was the keynote of the annual address of President W. B. Dowse of the Homemarket club at the yearly gathering of the leading high protection organization of New England in this city today. One of the most important actions of the club was the adoption of a by-law prohibiting the giving of the club's funds to political organizations. Mr. Dowse was re-elected president and two vacancies on the board of directors caused by the death of L. M. Cousins of Portland and Col. C. H. Child of Providence, were filled by the selection of W. K. Dana of Westbrook and Charles Slason of Providence.

In his address President Dowse questioned whether before trying new legislation it would not be a good idea to overthrow the present stock and discard the useless and injurious.

"It is not new legislation that we need," he declared, "but improved legislation. The members of this club are the real progressives because their policies are essential to progress and because they believe in development and not destruction."

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Christopher Cosgrove and Miss Emma Donohue was solemnized this morning at St. John's church. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Paquette, O. M. I. The young couple were attended by Mr. Arthur A. Smith acting as best man and Miss Eva A. Taylor, who served as bridesmaid.

GOOD ROADS ADVOCATED

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Construction of good roads by convict labor is being urged by speakers in attendance at the eighth annual convention of the American Roadbuilders Association and National Good Roads Congress, which began a second day session here today. Today's program included addresses on "Adaptability of roads and pavements to local conditions" by Nelson H. Lewis, New York, and "Problems of construction," by Major W. W. Crosby of the Maryland state roads commission.

BASKETBALL ABOLISHED

HARTFORD, Nov. 15.—By order of the athletic committee of the Trinity college faculty basketball at that institution has been abolished. Owing to the interest felt in that branch of sport, however, it is stated, an effort may be made by the students to bring about a removal of the ban.

P. H. Goldman, the well known merchant, of 147-149 Dutton st. was called away to New York last evening, through telegram, to attend a wholesale bankrupt sale on fur.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK MARKET

Stocks	High	Low	Close
Amal Copper	58 1/2	58	58 1/2
Am Car & Pn	62 1/2	61 1/2	62 1/2
Am Car & Pn pf	118	116	118
Am Col Oil	48 1/2	48	48 1/2
Am Smelt & R	71	69 1/2	70 1/2
Am Smelt & R pf	102 1/2	101	102 1/2
Am Sugar Rfn	117 1/2	117	117 1/2
Anacosta	38 1/2	38	38 1/2
Atchafalpa	107 1/2	106 1/2	107 1/2
Atchafalpa pf	103 1/2	103	103 1/2
Balt & Ohio	82 1/2	81 1/2	82 1/2
Balt & Ohio pf	82 1/2	81 1/2	82 1/2
Br Rap Tran	78 1/2	77 1/2	78 1/2
Canadian Pa	237 1/2	237	237 1/2
Cent Leather	23 1/2	22 1/2	23 1/2
Ches & Ohio	75	74	74 1/2
C C & S L	63 1/2	63	63 1/2
Consol Gas	141 1/2	140 1/2	141 1/2
Den & Rio	23 1/2	23	23 1/2
Dia Sugar Co	31 1/2	31	31 1/2
Erie	32 1/2	32	32 1/2
Erie 1st pf	53	52 1/2	53
Gr North pf	127 1/2	127	127 1/2
Gr No Ore	43	42	43
Illinois Cen	141	141	141
Int Met Con	15 1/2	15	15 1/2
Int Met Con pf	40 1/2	40	40 1/2
In S Pump Co	33 1/2	33	33 1/2
K City So pf	65	65	65
Kan & Texas	31 1/2	31	31 1/2
Louis & Nash	150 1/2	149	150 1/2
Missouri Pa	41	40 1/2	41
Nat Lead	107 1/2	107	107 1/2
Nat Lead pf	107 1/2	107	107 1/2
Nor & West	109 1/2	109	109 1/2
North Pacific	113 1/2	113	113 1/2
Pennsylvania	122 1/2	122	122 1/2
People's Gas	155	155	155
Pullman Co	158 1/2	158	158 1/2
Reading	142 1/2	142	142 1/2
Rep Iron & S	20 1/2	20	20 1/2
Rep I & S pf	80 1/2	80	80 1/2
Rock Is	27	26 1/2	27
Rock Is pf	50	50	50
St Paul	111 1/2	110 1/2	111 1/2
So Pacific	113 1/2	113	113 1/2
Southern Ry	30	29 1/2	30
Tenn Copper	30 1/2	30	30 1/2
Tenn Copper pf	21 1/2	21	21 1/2
Third Ave	113 1/2	113	113 1/2
Union Pacific	171 1/2	169 1/2	171 1/2
Union Pac pf	22 1/2	22	22 1/2
U S Rub	17	16 1/2	17
U S Rub pf	109 1/2	109	109 1/2
U S Steel	103 1/2	103	103 1/2
U S Steel pf	103 1/2	103	103 1/2
U S Steel Is	102	101 1/2	102
Utah Copper	48	47 1/2	48
Wab R R pf	22 1/2	22	22 1/2
Westinghouse	65	65	65
Western Un	77	77	77
Wh & L Erie	4	4	4

STOCK MARKET

WAS STEADY AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Some fluctuation in the final dealings—Federal Railroad Issues Were Affected—Other Features of the Trading

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Pronounced strength was shown by the leading railroad stocks at the opening today. Reading was in especially good demand and rose a point. U. P. gained a like amount and N. P. and S. P. 3. The industrial stocks advanced moderately, although they did not display the same degree of strength. U. S. Steel gained 1/2 and National Biscuit 3/4. Can. Pac. lost 1/4.

The market retained its strength for only a brief period. Large offerings forced back prices to a parity with yesterday's closing or below. The decline seemed to be inspired by the recent disposition of active speculative interest to take profits on all advances. Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania fell 1/2 under yesterday's final figures. The latter was affected by rumors, which were officially denied, that the company planned a large bond issue.

The reactionary character of the market, which was overcome temporarily by the rally yesterday, again asserted itself today. Prices were stimulated at the opening by the previous rise in the London market but the advantage was soon lost, owing largely to continued realization. Disappointment over the failure to declare an extra dividend on Lehigh Valley which had been expected in some quarters, caused free selling of the stock in the second hour and it sagged two points. Reading and all of the other active issues were influenced by the decline in this stock with quite a large proportion of the list falling slightly below yesterday's closing. Later on there were feeble rallies in conjunction with a rise of two points in Interborough Metropolitan pfd. on reports of possible new franchises but the whole list shaded again later to considerably lower figures. Bonds were firm.

Severe broads were made on prices after midday. The apparent lack of support for various leaders discouraged buying for the long account and stimulated considerable short selling. With the absorptive power of the market much reduced by the recent decline in the short interest, large operators find it increasingly difficult to market their stocks when they attempt to make a turn. Losses of about a point were registered in many of the representative stocks. Lehigh Valley was down 3 points and Can. Pac. 3 1/2. When the professionals ceased selling the decline stopped and prices made no appreciable recovery, trading becoming dull when the list began to harden.

The market closed steady. Toward the close there was some fluctuation in some of the principal railroad issues but this subsided.

BOSTON MARKET

Stocks	High	Low	Close
Alouez	31	30 1/2	30 1/2
Am Ag Chem Com	53 1/2	53 1/2	53 1/2
Am Pneumatic	42 1/2	42	42 1/2
Am Pneu pf	15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Am Tel & Tel	138 1/2	137 1/2	138 1/2
Am Tel & Tel pf	87 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2
American Zinc	25	24 1/2	25
Aradiah	2 1/2	2 1/2	2 1/2
Boston & Albany	222 1/2	222 1/2	222 1/2
Bos & Corbin	5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2
Boston Elevated	128	128	128
Boston & Maline	100	99 1/2	100
Butte Coal	17	16 1/2	17
Cal & Arizona	51 1/2	51	51 1/2
Cal & Hecla	385	380	380
Centennial	10 1/2	10 1/2	10 1/2
Copper Range	53 1/2	53 1/2	53 1/2
Franklin	7 1/2	7 1/2	7 1/2
Gibson	4 1/2	4 1/2	4 1/2
Green-Canaan	30 1/2	30 1/2	30 1/2
Indo	17 1/2	17 1/2	17 1/2
Indo Royal	17 1/2	17 1/2	17 1/2
Lake Copper	20 1/2	20 1/2	20 1/2
Mass Electric	20 1/2	20 1/2	20 1/2
Mass Gas pf	90 1/2	90 1/2	90 1/2
Mass Gas pf	90 1/2	90 1/2	90 1/2
Miami Cop	20 1/2	20 1/2	20 1/2
North Butte	14	13 1/2	14
Old Dominion	41 1/2	41	41 1/2
Parrott	10	9 1/2	9 1/2
Quincy	60	60	60
Shannon	2	2 1/2	2 1/2
Superior Copper	22 1/2	22 1/2	22 1/2
Swift & Co	100	100	100
Trinity	3	3	3
United Fruit	197	192	193 1/2
United Sh M	46 1/2	46	46 1/2
Un Sh M pf	28 1/2	28 1/2	28 1/2
U S Coal & Oil	38	38	38
U S Smelting	31 1/2	31 1/2	31 1/2
U S Smelting pf	47 1/2	47 1/2	47 1/2
Utah Cons	15	15	15

Money Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Prime mercantile paper 4 1/2. Sterling exchange steady at 48.50 for 60 day bills and at 47 for demand. Commercial bills 48 1/2. Bar silver 50 1/2. Mexican dollars 45 1/2. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds firm.

Money on call steady. Ruling rate 2 1/2. Last loan 2 1/2. Closing bid 2 1/2. Offered at 2 1/2.

Time loans easier. 60 days 3 1/2. 90 days 3 1/2. 6 months 3 1/2.

Cotton Futures

	Opening	Close
November	9.15	9.22
December	9.15	9.08
January	9.10	9.13
February	9.10	9.13
March	9.10	9.17
April	9.10	9.22
May	9.10	9.27
June	9.10	9.30
July	9.10	9.34
August	9.10	9.34
September	9.10	9.34
October	9.10	9.34

Cotton Spot

Cotton spot closed dull. 10 points down. Middling Uplands 9.50. 210-ding Gulf, 9.75. No sales.

Exchange and Balances

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Exchanges, $33,110,730. Balances, $1,692,453.

NANKING CAPTURED

City Said to Have Been Taken by Revolutionists

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—A Hong Kong cable to a Chinese paper here today says that Nanking has been captured by the revolutionists.

THE PREMIERSHIP

HAS BEEN DECLINED BY YUAN SHI KAI

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Tien Tsin to the Exchange Telegraph Co. states that Yuan Shi Kai has declined the premiership. This is in conflict with a direct despatch from Peking received today stating that the official Gazette publishes Yuan Shi Kai's reply.

A BREAD FAMINE

One is Threatened in Torreon, Mexico

TORREON, Mex., Nov. 15.—A general strike has been declared here, resulting in a serious situation. The bakers have joined the movement and a bread famine is threatened. Five thousand workmen are idle. The marketplace is closed and the street cars are no longer being operated. A threat of federal soldiers is on their way here from Monterrey. So far there has been no destruction of property.

CUT ON HEAD

MAN WAS STRUCK BY A WOODEN BLOCK

Frank Beguchio, aged 25 years, a hod carrier in the employ of the J. J. Prindleville company, received a bad cut on the head at 5 o'clock this afternoon while at his work at the new building of the Hamilton Mfg. Co. when a wooden block fell from the first story on his head. The injured man was treated at the Emergency hospital.

TWO PLAINTIFFS' VERDICTS

The jury in the case of Mansur vs. Boston Elevated, returned a verdict of $700, and in the case of Whelton vs. Sullivan, a verdict of $10,000 was returned.

JAMES MINOT DEAD

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 15.—James Minot, local banker and past department commander of the G. A. R., died this noon, aged 68 years. His widow, Mrs. Fanny Minot, is past national commander of the W. R. C.

NATIONAL STRIKE

In the Coal Trade Was Narrowly Averted

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A national strike in the coal trade was temporarily averted today when the delegates of the miners who have been in session here for three days voted taking a ballot of the men as to whether a strike should be called. Such a ballot undoubtedly would have resulted in favor of the cessation of work at the mines throughout the country. Negotiations with the mine owners will be re-opened with a prospect of compromise being reached.

PLANS MADE KNOWN

FOR DISTRIBUTION OF STANDARD OIL STOCK

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Plans for the distribution of stock of the 34 subsidiary companies of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey to conform with the mandate of the United States supreme court were made public today. These stocks, with the exception of the stock of the Anglo-American Oil company, limited, will be ready for distribution on December 1. The stock of the Anglo-American company will be distributed at a later date.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES DISCUSSED

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—The National Municipal League spent today considering a group of papers dealing with municipal finance. Leading participants in the symposium were George Burnham, Jr., of Philadelphia. Dr. Jesse Burks, director of the Philadelphia Bureau of Municipal Research and Charles F. Gettamy, director of the Massachusetts Bureau of Municipal Research.

PRES. TAFT TO SPEAK

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 15.—President Taft is expected here late this afternoon to address the Associated Boards of Trade of Maryland, which are holding their annual convention here. Before returning to Washington this evening Mr. Taft will go to Mount Olive cemetery and place a wreath on the grave of Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Auto Trips

Reference was then made to several automobile trips taken by himself and other members of the grand jury seeking to identify the witness said that he had not paid any of the expenses entailed on any of the trips.

Recess

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

JURORS TESTIFY

Continued

"Is that your signature attached to this paper addressed to the father of the supreme judicial court?" asked Mr. Higgins, handing the paper to the witness.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you write that?"

"No, sir."

"Who wrote it?"

"Edward Barry."

"Did you sign it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Where?"

"At the Boston City club."

"How many were present?"

"There were eight of us."

"How did you happen to meet at the City club?"

"I requested them to meet me and discuss the matter."

"Who suggested the City club?"

"I may have been Mr. Barry."

"Don't you know that it was Mr. Barry who suggested meeting at the City club?"

"I couldn't really say."

Witness said that "Larry Smith" visited him in Popperell several weeks ago and he and Mr. Smith visited several places and saw Dr. Perkins, father-in-law of Jackson Palmer, and several members of the grand jury. Witness said he had retained Mr. Barry as counsel for him, but had not paid Mr. Barry any retainer. Dr. Perkins requested the witness to secure the services of Mr. Barry and the latter said he knew that Mr. Barry had been retained by eight of the grand jurors.

"You knew that Jackson Palmer had been before the grand jury?" asked Mr. Higgins.

"Yes, sir."

"And you knew what he testified to?"

"No, sir."

"There was no Jackson Palmer case, so-called, called before the grand jury?"

"No."

"That the investigation was relative to the way county affairs were conducted, was also the conduct at the Lowell jail?"

"Yes."

"You heard testimony offered by Jackson Palmer affecting the people at the Lowell jail, the expenses at the jail and the railroad ticket which it was alleged was used by Mr. Shaw and his family?"

"Yes, sir."

"You heard members of the grand jury say that he (Jackson Palmer) was guilty of perjury?"

"Yes, I did."

"The report of the investigation was signed on July 18," said the witness.

"There were 21 members present and every man signed the report."

"What was the last thing the grand jury did before reporting?"

"You brought up from your office papers regarding the investigation and there had been some over and read to the jurors."

"Haven't you taken some votes in the forenoon of July 18?"

"I don't think there was a vote taken."

"Did you say there were no votes taken that forenoon?"

"I don't believe there were."

Witness said that he heard Mr. Bradley, a grand juror, ask what was going to be done with Jackson Palmer and the others, and Mr. Higgins answered: "I will attend to that."

Afternoon Session

Mrs. Palmer and three lady friends were present at the afternoon session and were assigned seats within the enclosure. Juror Powers was recalled and said that he signed the report of the grand jury but he did not remember that a ticket sold to him for the railroad ticket used by Mr. Shaw.

Edwin A. Powers

Edwin A. Powers of Sudbury who was one of the grand jurors was next called. He said that he had no recollection of any vote to indict Jackson Palmer for perjury. At this point noon recess was taken.

Mr. Powers

"Do you remember me advising the grand jury that Palmer could be indicted for perjury?"

"Yes, sir."

"And that some others might be indicted?"

"I don't remember that the word perjury was used."

Mr. Powers said he heard Mr. Palmer and one of Mr. Shaw's daughters testify before the grand jury. Later, he said, some of the grand jurors made a possible indictment of Palmer for perjury.

"Did I say that somebody would be liable for libel?" asked the district attorney.

"I don't remember," replied Mr. Powers.

"Ours that I said somebody might be liable for conspiracy?" queried the district attorney.

"I heard that," replied Mr. Powers.

Witness didn't remember hearing the district attorney say that he hadn't had time to answer up the other indictments, but would do so later. He would not say, however, that the district attorney did not make that statement.

Mr. Powers was one of the eight men who met at the Boston City club on July 18. He also attended the Algonquin club. He didn't know who invited him to the Algonquin club.

At this point a communication signed by A. G. Kilburn of the Groton Hospital, one of the grand jurors, by water by name, was in at Groton and unable to appear in court was read.

Lester Whipple came at 2.30 o'clock, but said that he might want to introduce new evidence later on.

George H. Sweetman of Bedford, foreman of the grand jury, was the first witness called by the district attorney.

Sweetman said that he was present at all sessions of the grand jury, regular and special, with the exception of three hours on one day.

He remembered hearing Jackson Palmer testify relative to a railroad ticket used by one of Mr. Shaw's daughters. He couldn't remember the district attorney's question referring to the possibility or probability of an indictment against Palmer. He said that the discussion was general.

"I remember," he said, "that I said I had had considerable experience in railroad matters and didn't believe that a ticket sold to me in an ordinary way could be identified as being my ticket."

He said a committee was appointed on the railroad ticket matter and the committee reported that there was no way to identify it.

Lester Whipple wanted to refer to the record of the grand jury proceedings and the district attorney objected.

Judge McLaughlin said he didn't think any person had a right to examine the records generally.

Mr. Sweetman said: "On the day in September when we reported the district attorney said: 'Gentlemen, I have drawn up an indictment against Jackson Palmer for perjury, but I haven't had time to do anything on the others.'"

"Witness said that Mr. Bradley asked: 'When are you going to bring the other reply to this question?' said witness. 'The district attorney said: 'I will try to have them at the next sitting.'"

Mr. Sweetman said: "There was a vote to indict Palmer. I signed the indictment, number 830, which was produced, read and offered as evidence."

Continued to page five

Charles S. Bradley, a wooden splinter, residing at 125 West 44th st., New York, was called and testified that he attended all the meetings of the grand jury and had no recollection of any vote being taken relative to the indictment of Jackson Palmer for perjury.

Witness said: "On July 18 I asked the district attorney what he was going to do with these people. He said, 'I will take care of them later.'"

"Was it taken up later?" asked Mr. Whipple.

"I have no recollection."

"Who were these people, you refer to?" asked Mr. Higgins.

"Those that we were discussing."

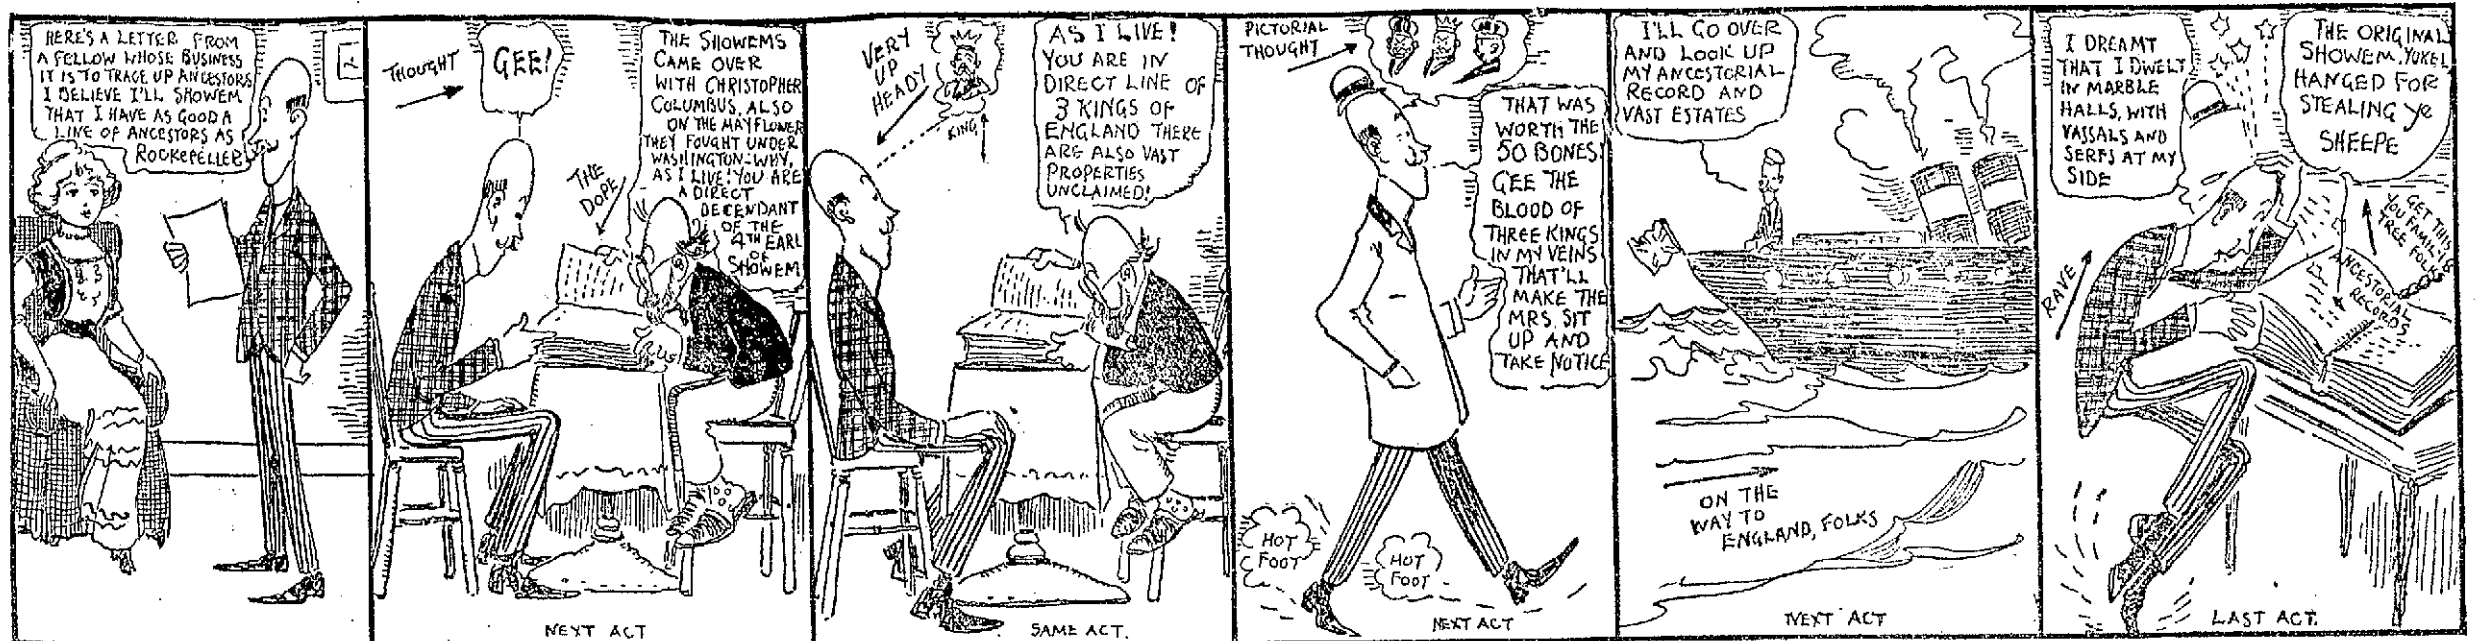

"One was Jackson Palmer?"

"Yes."

Mr. Bradley said that Jackson Palmer's testimony was discussed on several occasions. He said he had no recollection of hearing any person say that Jackson Palmer should be indicted for perjury. He admitted, however, that the word perjury had been used in discussing the Palmer case, but that he never said that Palmer should not be indicted for perjury.

Referring to the meeting of jurors and counsel at the Boston City club and the visit to Chief Justice Aiken's residence at Greenfield, he said that he made the trip with others

MR. I. L. SHOWEM FINDS THAT HE HAS A FAMILY TREE

GERMAN AVIATOR KILLED

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Herr Pletschker, an aviator, fell while making a flight over the Johannisthal field today and was killed. His neck was broken. Pletschker took part in the Berlin aviation meeting in September, using an albatross biplane. He made some good exhibitions and on several occasions developed a speed exceeding 60 miles an hour.

CHELSEA BOY SHOT

By Lad Who Was Playing Bandit

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—"Hold up your hands" is the demand which Joseph Matak, a 13-year-old boy of 48 Medford street, Chelsea, is alleged to have made of Stanley Januski, Jr., also 13 years old, of 4 Front street, Chelsea, about 6 o'clock last evening.

The two lads had been at play with a number of other boys on Medford street, and it is claimed that when Matak made the demand of Januski that he hold in his hands a large sized air rifle.

Januski, alarmed, told Matak he would not hold up his hands, and started to run away. He had gone but a few feet when the police assert that the Matak boy fired a shot at the Januski boy. The bullet fired was of .22-caliber, and it struck the Januski boy in the back, penetrating several inches into the body.

He was hurried to the Rufus S. Frost hospital, where the bullet was removed by Dr. Horace B. Bragdon of East Boston. The condition of the Januski boy is not dangerous.

Immediately following the shooting the police went in search of the Matak lad, but they were unable to locate him last night.

The two boys, according to the stories the police have investigated, had been friends for a long time. No words had passed between them last evening. They had been at play as usual and young Matak seemed very proud of the new rifle he was exhibiting to all the boys. It was not supposed that it was loaded.

A SILKEN LUSTRE

TO THE DULLEST HAIR

(Fashion's Mirror)

"Proper care of hair and scalp does not mean time-consuming and expensive trips to the hair-dresser's. Simplicity is the keynote—just an occasional brushing of scalp and hair on which has been sprinkled a tablespoonful of dry shampoo mixture. This is brushed through and out of the hair, and with it comes all dust, dandruff and excess oil.

"To prepare the dry shampoo, mix together either 4 ounces of orris root or corn meal and 4 ounces of theriac. Keep in sifter-top can and use once or twice each week. After a few shampoos dull, stringy, lifeless or brittle hair grows wonderfully soft, silky and lustrous. Continued using induces a luxuriant growth."

Carroll Bros.

Plumbers, Steam Fitters and Sheet Metal Workers.

36 Middle St. Telephone 1650

F. W. Cragin & Co.

MANUFACTURERS OF Cabinet Work of All Kinds to Order. Stores and offices fitted up. Wood turning, jobbing and repairing. Old furniture repaired and finished, new furniture made to order.

48 Fletcher Street, Lowell, Mass. Telephone 1650

ALL THE BEST GRADES

ANTHRACITE and BITUMINOUS

COAL

E. A. WILSON & CO.

4 MERRIMACK SQUARE, 700 BROADWAY, 15 TANNER STREET

THE PALMER CASE

Continued

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

The second day of the hearing before Judge McLaughlin on the motion to quash proceedings against Jackson Palmer of Lowell, who stands convicted of perjury, on the ground that he had not been legally indicted, occupied about an hour and a half in the criminal session of the superior court in East Cambridge yesterday afternoon.

Frank A. Gokey of Everett, clerk of the grand jury, who was the sole witness at Monday's session, was the only objector yesterday. Sherman Whipple, counsel for Jackson Palmer, and Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins appeared for the defense. Mr. Whipple's testimony in his further examination.

When the court adjourned at 5:30 and announced that an all-day session would be begun at 10 o'clock this morning, Mr. Gokey's testimony had been practically completed.

Among the most pertinent questions put to the witness were those asked him by Judge McLaughlin, and the answers to each proved the testimony to be of the utmost importance, in fact the most significant brought out thus far. In seeking to ascertain if a vote was taken on the question of indicting Palmer the court asked the witness in so many words:

"To this Mr. Gokey replied that it might have been taken when he was not here, as there were some days when he was absent. He could not recall that a vote was taken separately on the question of indicting Palmer and based his record as clerk of the grand jury on the motion that was made and passed by the grand jury as a body.

Memory of Witness Refreshed

When asked by Dist. Atty. Higgins if he remembered that he (Mr. Higgins) had told the grand jury at the September sitting that he had drawn the Jackson Palmer indictment for perjury, but had not drawn the other indictments because of lack of time, Mr. Gokey replied that there might have been something said to that effect, but he could not honestly remember. The witness said, however, that he did remember that the district attorney had told the grand jury that he would try to have the other indictments ready for the next term.

Mr. Higgins, in raising objection to one of Mr. Whipple's questions, spoke of the possibility of a certain phase of the inquiry being "an indirect attack on the report of the attorney at the grand jury." Mr. Higgins said he thought the court would not allow the grand jury to be discredited.

Mr. Whipple promptly disclaimed any intention of attacking Mr. Higgins or the grand jury and said his purpose was only to present to the court facts that should be disclosed and which were of importance in the administration of justice in the state.

The hearing was opened by Mr. Whipple, who resumed his examination of Mr. Gokey by asking if he had talked of the case with anyone between the time he left the witness stand Monday afternoon and yesterday.

Mr. Gokey replied that he had some conversation with one of the jurors Monday night as the two were going to Boston.

"Has anything happened," asked Mr. Whipple, "to refresh your recollection since you left the witness stand last night?"

"No, sir, I don't know that anything has happened that will refresh my memory," replied the witness.

Signifying County Report

Mr. Whipple next questioned the witness concerning testimony he had given on Monday, with particular reference to Mr. Gokey's own words in recounting events that happened at the grand jury meetings in June, July and September.

Mr. Gokey said that the transcription of his original grand jury notes on the loose sheets was not made in the record book until three weeks ago.

"Had you heard some question raised then," Mr. Whipple asked.

"No, sir, I had not," replied the witness.

"You anticipate me," Mr. Whipple went on. "I was going to say, 'Had you heard any question raised with regard to this matter?' Your mind outran my speech a little."

"The not answered."

Q. Let us see. It was about three months before you wrote it in the book. A. Yes.

Q. Now, on July 18 this report of the grand jury in the investigation of county affairs was signed, wasn't it? A. Yes, the best of my memory it was signed July 18 or thereabouts.

Q. Where was this meeting of July 18? A. I believe in this room.

Q. And was the paper before you signed in this room. A. Yes.

Q. That is, one after another, all the members of the grand jury signed it, did they? A. Yes.

Q. Beginning with Mr. Sweetman, the foreman? A. Yes.

Q. Charles Bradley next and ending with—A. Arthur J. Travis.

Q. Did you sign it? A. I did.

Dist. Atty. Higgins Objects

Mr. Whipple thereupon put the question, "Was it read to the grand jury?" but before the witness was allowed to answer Dist. Atty. Higgins raised his first objection of the afternoon. Mr. Whipple added, however, the remainder of the question which was—"before they signed."

"I don't think, your honor, that it is necessary to go into that," said the district attorney.

"It is merely to see what time was occupied, because I regarded it as necessary," Mr. Whipple explained.

The court asked: "You mean how much time on that day?"

To this Mr. Whipple replied that such was his intent. He then put the question in this form: "Was this paper read to or by the jurors before they signed it?"

In pointing out the reason for his objection Dist. Atty. Higgins said:

"Whether he means that the reading of the whole of that report at that time or any time is competent is the question, and it may be an indirect attack on the report or the attitude of the grand jury. Whether it was read or not, or whether they had time to read it or not, I don't think is competent. In view of the importance of this whole matter, I think the court will not allow the grand jury to be discredited."

Mr. Whipple's Disclaimers

In replying, Mr. Whipple said: "My learned brother seems unduly disturbed on the question of attacks on himself. I need not assure Your Honor that I am engaged in no attack. I am engaged in attempting to lay before Your Honor the facts in relation to a matter of very supreme and surpassing importance in the administration of justice in this Commonwealth. It needs and it requires, as I am sure Your Honor feels the most careful investigation and consideration."

"What may be the result of these facts is for some else to say, but the facts should be disclosed and can do no harm and may affect the subject matter of inquiry. I disclaim any attack on the grand jury or its methods and nothing has been seen here, it seems to me, to warrant the belief that the inquiry should not be pursued to the utmost."

The court excluded Mr. Whipple's question.

Mr. Whipple asked the witness concerning a discussion among the grand jurors on July 18 regarding a proposed trip to Nantasket, and after the district attorney had kept as clerk, objection the witness answered that there was nothing said about it that day.

Memoranda Goes to Court Clerk

Mr. Whipple then passed to the September sitting of the grand jury, and the witness was interrogated as to what he said on the stand Monday regarding his remarks in the September sitting on the Palmer case.

This line being pursued, the court said to Mr. Whipple, "I don't see what right you have to cross-examine your own witness," and later ordered the question excluded.

Subsequently the witness said he did not know that he could remember what he had said in the September sitting regarding the Palmer case.

A question arose as to the marking of the loose sheets of memoranda which Mr. Gokey had kept as clerk. Mr. Whipple wished to have them marked as exhibits and put in as such, but Mr. Higgins wished them marked simply for the purpose of identification and not to go into the record.

The district attorney was conducting the re-examination of the witness when the subject of the memoranda came up. He called attention to the fact that there were several memoranda sheets which were not completely filled. Six of these sheets were produced by the witness, some of which were in the middle of the record and some of which were at the end, and it was shown, when finally the loose sheets were arranged in regular order that the blank lines indicated the end of the record. The court ordered the memoranda sheets placed in charge of the clerk of the court in order that they might be accessible to both sides.

As to Palmer Indictment

When Dist. Atty. Higgins asked the witness, "Do you remember whether anything was said before you made your report in regard to the Jackson Palmer case, you sat here in the court?" Mr. Whipple objected, declaring that that had been gone into fully. The question was allowed, however, and the witness answered:

"I don't believe I can say whether there was or not. I would not want to swear there was or was not."

Mr. Higgins asked the witness: "Don't you remember that just before the court came in at the September sitting here in this room I said in substance to the grand jury that I had drawn the Jackson Palmer indictment for perjury, but I had not drawn the other indictments, because I had not had time?"

This was objected to by Mr. Whipple, who said: "While it may be that it is a question rather as to how Your Honor's mind will deal with a witness who first says one thing and then another, yet I feel that it is within Your Honor's discretion to say the further pressing of that matter may properly be excluded."

The question was allowed, however, and the witness replied: "There might have been something said to that effect, but I would not want to be sure about it because I—"

Mr. Higgins: "You have a right to say that you don't remember or you do."

Thereupon the witness answered: "I can say honestly that I don't remember."

Q. (By Mr. Higgins)—Do you remember that I said to the grand jury that I would try to have the other indictments ready the next term? A. I remember that part of it.

Judge McLaughlin Takes a Hand

The district attorney asked more questions, fixing the time when Juror Bradley made the inquiry about the indictments, and the testimony of the witness was the same as on Monday.

Mr. Whipple put some questions to the witness to learn if it was Mr. Gokey's intention to change his previous testimony in the answers he had just given the district attorney, and Mr. Gokey replied that he had no such intention.

Judge McLaughlin, when Mr. Whipple had concluded, took the witness in hand.

"When the evidence is taken before the grand jury, the foreman puts the vote, doesn't he?" asked the judge.

"Yes, sir," said Gokey, "that is the practice that has been carried through the year."

"How did the jurors signify whether they were in favor of a bill or not?" "By raising the right hand."

"And have you any recollection in regard to the vote on the Jackson Palmer case?"

"Not except as the motion reads there" (alluding to memorandum sheet 13).

"I am speaking now of the record. Do you recall that any vote was taken on the case? Do you recall that independently of what you have said there in writing? Do you remember that a vote was taken, or do you not?"

"I don't remember. It might have been taken, as I stated, when I wasn't here. I said last night there were some days I was absent."

"You say you have no recollection of a vote being taken on the subject of indicting Palmer?"

"Not separately on indicting Palmer—not alone on that."

"On what did you base your recollection?"

"Nothing any more than the motion that was made and passed by the grand jury as a body."

"Do you recall that motion?"

"Not more than that I think every jurymen voted on the question and voted in the affirmative."

"Were you present at that time?"

"I was present because I made

memoranda and recorded motions."

"How did they make known their assent to that?"

"By raising the right hand."

"Did you record it in the form of a motion put?"

"I tried to."

"Who put the motion?"

"I don't know that I could say for sure, but it seems to me it was Mr. Getchell."

"You were asked who put the motion," said Mr. Higgins.

"O, pardon me. I think the foreman put the motion," replied the witness. "That is the custom."

A conference between the court and counsel then followed, and adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

TO LET

All sufferers from piles, old sores and all skin diseases know that ST. THOMAS' SALVE has no equal. Try it. All leading druggists, 35c.

O'Donnell Dry Goods Co.

JUST FOR A THURSDAY SALE
THREE EXTRAORDINARY LOTS OF

Winter Weight STOCKINGS

ONE FOR WOMEN, ANOTHER FOR MEN, AND A THIRD FOR CHILDREN. 1200 PAIRS IN THE SELLING AT FROM ONE-HALF TO THREE-FOURTHS REGULAR PRICES.

THE FIRST LOT FOR WOMEN

50c Cashmere Stockings, Thursday at
37½c A PAIR

Strictly all wool, regular made, full fashioned, good elastic top, all black, natural wool foot, Oxford and natural. Sizes 8½ to 10 inclusive.

THE SECOND LOT FOR MEN

50c Cashmere Hose, Thursday, at
25c A PAIR

Very fine quality and regularly made, full fashioned foot, guaranteed fast black. Sizes 9½ to 11½.

THE THIRD LOT FOR CHILDREN

50c Cashmere Stockings, Thursday at
25c A PAIR

Black or tan; strictly all wool, fine rib, full fashioned foot, complete range of sizes, 5½ to 9½ inclusive.

WE WARRANT YOU'LL FIND THESE LOTS JUST AS REPRESENTED AND FEEL THAT WE HAVE QUANTITY ENOUGH TO JUSTIFY A GOOD THURSDAY SALE, BUT WILL NOT PROMISE ANY OF THE LOTS AGAIN THIS SEASON AT THE ABOVE PRICES.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1910 was

15,976

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotto, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

The sooner the Manchu dynasty is driven out of China and into obscurity the better for China and the rest of the world.

There is much criticism of a jury of women because of disagreement on a case at Los Angeles. Nobody has yet intimated that any woman voter was subject to outside influences in reaching a decision.

Wellesley college girls have resorted to shining shoes in order to raise funds for a club house. One would imagine that they could apply their education for some money making scheme without descending to a scheme at which the lowest street urchin can go them one better.

The retirement of Lord Balfour, the leader of the Unionist forces in England, is an indication that he considers the fight against home rule for Ireland practically hopeless. He has been an able parliamentarian, but his views as a statesman are too narrow, and he was too much imbued with the ideas of government that prevailed a generation ago. He has been dumfounded by the onward march of democracy in England.

THE SPENCER MURDER TRIAL

The Spencer murder trial at Springfield will bring out a considerable amount of expert testimony on the question of showing that a man who followed his daily occupations with perfect sanity and went out as a burglar at night must be insane. In one of his nightly raids he shot Miss Blackstone because she ran screaming when she saw him, and for her death he is being tried on the charge of murder. The trial promises to be one of the most interesting held in this state since that of young Tucker.

THE ANTI-TIPPING MOVEMENT

The anti-tipping movement was launched in dead earnest in New York on Sunday night. The tipping business has been so syndicated in that city that it is made an excuse for keeping down wages. A paper has been established to voice the opposition of 40,000 hotels to the system which of late has been as distasteful to the employees as to the proprietors. Both are willing to abandon the system, but while patrons should be equally desirous of having it abolished, their desire to get "extras" for the money they pay will probably make the abolition of the system impossible.

CONGRESSIONAL STRAWS

Four congressional elections held last week gave some indication of how the political wind blows, although local circumstances may have ruled in some of the cases. In a contest in New Jersey and another in Pennsylvania, the vote showed a tendency toward the republican party, while in two other contests, one in Kansas and the other in Nebraska, the swing of the pendulum was strongly to the democratic side. The contrast in the tendency between the east and the west has caused comment, but no safe conclusion can be drawn from the results.

POPULAR OPPOSITION TO THE POLITICAL MACHINE

The general results of the elections all over the country show that the people are opposed to the political machine. Here in Massachusetts the candidate of the republican machine was backed by Senator Lodge, head of the machine, by Senator Crane and all the party leaders. The fight was a desperate one, but the machine candidate went down in defeat. That is why Governor Foss is mentioned as a candidate for the presidency today. But it was not alone in Massachusetts that the political machine was hit hard. Tammany was nearly defeated in New York, while the contractors' machine in Philadelphia was beaten for the first time in a generation. The Cox machine in Cincinnati was crushed, despite the fact that President Taft gave it the prestige of his support. Indeed some people think that the Taft influence caused the people to oppose it with greater determination. Governor Harmon is thus strengthened politically by holding Ohio in the doubtful column.

Governor Woodrow Wilson personifies this sentiment against the power of the political machine and in that as well as in his ability as an exponent of democratic principles lies his strength as a candidate. It is true that owing to the work of Boss Smith, backed by the republican machine, the legislature of New Jersey has gone republican, but that does not affect Governor Wilson's standing or ability in the least. When a political machine in his own state wanted to endorse him as a candidate for the presidency Governor Wilson objected and wouldn't have it. He believes in principle and he believes in reducing principles to action. He is opposed to the political machine that depends for its existence upon the friendly support of big business and that afterwards distributes favors to the interests in return for political support. It is in this way that the ruling machine has held itself in office at the expense of the people and by an alliance with the "interests." Governor Wilson is a formidable foe of this corruption of government and he is today the leading exponent of the opposition in spite of all the insurgent and progressive movements in and out of congress. With Governor Harmon's boom waning, Champ Clark rendered an impossibility on account of his Canadian annexation utterances, it would seem that Wilson of New Jersey and Foss of Massachusetts are coming more strongly into prominence as presidential possibilities. Both have won signal victories, both are politically strong; but Governor Wilson is of course a much abler man than our own governor so far as oratory and the exposition of democratic principles are concerned. Both these men have waged successful war against the corrupt machine government and this is what appeals to the people throughout the country; for they feel that it is the republican machine that has betrayed the people, betrayed the trusts and that is now trying to compromise between the people and the trusts by a mock enforcement of the anti-trust law.

TEMPERING

SEEN AND HEARD

Governor Dix, at a luncheon in Albany, said of a political leader who had been worsted: "He will get a little of his own medicine back now. It reminds me of a story. A man entered an eating-house and ordered a steak and fried potatoes. 'Yes, sir; steak and potatoes, sir,' said the waiter. 'And will you have chops and peas along with it?' 'No, thank you.' 'Roast beef, then, perhaps, sir?' 'The roast beef's very fine today.' 'No, just steak and potatoes.' 'How about a nice lobster or a brace of crabs, sir, with the steak?' 'No.' 'A nice mess of fried catfish and wafers.' 'But at this point the proprietor summoned the waiter to him. 'What do you mean, your honor?' he said, 'for tormenting that patron in such an outrageous manner?' 'Oh, I wasn't tormenting him, sir,' said the waiter. 'I was just trying to make him feel at home. He's a barber.'

"The new idea in business is honesty, openness, frankness," said Alton B. Parker at a dinner at Esopus. "We used to conceal our plumbing and very poor, unsanitary work it was. We expose it now, and it is altogether sound and wholesome and satisfactory. Well, business is like that. 'When I think of some of the tricks that used to obtain in reputable business firms, I am reminded of the sea-side auctioneer. This auctioneer once held up a $10 gold piece and said: 'Guess the date on this piece of money, friends. Make a guess and a small purchase, and the correct guesser takes the coin.' 'So everybody in the crowd guessed, everybody bought some worthless rubbish, and the dealer netted a huge profit. Then, at the end, he looked at the $10 gold piece, held it up and said: 'Now, for it! Who guessed 1894?' 'Me! Me! Me!' cried every man jack in the shop. 'Then you all guessed wrong,' he said, slapping the coin into his pocket. 'The date is 1882.'"

Our friend, J. Carpenter from whom we had not heard for some time has mailed us the following and it is self explanatory. "The recent death of Lon Brine of Boston will bring to the memories of many Lowell people those few occasions when he visited our city and sang some songs which all love and nobody ever forgets. They will recall his magnificent voice and fine presence. His and handsome Lon Brine's audiences were always with him before he even sang a line. His was a baritone voice of exceptional worth, powerful, yet flexible, rich and mellow and of that rare sympathetic quality which very few singers possess. Twenty or more years ago he was one of Boston's most popular singers, yet of late years he rarely appeared in public. I associate his singing of 'Kathleen Mavourneen' with old Bridget's 'Goodbye, Sweetheart, Goodbye,' 'Mille Truie's 'Ave Maria,' George Henschel's 'The Two Grenadiers' and Gertrude Franklin's 'Knowest Thou the Land?' That is Mr. Brine's singing that night of 'Kathleen Mavourneen' is still to me the standard interpretation of Crockett's beautiful song. The fragile and of him whom nature endowed with a charming personality, physical and mental attractions and to which she added the gift of song, is deeply regretted by those who knew him ever so slightly. But the singer and his song will long haunt the halls of memory and wake anew when the gray dawn is breaking and the horn of the hunter is heard on the hill—Kathleen Mavourneen!

OUR YESTERDAYS
We've traced our sweetest dreams, my dear, in wonder fires glow, And never thought the pictures there Unmindful of the fleeting years we've wandered on, we two, And you have been the same to me And I the same to you— Your voice as sweet and hair as jet As ever, till tonight A single strand of gray defied the ruddy light. A single silvery strand of gray 'twas brushed by the rays, And then I knew the time has come when we have yesterday.

I had not ceased to think of you as blithe and young and fair, And I was strong and straight as when I waited on you there, Until tonight. Our youngest one sat here upon my knee, And looked into my eyes forlorn and stilled earnestly, Then looked at you, and said at length—my heart was fairly wrung— 'I'm trying to imagine how you looked when babe of you were young! I tried to laugh it all away, but, dear, through all the haze, There came the thought, 'The time has come when we have yesterday.' —John D. Wells.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Johnstown Democrat: That Mr. Bryan will eventually force Mr. Taft to put some trust magnate in jail as he has already forced him to begin action against the steel trust can hardly be doubted. But would the jailing of a trust magnate solve the trust problem? Would it serve to restore competition? Would it take away the privilege which has invited the formation of a trust? Mr. Bryan is unquestionably making things extremely uncomfortable for Mr. Taft and the trusts are getting no particular joy out of the situation. They feel pretty certain that sooner or later the president will be compelled to invoke the criminal clause of the anti-trust act and they are not so certain who would be the fellow that would have to go to jail. If each trust magnate could be sure in his own mind that it was the other fellow that must wear the stripes and learn the lock step, there would be less trepidation of spirit among them.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES
Worcester Post: It may be that Massachusetts will join the seven other states having presidential primaries next year, not only electing delegates to the national conventions in this way but also recording preferential votes for candidates. Senator Roger Sherman Hear has drafted a bill to be presented to the next legislature providing for such primaries next spring and it is predicted that Governor Foss will advocate it in his inaugural.

TRAVELERS' PERSONAL EFFECTS
San Francisco Chronicle: The November Century, under the title "The Tariff Penalty for Traveling Abroad," makes a plea for a more liberal exemption of personal effects. Perhaps it might have been wise for the advocates of protection to heed pleas of this sort and set aside their ideas of fair play for after all that is said and done, the most vigorous assailants of the tariff are those who resent the imposition of duties upon the costly articles of dress, etc., which they bring into the country. Of course, they do not talk much about their real objection to protection, preferring to make believe that they are disinterested and that all they seek is to benefit the poor consumer, who, by the way, rarely ever wears or uses an imported article of any kind. If the schedules were so arranged that this class of importers could escape paying duties there would be much less talk about the onerous burdens imposed by the protective tariff than we hear at present.

TO THE WEST
Life: Well, what do you think of our president now? You have had a splendid chance to look him over. Do you think he will do for another term? Do you accept his apology for the Payne-Aldrich Tariff bill? Do you think he possesses the power and is willing to take a strangle hold on the trusts and hang on till the people escape? Just between you and us, a good many people out here are beginning to feel very doubtful. They think he is just talking to gain time, and that his talk isn't even interesting. But, then, we may be hypercritical. Now, what do you think? What impression did you get at close range? Anything you tell us will be held in strictest confidence.

BOARD OF POLICE

Postponed Hearing of Liquor Dealer's Case

The hearings against Hugh Ferguson, licensee of the St. James hotel in Middlesex street, and Frank Barnard, who conducts a liquor saloon in Merrimack street, which were scheduled for last night before the board of police, did not materialize. Owing to the court decision in the case of illegal sale against Mr. Ferguson, the complainant was dismissed as it was found that there was a technical error in making out the complaint. The complaint against Mr. Barnard alleges that he or his clerks sold liquor to minors and counsel for Mr. Barnard asked for a continuance and the board voted to continue the hearing until November 23.

The minor licenses granted were as follows: Billiards and pool: Peter Contas, transfer from 497½ Market street to 657½ Market street; Heroldas Gander, 242 Allen street; Hawker and peddler: Frank Horne, 134 Fayette street; special police, William G. Morse; sixth class druggist, Anders Thomason, 567 Central street; theatre, William T. Hawley, Academy of Music. Surrendered and cancelled: Theatre, G. H. Wiley and Charles F. Fitzlantry, Academy of Music.

Good music and dancing, Foresters hall, Wednesday evening.

DANCE AT ARMORY
Over 250 couples attended the dancing party held at the armory last night under the auspices of the members of Co. M. The Manhattan orchestra supplied the music and a general good time was enjoyed till a late hour. Among the guests were all the officers from the local companies.

Putnam & Son Co.

166 CENTRAL STREET

OVERCOATS

For Young Men

IN A WONDERFULLY GREAT VARIETY OF THE NEW STYLISH FANCY OVERCOATINGS

Every new model smartly cut, capably tailored, and as fine fitting as any young man can wish for. Fancy overcoats with full back or half bell, double or single breast, button through or fly front, with regular or convertible collars, and Raglans and Hollanders. A splendid stock, featuring all of the new brown, tan and gray mixtures, Scotch effects, overplaid and herringbone weaves—

PRICED AT SURPRISINGLY LOW FIGURES

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Regulation and convertible collars, for $8.00

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—New brown, tan and gray mixtures, made with convertible collars, for..... $10

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Made with half belts and full belts, single or double breast, from..... $12 to $25

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Button through, cloth collars, in handsome Scotch effects, extremely stylish, for..... $12, $13.50 and $15

YOUNG MEN'S FANCY OVERCOATS—Fancy plaid backs, made with inside yokes, cloth collars, for..... $18, up to $25

New DERBIES

To go with the OVERCOATS

Our London Derby—Nap finish like the "hairy" soft hats $3.00

Our Special Derby—Six new blocks, warranted not to fade or break—three dollars' worth of hat for $2.00

IN THE CHURCHES

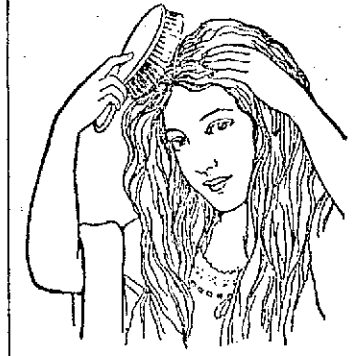

MacLeod, Rev. S. A. Jackson, John Steth Doyle, Hugh C. Walker, Matt Johnston and Sandy McDonald.

Page Street Banquet
The "Boys' Council" of the Paigu Street Free Baptist church will be held tomorrow evening. The supper will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and will be followed by speaking. Mr. J. J. Rogers will preside as toastmaster. Rev. B. R. Harris will deliver the address of welcome to the boys. H. W. Gibson of Boston, one of the best talkers in all cases of Asthma, Bronchitis, and Hay Fever. Sold by druggists; mail on receipt of price $5.00.

Westminster Presbyterian
The Men's League of the Westminster United Presbyterian church held a supper and social by the vestry last evening with a large attendance. Supper was served at 7.30 and at 8.15 the following entertainment program was given:
Piano solo, E. D. B. Smith; address, Rev. S. A. Jackson; address, Rev. T. C. Atchison, D. D.; song, Mr. James Brown; address, Rev. B. A. Willmott; song, Mr. John Dickinson; address, Rev. A. C. Ferrin; address, Rev. J. M. Kyle, D. D.; song, Mr. James Brown; address, Rev. N. W. Matthews, Ph. D.; song, Mr. John Dickinson; address, Rev. B. R. Harris; address, Rev. J. M. Craig; accompanist, E. D. B. Smith. The committee on arrangements consisted of William Strachan, Alford

Asthma! Asthma!
POPHAM'S ASTHMA REMEDY gives instant relief and an absolute cure in all cases of Asthma, Bronchitis, and Hay Fever. Sold by druggists; mail on receipt of price $5.00.

CUTICURA SOAP BEST

FOR SKIN AND HAIR

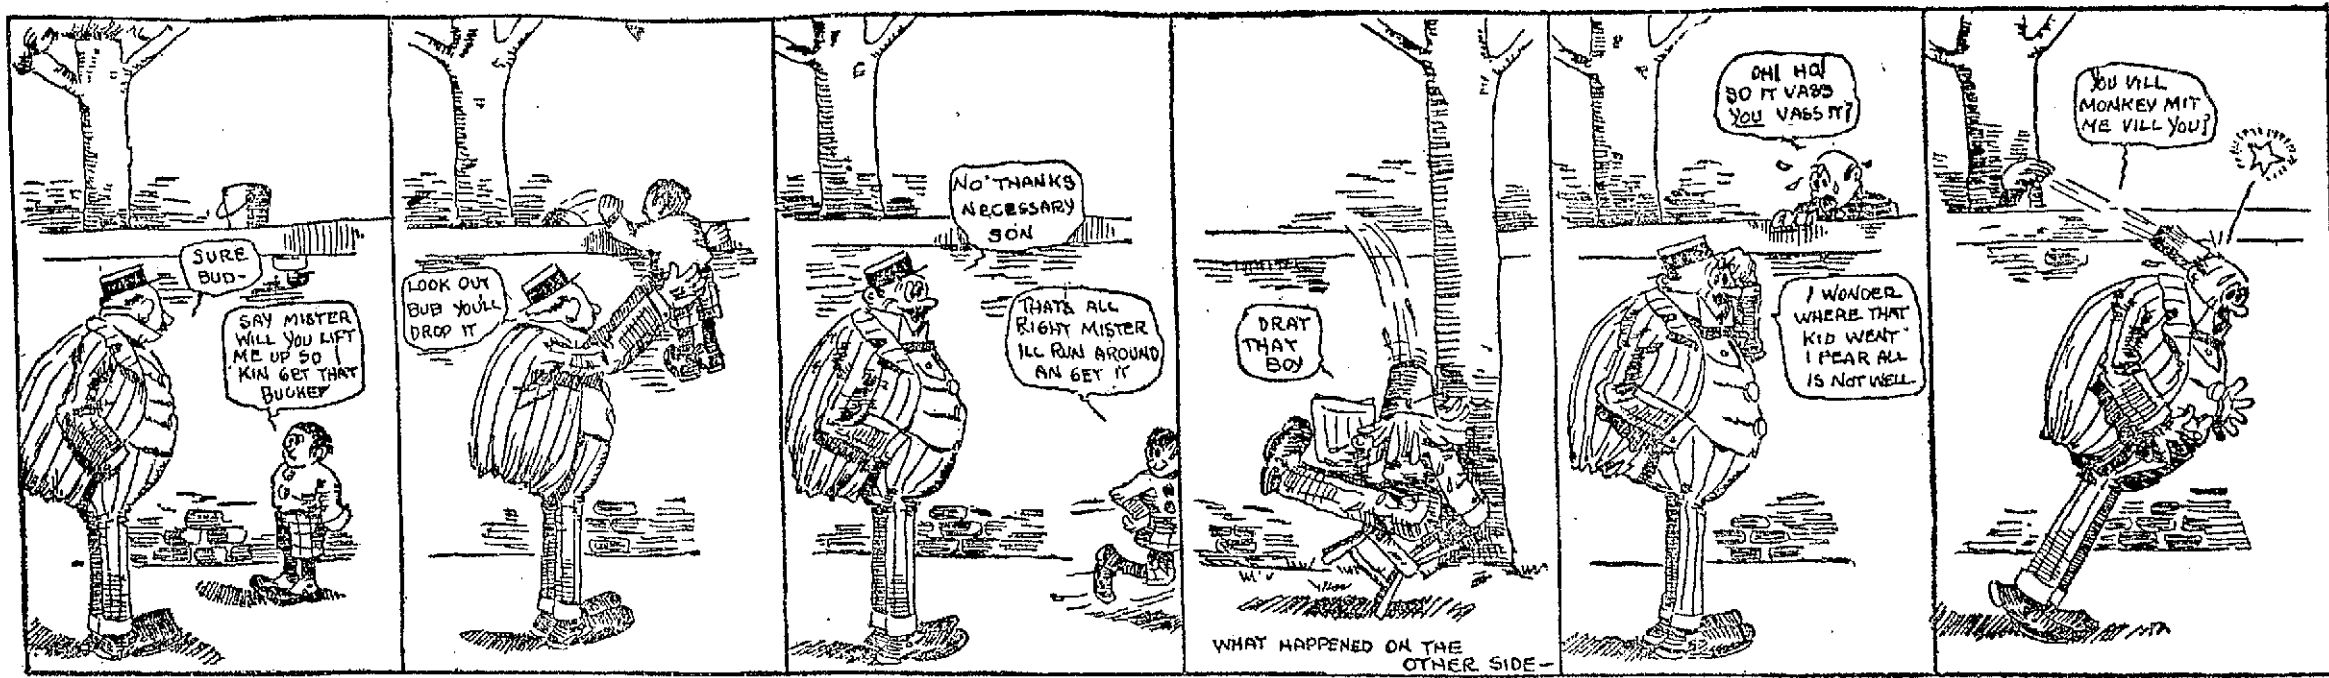

It is so because of its extreme purity, delicate yet effective medication, and refreshing fragrance. It costs but little more than ordinary soaps, wears to a wafer and gives comfort and satisfaction every moment of its use, for toilet, bath and nursery.

There is only one best kind of Mince Meat "like mother used to make," and that is NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT "LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE" Been at it 26 years. Two-ounce packages 10 cents. WERRELL-SOULER CO. SYRACUSE, NEW YORK

Meet Me AT THE LOWELL INN
The best place in Lowell to get a good square meal.

BEN'S HUNK O' KINDNESS GETS HIM INTO TROUBLE!

LIVELY PARTY SCRAP

Continued

Royal and Crowley, and they all voted for John W. O'Hara. He was declared elected in concurrence with the board of aldermen.

A vote for the office of city physician was suggested but a recess of ten minutes was taken.

After the ten minutes was up the roll call was again taken. Besides the nine members already mentioned there were present in the chamber but not participating in the meeting, Messrs. J. J. Rogers, Cheney, Whitford, Allard, Berard, Genest, Fulton, and C. E. Rogers. The chairman pro tem counted them as being present, thus establishing a quorum. This was following the precedent set by Speaker Reed in counting a quorum in congress.

A motion was made to ballot for superintendent of streets and the nine men who voted for Mr. O'Hara voted for Newell P. Putnam and Mr. Putnam was declared elected on the part of the common council.

When the clerk of the council left the chamber he took his books with him and Mr. Royal moved that the records be sent for. A messenger came back with the news that the clerk had left the building.

The next proposition was to ballot for city solicitor. J. Joseph Hennessy received six votes, James P. Corbett one, and W. W. Duncan one, and Mr. Hennessy was declared elected. Mr. Hennessy's name was sent down by the board of aldermen last January so that his election by the council last night was in concurrence.

The First Meeting

Before the adjournment declared by President Elliott the following business had been acted upon.

Notices of personal injuries were received, read and ordered on file. Various sidewalk and light petitions were read and referred to the proper committees.

A joint order to borrow $2700 for repairs on the Middlesex village school, the Dracut rifle range and for a hot water heater for city hall was adopted. It was provided for in the order that the money would be paid in ten annual payments. Councilman J. J. Rogers thought it was a pretty small amount for a ten year loan and on motion of Councilman Delaronde the order was made a one year loan and adopted as amended.

Councilman Royal's Order

A joint order to borrow $15,000 to erect a combination bath house and comfort station at the junction of Cross, Willow and Fletcher streets, was read. Mr. Delaronde moved that the order be referred to next year's government.

Mr. Royal, author of the order, said the plans had been submitted by the inspector of lands and buildings. He believed such a house could be made self sustaining. It is not a drive to put the Butler Vets out of the old fire house now on the land. The order was defeated by a vote of 16 to 11. Those voting in favor were Messrs. Brady, Connor, Corbett, Coughlin, Crowley, Gargan, Mahoney, C. E. Rogers, Royal, Tracy and Whitford. Those opposed—Achin, Allard, Berard, Bowers, Delaronde, Donohoe, Elliott, Fulton, Genest, Rantall, J. J. Rogers and Taylor.

$20,000 Sewer Order

An order to borrow $20,000 for the construction of sewers, to be paid in ten equal annual payments, was read. J. J. Rogers said that as a matter of courtesy to the new government he should favor the taking of no action. He moved that the matter be laid on the table until the next meeting, and that Supt. Putnam be asked to appear before the council at that time. The motion was seconded.

Councilman Chapman wanted to know if the sewer work was urgent. The chairman said that most of the money would be spent on the Lawrence street sewer. Mr. Gargan didn't want to see the order held up. He said it would put men out of work. Councilman Rogers wanted the matter explained by some member of the sewer committee and Alderman Rountree, chairman of the committee on sewers, was sent for. In answer to questions asked by J. J. Rogers, Mr. Rountree said: "The Lawrence street sewer, now under construction, was needed badly. The street is very ledgy there, and much money will be needed to complete it. All of that amount will be spent on that sewer."

"Do you know how long sewer work can be done?"

"I suppose all winter."

"The ground will be frozen in two or three weeks and all work will have to cease."

"The frost will not touch where the men are working, at a depth of 25 feet."

"Do you think that the sewer committee would object to this order being held up?"

"I feel that it would hamper the work there somewhat," said Mr. Rountree.

Mr. Coughlin said the work should be pushed through at once. Men of the sewer department usually work until January 1st. Mr. Chndwick said the failure to appropriate the money would be to take the bread and butter out of poor men's mouths.

"I don't care if the government of Zion City is coming next year," said

Mr. Coughlin, "we should go ahead and do this work."

J. J. Rogers wished the borrowing of a smaller sum of money at once, so that the men need not suffer through loss of work. He moved an amendment to the effect that $5000 be borrowed.

Alderman Daly said that more than $5000 of the loan order in question is already spent in anticipation of the order being passed. The failure of the order to pass will not interfere with the committee, but it will seriously interfere with the construction of sewers.

"No one here seems to know as to the definite finances of the sewer department," said Mr. Rogers. "We have not the men present who make it their business to know—the superintendent of sewer work and the city engineer."

COUNCILMAN GARGAN, Who Presided Over Session at Which Officials Were Chosen

"Will the whole of that $20,000 be spent before the first of the year comes around?" asked Mr. Achin.

"I was given to understand that it would be," said Mr. Daly.

"If that amount of money is not to be spent by this government, then that part of it which will be spent should only be appropriated," said Mr. Delaronde.

The question of amending the order came up. It was voted not to amend. The question of adopting the original order came up, and it was unanimously adopted.

In Cambridge a year or two ago James J. Aylward was elected city solicitor and the meeting at which he was elected was very similar to last night's meeting of the common council. The then city solicitor of Cambridge was Gilbert A. A. Pervey. He contested the election of Aylward and the supreme court decided against him.

In this particular case it was said that the vote to adjourn was doubted and was not verified by the president, who left his chair immediately upon declaring the meeting adjourned.

The supreme court held that the president of the council should have resolved the doubt on vote to adjourn, and he was not relieved of this duty by his immediately leaving the chair.

Hasn't Considered It

J. Joseph Hennessy, who was elected city solicitor by the council last night, was asked if he would qualify for the office. "I haven't given it any attention. I have been at the superior court all forenoon," said Mr. Hennessy.

GARBAGE MEN LOSE

But There is Still Danger of a General Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—No doubt remains that the city has won its fight with the municipal ash and garbage men. The collection of refuse which was abandoned when the drivers of the street cleaning department struck a week ago progressed almost as fast today as under normal conditions. The city administration has emerged victorious from its first serious strike and established its right to dictate hours of labor to its many thousand employees.

Night work, to avoid which the drivers struck, will be resumed as soon as the department can get its force of green men going smoothly.

The danger of a general teamsters' strike remains, but, judging from the action of the union, it is remote. The question arose last night at a meeting of the Greater New York district council of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and was put aside to await the wishes of the various organizations. No plans have been announced for any general movement among the locals to decide the matter. The council also voted in favor of an assessment to support the striking drivers.

The street cleaning department announced today that no more strike breakers would be hired. As rapidly as possible the department will fill the places of the imported strike breakers with recruits from the civil service list.

ARTHUR J. MARTEL

Tendered Surprise at Keith's Theatre

Musical Director Arthur J. Martel, who has recently taken charge of the orchestra at Keith's theatre, was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise just before the opening of the show last evening, in the presence of a crowded house, including many members of Lowell lodge of Elks who were behind the surprise.

The orchestra had played the overture and the curtain arose supposedly for the first act, but to the surprise, not only of Mr. Martel, but of the entire audience, the rise of the curtain disclosed the stage banked with flowers and in the centre a beautiful silver smoking set. Manager Will H. Stevens immediately stepped forth and stopping the orchestra with a wave of his hand remarked: "You're a bit hasty, tonight professor." Mr. Stevens then referred to the ability and popularity of Prof. Martel and in conclusion presented him the gifts that appeared on the stage, the smoking set; a cluster of beautiful roses which Manager Stevens said were from a lady patron of the Hathaway theatre; and a large bunch of chrysanthemums from the "Jolly Good Fellows." Prof. Martel bowed his acknowledgments after the storm of applause had subsided and then the show went on. Prof. Martel though in the early 20's has had a long and successful career as a pianist and musical director. When only ten years of age and before he had grown sufficiently to be able to strike the piano pedals with his feet he played professionally at the old Bijou theatre in Merrimack street, opposite city hall, when such latter day stars as the Rogers Bros., the Four Cohans and others came there. He then studied music from leading teachers of Boston and New York and perfected his musical education in London. He then went on the road with the western "192" original company and later played with different musical comedies, light opera and leading burlesque companies. His last professional engagement out of Lowell was with the Lyman Howe Moving Picture company, the greatest travelling moving picture show in America. Returning to Lowell a few years ago he met with great success as a teacher of piano and when the new organ was installed in St. Jean Baptiste church he was selected as organist, a position he still retains. He has played with different moving picture houses and orchestras of this city and for the past two seasons up to last Sunday was musical director of the Hathaway theatre orchestra. From the classics to ragtime he is equally at home on either piano or organ and as a director he has met with great success wherever he has appeared. Prof. Martel has a host of friends in this city who will wish him every success on "the new job." He is a popular member of the Lowell Lodge of Elks and the Lowell Musicians' association.

ARTHUR J. MARTEL

Court City of Lowell, 25th anniversary, Wednesday evening.

Lowell Opera House

Julius Cahn, Prop. and Mgr.

Wednesday, Nov. 15 THE YIDDISH PLAYERS

Thursday, Nov. 16 THE WHITNEY OPERA CO. PRESENTS

THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER Company of 100, Augmented Orchestra

Prices: $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c. Seats on Sale

Friday, Nov. 17 GERTRUDE RENNISON

Assisted by LEO ORNSTEIN Talented Russian Pianist and ALBERT A. WUNDERHOFF, Bass

Prices: 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50. Seats now SATURDAY, Nov. 18, Mat. and Night

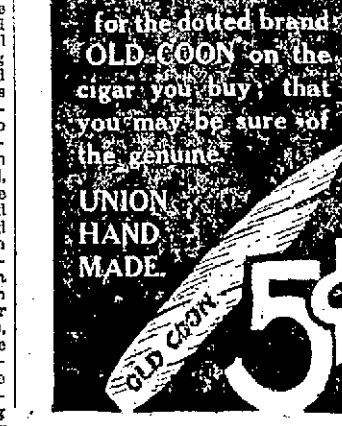

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Mat. 10c and 25c. Night, 10c, 20c, 30c. Seats on Sale

TUESDAY, DEC. 5TH Charles Frohman Presents

MAUDE ADAMS In Rostand's Poetic Drama

"CHANTECLER"

Prices: $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c, 50c. MAIL ORDERS accompanied by remittance will now be accepted and filled in the order received. Mail orders delivered Nov. 27th. Box of five seats opens Nov. 25th. Telephone orders suspended for this engagement.

BOWLING GAMES

SOME LIVELY CONTESTS ON ALLEYS LAST NIGHT

The T. & S. team won from the Bigelow by 44 pins in the Manufacturers' league on the Crescent alleys last night. The scores:

T. & S.	1	2	3	Tot.
Halkenny	99	95	87	281
French	95	101	91	287
E. Farrell	73	70	100	243
Michaud	96	101	80	277
Sargent	89	89	83	261
Totals	446	474	448	1368

Bigelow

Bigelow	1	2	3	Tot.
Sargent	89	89	93	261
McDermott	91	85	82	258
McKinley	82	83	85	250
Rourke	83	115	86	284
Thurston	99	82	80	261
Totals	444	454	426	1324

FOUNDRY TEAM LOST

The Foundry team was defeated by the Kitson team in a league game on Les Miserables alleys last night. Both teams are from the L. M. S. league. The totals:

Kitson	1	2	3	Tot.
Harrad	91	95	78	264
Corin	73	72	74	219
Green	80	82	82	244
Green	82	81	79	242
Conley	78	83	86	247
Totals	404	426	399	1229

Foundry

Foundry	1	2	3	Tot.
Davis	78	74	78	230
P. Flinnery	83	77	83	243
T. Flinnery	78	89	80	247
P. Clark	103	97	98	298
Hornby	72	85	80	237
Totals	404	405	389	1204

YARD MEN WON

The Yard team and the Drafting room team of the L. M. S. league met on Les Miserables alleys last night and after a hot game the Yard men came out winners. The totals:

Drafting Room	1	2	3	Tot.
Goodchild	84	84	84	252
C. Hedrick	83	70	78	231
Soule	103	70	71	244
Dana	75	80	82	237
Chase	83	85	85	253
Totals	428	389	380	1197

Yard

Yard	1	2	3	Tot.
Murray	68	88	101	257
Osborn	74	74	71	219
Boardman	72	91	86	249
Marshall	86	73	80	239
Wolcombe	88	88	73	249
Totals	381	409	411	1201

THE BRUNSWICK ALLEYS

The weekly roll-off on the Brunswick alleys was won by Martel with a total of 327. The winners:

B. Silcox	53	101	97
S. Silcox	75	90	82
S. Kenworthy ..	79	65	69
E. Chouinard ..	83	53	94
A. Schonbon ...	84	89	80
<hr/>
Totals	404	429	432

THE ATHLETICS WON

A LIVELY GAME

A lively bowling game was played on the Moody Bridge alleys last night between the Mt. Groves and the Pawtucket Blues, the former winning the three strings by 35 pins. The totals:

Mt. Groves	1	2	3	Tot.
W. Stack	77	82	87	246
C. Lyness	85	91	92	268
J. Sheehan	81	110	75	266
A. Silcox	88	88	83	259
W. Silcox	93	82	88	263
Totals	423	453	425	1300

Pawtucket Blues

Pawtucket Blues	1	2	3	Tot.
B. Silcox	82	101	97	280
S. Silcox	75	99	92	266
S. Kenworthy	79	65	69	213
E. Chouinard	83	83	94	260
A. Schonbon	84	89	80	253
Totals	404	429	422	1255

THE ATHLETICS WON

The Tigers lost to the Athletics on the Y. M. C. I. alleys last night. Both teams are from the Concord league. The totals:

Athletics	1	2	3	Tot.
W. King	97	89	62	255
McManis	104	81	90	275
J. Hayes	85	102	83	268
O'Keefe	76	96	81	253
Cole	82	83	86	251
Totals	442	451	409	1302

Tigers

Tigers	1	2	3	Tot.
Hesslan	92	97	94	283
Harrington	82	92	81	255
Corney	85	71	93	249
Sharkey	89	79	81	249
Sub.	76	81	60	217
Totals	428	420	418	1266

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. J. Arthur Miller and Miss Edith Harrison were united in marriage yesterday by the Rev. James Bancroft at his residence, 65 Fort Hill avenue. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at 68 Royal street.

RIVAL LIGHTWEIGHTS

Gallant and Jasper Will Appear Here

Interest in the coming boxing match between Johnnie Gallant of Chelsea and Young Jasper of Haverhill has extended beyond Lowell judging from the several applications for membership that have been received from Boston, Chelsea and Haverhill at the office of the Lowell Social and Athletic club.

The pair met before in this city with honors even after one of the best bouts ever witnessed here and since then there has been much discussion in the sporting papers elsewhere as to their respective merits. The pair would have been seen before at the armory club had not that club been obliged to suspend its meeting in the Cyclorama building on account of the law relative to no public gatherings being permitted in buildings in which gasoline is stored, the basement of the Cyclorama building being used as a garage.

Thus the bout intended for Boston is being brought to this city. The semi-final between Young Kelly of Centralville and Charlie Anastas, the Greek boxer, is attracting much attention locally.

WITH RED SOX

Arthur Foye Signed by John I. Taylor

Arthur Foye of Centralville, brother of Purchasing Agent Foye and Walter and Raymond Foye, of baseball fame, promises to outstrip his older brothers on the diamond, for yesterday he was signed up by John I. Taylor for the Boston Americans and will go south with them. Arthur, first came before the public as a ball player while a student at St. Anselm's, and caught for that team against Lowell when they played here. Since leaving school he has played at St. Stephens, N. H., and at Maplewood, Mass., at which latter place he attracted the attention of John I. Taylor. Arthur is not yet 20 years old but stands six feet tall and weighs 175 pounds and is strong and active.

BASEBALL CLUBS

MUST SETTLE CLAIMS BEFORE JANUARY 1

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 15.—Hereafter baseball clubs and leagues must settle all claims before January 1 or protection of the National Association of Professional Leagues will be withdrawn. This rule was decided on by the board of arbitration while en route to San Antonio to attend the annual meeting of the association. As there are 172 claims now outstanding, the effect of the ruling will be sweeping. It was also decided that the Western Canada League should be raised from class D to class C but the application of the Canadian League for similar advancement was denied on grounds of insufficient population.

"BY GUM"

Character Party and Barn Dance

In aid of St. Margaret's Church

Associate Hall

TONIGHT

Specialty Dancing and Costume March at 8. Dancing, 8.15 till 12. Tickets 35c. Augmented Orchestra

7-20-4

10c Cigar

Factory output—upwards of 100,000 daily. Largest selling brand of cigars in the world. Factory—Boston, N. H.

MEMBERS, NOTICE!

Lowell Social and Athletic Club

REGULAR MEETING

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 17

GALLANT vs. JASPER

AND OTHER ATTRACTIONS

BEKEL'S THEATRE
LOWELL, MASS.
ATTRACTIVE

THINK OF IT
1000 SEATS AT MATINEE
At 10c
Orchestra.....15c and 25c
Evening.....10c to 50c
GREAT SHOW

MERRIMACK THEATRE
JOHN J. QUIGLEY
"The Original Newsboy Tenor"
OUR STOCK COMPANY Presenting
"The Midnight Train"
Three Other Good Acts
Friday Night....."Norma"

Academy of Music
BESSIE
The Unfading Melody, with Torrell's
The Unfading Melody, with Torrell's
PROUDADOUR FOUR, That Famous Quartet: "BILLIE" DICK, The Singing Melod

POISONED BY GAS

Young Woman Was Found Dead in Her Room

Vasilki Soule, a young woman aged 20 years, was found dead in her room at 155 Market street late yesterday afternoon, and death was due to gas poisoning. When the body was found, gas was pouring out of an unlighted jet, and the girl had been dead but a short time.

No definite reason can be ascribed for the act, if it was suicide, except that the girl had been ill for a few days. She was last seen at 6 o'clock yesterday morning by some of the other roomers of the house. Late in the afternoon the odor of gas was distinctly perceptible around the place and a roomer started an investigation. The trail led to the young woman's room, and as the door was locked, it was burst open. The body of the young girl was found on the bed with all the windows closed tightly and the gas was escaping from a nearby jet which had not been lighted.

The girl had been employed at the Boot mills and had worked until Saturday, when she complained of being ill. She did not return to work Monday or Tuesday, although she seemed to be in good spirits.

Deceased is survived by a father and a brother.

Why Suffer?

Why not take the famous remedy Beecham's Pills—famous the world over for its power to relieve the headaches, backaches, lassitude, extreme nervousness and depression of spirits so many women suffer from, at times.

Fortunately thousands have learned that they can absolutely trust Beecham's Pills. Will you also learn to

TAKE

BEECHAM'S PILLS

They will spare you hours and hours of suffering. After a few doses your digestion will be better, your liver more active, your bowels regular, your system cleared of the poison that does so much harm.

Your nerves will be toned up; your general health vastly improved; your blood made richer and purer. In spirits, in bodily feelings, and in appearance you will be all the better after you take Beecham's Pills. They give the natural assistance you are sure to need at times to avoid harmful complications

And Be A

Healthy, Happy Woman

At all druggists, in boxes, 10c. and 25c.

For women Beecham's Pills are the best and most reliable medicine. Every woman who values her health and strength should read the special directions with every box.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Still on the crest of a wave of popularity which only increases in volume with each successive season, "The Chocolate Soldier" will carry in this city for one performance only to the amusement-lovers of Lowell on Thursday, Nov. 16 with his merry adventures, his grotesque romances, and a fund of delicious songs and melodies of a variety that will appeal to people of every temperament.

Strauss, the composer of this operatic conqueror of two continents and a dozen capitals, is author of a long list of successful operas, but in "The Chocolate Soldier" he has not only surpassed himself but has reached the absolute summit of light operatic achievement, and given a stimulus to activity in that realm of music which it has been sadly in need of since the days of Gilbert and Sullivan. Music such as has not been heard for a generation rings through the acts of the opera which derives its story from Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" and it is music that surprises by its capriciousness when a song of warm, radiant passion gives place to a mad, mocking ballad with mirth bursting at every note. Strauss' spontaneous and easy response to every demand that the moods of the plot make upon him is the great secret of the opera's success.

Full evidence of this is found in the wide fame attained and maintained by "My Hero," "The Letter Song," "Sympathy," "Falling in Love" and "The Fall of a Coat" and as many more of equal beauty. The grandeur and romance of the Bulgarian atmosphere, the gay lures and colors in vogue among the people of the region, and the military note in music and costume that pervades the opera have given Mr. Whitney many an opportunity to exhibit his prowess as a producer. The superb mounting of the present production and the strong company of artists assembled for its interpretation, mean the greatest season in the history of "The Chocolate Soldier" in this country. As in past seasons, the Whitney Opera Company orchestra will assume the orchestral duties.

GERTRUDE RENNYSON

Friday evening, Nov. 17, is the date set for the appearance here at the Opera House of Miss Gertrude Rennyson, who at one time sang in the High Street church choir and who for five years studied under eminent European masters. Upon her return to America, Miss Rennyson became a member of the Henry W. Savage Grand Opera Co.

The charm of her singing and acting is fresh in the memory of all those who have heard her, and it may be safely said that in all the cities where the organization appeared, the name of Gertrude Rennyson stands for the highest in music and art.

After winning fame in America and doing much towards the furthering of opera in English in this country, Miss Rennyson continued her operatic career in Europe, singing at the Theatre de la Monnaie, Brussels, the Hofoper in Vienna, the Stadt theatre in Prague, the Royal Opera of Dresden, besides a season at Covent Garden and Bayreuth. It was at Brussels that the late Heinrich Conrad heard Miss Rennyson and offered her an engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House of New York, but at the outset of a brilliant European career the American singer thought it best to decline the offer.

After five years in Europe, Gertrude Rennyson returns to her own country to be heard in opera, concert and oratorio during the season of 1911-12. There is no doubt that the countless admirers of Miss Rennyson will be glad to have the opportunity of hearing her again.

MAUDE ADAMS

The advance mail order sale for the engagement here at the Opera House, December 5th of Maude Adams in Hostand's drama "Chanticleer," is now going on and indications point to an unusually large attendance in welcome here again, one of Manager Charles Frohman's most popular stars.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN

The Stetson Big Double "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company which appears at the Opera House Saturday is making a spectacular scenic production of this play this season. Some of these scenes are the "Suwanee River" by moonlight, the cotton fields in full bloom, the Ohio river in winter and the escape of Eliza carrying her child across the floating ice, the rocky pass in which George Harris made his stand against the men pursuing him, and protects his family; the St. Clair plantation, and the levee at New Orleans, showing a slave auction; Legree's plantation, and, lastly, the beautiful transformation scene showing Eliza's ascension to the Celestial City.

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

It is seldom that an audience rises en masse at the playing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," that honor being paid only to the "Star Spangled Banner," but "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" as played by the Five Musical Noses at the close of their charming act at Keith's this week, was so inspiring that the audience with patriotic fervor arose and remained standing until the last notes of the familiar tune had died away when they burst forth in applause. The Noses are way ahead of anything ever seen in the musical line in Lowellville. They present a scene from Old Seville, the centre of music and romance, and appear in the picturesque costume of Spain. Their instruments in addition to the great brass horns on which they inspire the audience consist of mandoline and guitar of the old fashioned Spanish type; violins and cellos and the different forms of saxophones. They include in their program both popular and classical music and play with equal skill. McCormick and Wallace, the Australian ventriloquists, have everything in their little bag and it is really hard to believe that the figures they introduce are not real and alive. Miss Wallace in addition to her ability as a ventriloquist is a pretty singer, good dancer and exceedingly fair to behold. Lewis and Dohy, the parodists and comedy singers, have one fine act and original line of the burlesque. They are quietly but soon becomes an uproar. The pair are at home in Dango, Yiddish, German or French, and they are saying or singing something every minute. Arthur Whitelaw, the Irish-American actor giving a feast of funny stuff closes his act with a tender sentimental recitation, "The Boy of the Morning." Al and Mattie Barker do a delightful pianolek with some new songs. Les Montforts are two artists par excellence. Introducing their celebrated "Leap the Loop" act, "The Belton-Chapell company has all Lowell going with its comedy act concerning the two stranded actors and their way to get the price of a food. Bert Melrose is the prince of clowns and his breakneck falls are a marvel of narrow escapes. The pictures are in keeping with the rest of the bill, the best ever.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Donald Meek in the long list of funny characters that he has portrayed either on the Hathaway stage or elsewhere has never appeared in a funnier one, than as Junior Cashmore. Bragg, actor-manager and producer of plays, in "A Knight for a Night," now the attraction at the Hathaway and the greatest scream of the season. Mr. Meek takes the part of a typical ham actor who can play anything from Romeo to roasting over a railroad tie to the next town and his make-up is as tragic as his histrionic career. He is ably assisted in presenting the uproariously funny farce by the entire Donald Meek stock company for every member of the cast becomes involved in some of the innumerable complications that attend the production of the Italian tragedy which causes all the trouble in the home of a staid and dignified college professor. A very pleasing feature of the play aside from the fun-making which pervades it is the singing of Mr. William Walsh, who before going into stock theatre was a big success in musical comedy. Mr. Walsh will be pleasantly recalled as a favorite singer in this city several years ago before going upon the stage and his voice still retains its old time sweetness. He is accompanied on the piano by Miss Lucile Spinyne, who in addition to her dramatic ability is an accomplished musician. From the time that J. C. Bragg appears on the scene early in the first act until the closing of the play there is not a sober moment for the audience and a continuous riot of laughter is the rule at each performance. Next week the Donald Meek stock company will present "The Struggle." Seats for this week's performance may be ordered in advance by telephone, 311.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

All first-class acts and photo-plays that are unequalled constitute this week's offering at the Merrimack Square theatre. Not in many months has such an excellent program been offered the patrons of this playhouse. John J. Quigley, the well-known newsboy tenor, is being heard in some of his latest song successes, as well as several of his old-time favorites that won for him country-wide reputation as a singer. Mr. Quigley is still in excellent voice and his endeavors to please have met with unqualified success at all performances.

The offering by Our Stock Company, a one-act play by Al E. Watts, entitled "By the Midnight Train," is a cleverly written affair and presented by Mr. Weston and the other members in a manner that is entirely pleasing. Reed's Acrobatic Bull Terriers do all kinds of amusing stunts and Nebraska Bill & Co. in a novel wild west entertainment, consisting of knife throwing, whip snapping, shooting and a horse act as an added feature, are contributors to this excellent bill. The presentation of Parent and King, comedians of high rank, is unusually amusing and the photo-plays are without question the best of the season. On the last, two days of the week Pat's wonderful views of world-wide events will be shown. On Friday night the Merrimack Square concert orchestra will feature selections from the opera "Norma."

MASS MEETING

TO SELECT A CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMAN

The members of the committee of 12, who were appointed by the mass meeting held at C. M. A. C. hall last Sunday, met at the same hall last night and discussed the matter of holding a caucus in order to determine which candidate to endorse and support during the coming municipal campaign.

Dr. J. Elzeur Lamoureux having declined to run for mayor, a good candidate will now be sought forward for alderman and he will be supported by the polls. It was found that the committee would not have time to prepare for a caucus, so that project was abandoned and instead, a mass meeting will be held Sunday again at C. M. A. C. hall at which time the stamp of approval will be put on some particular candidate or candidates and they will be supported to the best of the committee's ability.

The committee of 12 named last Sunday is: Xavier Delisle, Homer L. P. Turcotte, Henri Adam, Jr., representing the C. M. A. C. hall; William Remond, William A. Parthenais, Joseph Provost, representing the Middlesex Social club; Pierre A. Brousseau, Arthur Demers, C. E. Bonnet, representing the Centralville Social club; Joseph A. Sawyer, Rodrigue Descheneaux, Thomas J. Goyette, representing the Pawtucketville Social club.

They're Your Biscuit, Remember

No matter how much we help you—

The credit all goes to you.

And all the failures due to faulty flour are charged to the cook.

So this is your question, Madam.

When you order simply "a sack of flour," you do yourself an injustice.

Flours differ immensely.

By simply saying "Gold Medal," you make certain of getting the best flour ever milled.

Here is one of the proofs:

Gold Medal Flour, in the test of time, has come to outsell all others.

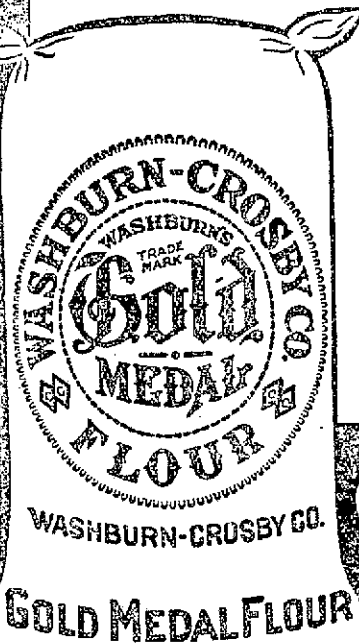

Millions have made their comparisons. As a result, 24,000,000 folks daily are now fed on the bakings of Gold Medal Flour.

Just because they have found, in the actual baking, that no other flour gives the results of Gold Medal.

Next time you order be sure to say—

Washburn-Crosby's

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

MADAM—You can buy your coat today—money or no money, if you come here. We've been doing a credit business for so many years that we can't remember doing anything else. We've been improving and broadening our terms every season.

YOU CAN BUY YOUR COAT TODAY—WITHOUT A CENT DEPOSIT AND START PAYMENTS A WEEK LATER.

More new customers have come in this season than ever before. Are you going to wait—or will you be one of the progressives?

Caesar Misch Store
ALEXANDER STRAUSS, INC.

220 CENTRAL STREET

BUILDING UP CHURCH

Talk by Field Secretary Waterbury

William E. Waterbury, field secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist missionary society, gave an interesting talk on the laymen's missionary movement at the Highland Methodist church, last evening, substituting for Rev. Frederick E. Fisher, who was unable to attend.

Mr. Waterbury spoke of the Men's Forward Movement of today and the growing feeling among men that religion concerns them as well as women, and that the work of the church is man's work. He dwelt upon the broadening out of the work of the individual churches and the passing of the old narrow denominational form of religious life.

In closing he outlined the means of building up the church, both from without and from within by the contribution of small sums paid in weekly, as the best means of building this work among the men. He concluded with a very convincing statement of the actual results of missionary campaigns which had been conducted by dividing up the work into committees of men similar to that employed by the Y. M. C. A. in their campaigns, an intelligent and concerted action on the part of everybody engaged in the campaign.

COLD CHASE HEADACHE
LANATIVE BROMO Quinine, the world wide Cold and Grip remedy removes cause. Call for full name. Look for signature E. W. GROVE, 25c.

AT REGISTRATION

Women Outnumber the Male Applicants

The women are running way ahead of the men at registration, yesterday's record being 36 men and 54 women. The registration by wards was as follows:

Ward one, seven; ward two, five; ward three, five; ward four, three; ward five, two; ward six, two; ward seven, five; ward eight, one; ward nine, none. Total 39.

Women—Ward one, 12; ward two, nine; ward three, nine; ward four, one; ward five, one; ward six, six; ward seven, eight; ward eight, 14; ward nine, 24; total, 84.

Registration will continue every afternoon and evening this week. There will be registration every day this week except Saturday.

THE COLONIAL MAIDENS

A meeting of the Colonial Maidens took place last night at the home of Miss Ethel Dunbar. The officers of the club were elected as follows: Miss Anna Mahoney, president; Miss Margaret McNeeney, vice-president; Miss Edna Murray, treasurer; Miss Mary McNeeney, secretary. After the officers were elected a fine program was carried out: Readings by Miss Helen Shea; piano selections by Miss Mary Connor and Miss Margaret McNeeney; mandolin solo by Miss Gerwood Blake. Refreshments were served by Miss Agnes Hamel and Miss Irene Lyons. The meeting adjourned at a late hour. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Alice Hogan.

CHOKED TO DEATH

Cleveland Man Victim of Piece of Meat

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 15.—S. J. Cannon, a Cleveland salesman, was choked to death by a piece of roast beef while eating in a local hotel cafe yesterday. There were few in the room at the time, and when a waiter saw him leaning over the table he thought the man was choking. A touch on the shoulder failed to arouse Cannon and an investigation was started and a physician summoned.

The doctor arrived too late to save the man's life. Cannon had been here several days demonstrating. He was about 32 years of age and is understood to have a wife and one child in Cleveland.

ONLY SOBER MEN WANTED

Every line of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. If you are a drinking man, it may be your time next. Better stop drinking at once. Orline, the standard remedy for the liquor habit, will help you. By the aid of Orline thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry.

We are so sure that Orline will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

ORLINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink; ORLINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORLINE costs only $1 a box. If you are interested in some one who drinks, you owe it to yourself to come to our store and get free booklet and information. Riker-Jaynes Co., 119-123 Merrimack street.

ACCIDENT AT NO. CHELMSFORD

An accident which considerably delayed the car traffic in North Chelmsford occurred in the latter place this afternoon when a car jumped the tracks. A woman was slightly injured and the car was badly damaged.

Car No. 408 of the Bay State Street Railway company, in charge of Motorman John Molloy and Conductor William Hill was scheduled to reach Merrimack square at 2.18. It left North Chelmsford on time and when it reached Mr. John McMenamin's grocery store it jumped the tracks and came near going over the embankment and into the adjoining field. The motors of the car dropped and the front axle was snapped. Mrs. Stanley who was a passenger aboard the car when the accident occurred was slightly injured. The accident tied up traffic and it was some time before the regular time schedule could be taken up again.

GOV. FOSS' EXPENSE ACCOUNT

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—The expense account of Gov. Foss during the recent campaign, which was returned to His Excellency by Secretary of State Langtry on the ground that it was not sufficiently explicit, has been sent to the law firm of Littlefield & Littlefield of New York at its request but for what reason is not known at the state house. The leading member of the law firm is former Congressman Charles Littlefield of Maine, a republican.

It was stated in unofficial circles that the account might be used as a basis for procedure under the corrupt practice act, which provides for forfeiture of office as one of the penalties.

Governor Foss returned from Virginia today and refused to comment upon the action of the secretary of state.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Gov. Foss issued his first Thanksgiving proclamation today, agreeing with President Taft in naming the 30th instant. The document is unusually short and has the customary approval of the executive council and the signature of Secretary of State Langtry.

SENATOR CAUSED A SENSATION

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.—U. S. Senator Owen of Oklahoma created a sensation at today's session of the trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress when he declared he had every reason to believe that the same people who fought Dr. Harvey Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, were now furnishing money to oppose the movement looking to the establishment of a national department of health.

CANADIAN NORTHERN EXPRESS WRECKED

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 15.—The Canadian Northern express, running from Regina, Sask., to Winnipeg, was wrecked at Ladysmith today. All of the cars left the track, the sleeper being turned over on its side. Several passengers were injured but none fatally.

THE REPUBLICANS

HAVE ISSUED AN ADDRESS TO THE CONSULS

AMOY, Nov. 15.—The republicans who took formal possession of the city yesterday have published an address to the consuls in which the neutrality of the latter is requested and assurance given that their property, including the churches, would be protected.

The city remained quiet today. The American cruiser Saratoga and the American gunboat Quinos will sail for the north today. The British cruiser Monmouth is relieving the British sloop Rosario.

Hai Cheng, on the mainland southwest of Amoy, has gone over to the revolutionists. The city magistrate has been made a prisoner. Chung Chow, 24 miles west of here, reports fighting there. Word comes from Tusan Chow, a seaport 50 miles northeast of Amoy, that the local officers have fled and the revolutionary element is in control.

A RECEPTION

TO YOUNG WOMEN WHO ORGANIZED WHIST PARTIES

The young women who so successfully organized the recent whist party at St. Louis' parochial school hall, were tendered a reception last night by the pastor of the church, Rev. J. N. Jacques, the latter being ably assisted in the affair by Rev. Fr. Bedard, chaplain of the Holy Mary sodality.

The young women, numbering about 40, gathered in the school hall and spent a very pleasant evening. A delightful musical and literary program was rendered, every one present taking part in it. The assembly was addressed by both the pastor and the curate, who congratulated the members of the sodality for the success obtained, and also thanked them for their good work toward the parish. At the close of the affair a dainty buffet lunch was served.

BAY STATE LOSES

Will Not Get Eddy Inheritance Tax

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Through the failure of Atty. Gen. Swift to take an appeal in the required time the state of New Hampshire will have the full benefit of the inheritance tax on the estate of the late Mrs. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science church.

Attorney General Swift, however, will press the contention that Mrs. Eddy had no right, under the state statutes, to bequeath property giving an annual dividend of more than $2000 to the directors of the Christian Science church, which question probably will be argued in the supreme court of Massachusetts within a few weeks.

The relinquishment of whatever rights Massachusetts may have had in the inheritance tax on the Eddy estate removes a bone of contention between the two states which might have carried the case to the supreme court at Washington.

It also brings the whole will litigation a step nearer final settlement.

AMERICAN BANKER

SAYS HE DINED WITH MIX SUNDAY EVENING

PARIS, Nov. 15.—Nothing developed today to throw greater light on the disappearance of Edgar W. Mix, the American consulting engineer and aeronaut, who is supposed to have committed suicide by dropping overboard from a mailboat Sunday night. J. O'H. Murray, an American banker in London, has written friends here saying that he dined with Mix Sunday evening, when the latter told him that he would return to Paris that night.

Mr. Mix had the papers presenting the American side in the case of the Statue of Liberty flight, the prize for which was awarded successively to John B. Moissant, the American who was later killed, and Count De Lesseps and which is to come up on appeal by Claude Grahame-White before the International Aeronautic Federation at its meeting in Rome Nov. 25. Officers of the Aero club of America have called here asking that these documents be obtained from Mr. Mix's effects and turned over to the secretary of the American club, who is now on his way to Paris.

TWO SUSPECTS

WERE ARRESTED AT PITTSFIELD, ME. TODAY

NEWPORT, Me., Nov. 15.—Two French Canadians who belong in Waterville were taken into custody at Pittsfield early today by Night Watchman Corey on suspicion that they were the ones who escaped last night after exchanging pistol shots with Night Watchman Hendon when they were discovered in the Pittsfield post office. They offered no resistance when captured. They were brought here and were identified by several persons as having been seen here early last evening. Together with Angus Henderson of Waterville, who was caught in the collar of the post office, they were taken to Bangor to be arraigned before United States Commissioner Reid, Jr., this afternoon.

M. E. CONFERENCE

DENVER, Nov. 15.—Bishops attending the Home Mission and Extension of the Methodist Episcopal conference today, the last of the six days meeting, participated in the ceremonies of the breaking of bread for the new science hall, a donation of Andrew Carnegie to Denver university, a Methodist institution.

Among the appropriations made are the following: The Italian mission, including all Italian work east of Indianapolis $37,800; Porto Rico $20,000; the several German conferences $28,300; Boston $33,500; with an additional grant of $1626 for the Morgan Memorial church.

A Big Boom in

COATS and SUITS

We have received the past three days 500 COATS AND SUITS, mostly samples and the balances of Fine Coths made in the season's BEST STYLES. This fortunate purchase will be offered to you at the same reductions that our big buying power scooped them for.

SALE COMMENCES

THURSDAY MORNING

230 SUITS

Handsome cloths and in five of the best styles. All goods used earlier in $25 and $30 suits at..... $18.75

You should see these five suits.

Suits at $15.00

Suits at $12.50

Fine cheviot, serge and mixtures; only the lucky buy would allow us to offer them so cheap.

About 50 in this lot, mixtures, serges, one and two of a kind. This price represents only the labor.

If You Want a Suit See This Stock Today

Coats at $15.00

150 coats, mostly samples, Skinner lining, new collar effects, all $20 and $25 coats

Coats at $10

100 in kersey, broadcloth and mixtures, all $12.50 and $15 coats. Sale price..... $10

Silk Messaline

Petticoats

To match the suits, worth $5.00, at... $2.98

100 DRESSES IN FINE SERGES, 12 STYLES, SELLING TO $12.50, AT... $7.95

New York Cloak and Suit Co.

12-18 JOHN STREET

THE McNAMARA TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15.—For the second time in eight days the privilege for peremptory challenges against talesmen in the McNamara trial was expected to be invoked today, to the inevitable loss of some now in the jury box. With three jurors already sworn, the ninth man needed to fill the box again and precipitate the volley of peremptory challenges was in view when court convened as M. W. Corcoran, who had passed the defense for cause, was undergoing examination by the state.

THEATRES TO CLOSE

WARWICK, R. I., Nov. 15.—Because of the continued spread of the smallpox epidemic in the Pawtucket valley the board of health in this town requested the theatres and moving picture showhouses to close until further orders. Bowling alleys, poolrooms and all other places of amusement will be closed. The number of cases was swelled today to 93 and nearly 50 buildings are under quarantine. The town authorities have secured the Ballard block, occupied by six families under quarantine and one free from the disease, as an emergency hospital and have requested the family not under quarantine to move to another house. Among the new cases discovered today was William Rice, a man of 85 years.

AMOSKEAG CO. SHARES LISTED

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Temporary certificates of the Amoskeag Mfg. Co., a voluntary association representing 100,242 shares of common and 112,829 shares of preferred stock, were listed today on the Boston stock exchange. This action follows the reorganization of the Amoskeag from a joint stock company to a voluntary association, plans for which were approved by the stockholders a few weeks ago.

STANDARD OIL DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey declared today a dividend for the last quarter of the year of seven dollars a share. This is the last dividend to be declared before the company dissolves under the mandate of the supreme court.

The Standard Oil Co. of New York declared a dividend of $20 a share, which is equivalent to a dividend of $3.05 a share on the stock of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

The regular Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey dividend for the last quarter of the year has been $10 a share.

Since the Standard Oil was formed into corporate form in 1882 it has distributed about $751,000,000 in dividends.

BUTTER AND EGGS SCORE THE MAYOR

Chicago Board Cuts Prices of Them Norfolk Aldermen Denounce His Utterances

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A surprise equal to that caused by the action of the Chicago Butter and Egg board when on Monday it forced up the price of butter and eggs came today when it became known that the board had just as suddenly cut the prices to the figures which prevailed on last Saturday. The board, which is under investigation by the government, cut the price of butter from 33 cents to 32 cents a pound. The board reduced the price of eggs from the Monday price of 26 and 28 cents to the Saturday price of 25 and 27 cents. The prices were sent up on the day that the cold wave struck Chicago.

United States District Attorney Wilkerson said that the price committee of the butter and egg board would be given a chance to explain its action of Monday in the chancery hearings this week in the government suit to dissolve the board.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 15.—Denouncing it as a "gross breach of the proprieties and an affront to the dignity of those assembled," the Norfolk board of aldermen last night adopted a resolution formally repudiating a "bloody shirt" utterance said to have been made at the recent waterways convention in Richmond by Mayor James Riddick, who attended the convention as a representative of this city. It is alleged that the mayor declared in his address: "I am from a southern city and I am a southerner through and through. If I had one drop of northern blood in my heart I would tear it out."

After a preamble setting forth the mayor's utterance was particularly offensive to the delegates from north and that "it is necessary to claim any such sentiments" the board of aldermen decided to formally repudiate the mayor.

THE GILBRIDE COMPANY

Tomorrow Morning

WE BEGIN OUR ANNUAL

Thanksgiving Sale of LINENS

We believe our linen store carries a larger and more varied assortment of Thanksgiving table linens than any other establishment in Lowell. Only the very best production from Irish, Scotch, German and Austrian manufacturers and room in this popular section of our store. "Quality" first, last and all the time in our linen department.

See the beautiful linens—displayed in Merrimack street window.

DAMASKS

20 pieces 62-inch Table Damask, warranted every thread pure linen, full grass bleached, extra heavy and all new designs to select from. These goods retail at 62 1-2c yard. Thanksgiving sale price 49c yard

Remnants of 72-inch Table Damask in satin stripe and floral designs, extra good value at 98c yard. Thanksgiving sale price69c yard

We carry a complete line of all Linen Crashes and Glass Linen with prices ranging from8 1-2c up to 25c yard

Dollar Satin Damask

Everybody says we have the best Dollar Table Damask in the city. We invite comparison on our special Thanksgiving number, full 72 inches wide. Thanksgiving sale price.....$1.00 yard

72-inch Satin Table Damask in 10 beautiful designs to select from, warranted to be the best damask sold at $1.50 yard. Thanksgiving sale price.....$1.25 yard

NAPKINS

100 Dozen 20-inch Napkins, all hemmed, a good value at $1.25. Thanksgiving sale price75c dozen

72 Dozen 22-inch Napkins, all hemmed, regular price $1.50. Thanksgiving sale price98c dozen

22-inch Warranted All Pure Linen Napkins, a good value for ordinary use, regular price $2.30. Thanksgiving sale price$1.98 dozen

22-inch Double Damask Napkins, one of our leaders at $3.25. Thanksgiving sale price$2.50 dozen

Cloths and Napkins, hemmed free of charge if desired. Just say the word.

TRAY CLOTHS

Size 15x24 All Linen Unhemmed Tray Cloths, regular value 17c. Thanksgiving sale price12 1-2c each

Size 18x27 Satin Damask Unhemmed Tray Cloths, a dandy at 39c. Thanksgiving sale price.....25c each

Size 18x27 Hemstitched Tray Cloths, five designs to select from, value 30c. Thanksgiving sale price.....25c each

Size 20x30 Hemstitched Double Damask Tray Cloths, regular value 69c. Thanksgiving sale price.....50c each

45-inch Round Scalloped Edge Lunch Cloths, all linen with beautiful embroidered designs, regular value $5.98. Special for Thanksgiving sale$2.98 each

CONTINUOUS WORK

North Chelmsford Mills
Running Day and Night

The Moore Scouring mill at North Chelmsford started working all day and all night this week so great is the rush of business while the Silesia Worsted mills at the same place are also running day and night.

The Boston Ice company has resumed operations at its ice houses at Crystal lake, North Chelmsford, after a suspension of three weeks and is sending away many carloads of ice daily.

The Chelmsford Iron Foundry still continues its rush of business.

DEATHS

LAJEUNESSE—Victor Lajeunesse, aged 65 years, 1 month and 23 days, died today at his late home, 7 rear of 369 Middlesex street. Deceased is survived by three children, Alfred of Brockton, Wilfred of Springfield, Me., and Mrs. Albina Arcand of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

KEEFE—Mrs. Bessie Keefe, wife of Joseph Keefe an old and highly respected resident of Lowell, and a devout attendant at St. Michael's church, died this morning at her home, 25 Seventh street. Deceased is survived by her husband, three sons, Joseph H., James C. and George F. Keefe, and five daughters, Mrs. W. C. Adams, Mrs. John Cox, the Misses Josephine L., Harriet J. and Bertha A. Keefe, and eleven grandchildren.

RYAN—Mary Ryan, an old and highly esteemed resident of this city, died today at the Chelmsford street hospital, aged 96 years.

CURRIER—Mrs. Carrie Brownell Currier died at her residence, 95 Ludlum street, Nov. 14th. She was born in Northport, Nova Scotia, in 1845, but came to the states about 1880, and for some time since had been a resident of Lowell. Deceased was a member of the Kirk Street church and was deeply interested in its welfare, taking part in its activities as time and strength permitted.

She leaves, besides her husband, Edwin M. Currier of Ludlum street, two sisters, Mrs. Martha C. Thompson of Biddeford, Me., and Mrs. Margaret E. Angus of Northport, N. S.; also a brother, Mr. James C. Brownell of Northport.

PARHAM—Mrs. Maria E. Parham died yesterday at her home, 80 Eighth street, aged 77 years, 8 months. Deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Stickney of this city, and Mrs. A. S. Bacheider of Waltham; two brothers, Charles and Edwin Parham of Waltham, and a half-brother, D. P. Alwood of Pellam, N. H.

JOHNSON—Died, early this morning, at his home, 15 Gates street, Byron Johnson, aged 56 years. Deceased, who was a well known stable keeper, died as a result of injuries sustained by a fall at his place of business in Thorneville st. last Sunday. He was a member of Mechanics lodge, I. O. O. F. and Antiquity lodge of Masons, and is survived by a wife, one daughter, Miss C. Frank Johnson, a brother, A. C. Johnson of Chateaugay, N. Y., and three sisters.

WELCH—Michael Welch, an old and well known resident, and a veteran of the Civil war, died yesterday at the Lowell hospital. Deceased was one of Lowell's pioneer carriage painters and served throughout the Civil war as a member of the 33d Mass. regiment as a drummer boy. He leaves a wife and four sons, John F. of Boston, William of New York, George T. of Boston and Charles of Winchester; two daughters, Miss Etta Welch of Lowell and Mrs. Warren Gody of Boston, and a brother, Thomas Welch of Lowell and two sisters, Mrs. Julia Baldwin and Mrs. Ann Sullivan, both of Dorchester. He was a member of Post 120, G. A. R. The body was taken to the rooms of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

SOULA—Vasiliki Soula, aged 20 years, died last night at her home, 165 Market street. She leaves a father and a brother. The remains were taken to the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

LAJOIE—Mrs. Thomas Lajoie, nee Ceunire Chamberlain, aged 67 years, died today at Biddeford, Me. She leaves to mourn her loss three children, Mrs. Napoleon Nadeau of Biddeford, Me., Mrs. Guillaume St. Jean of this city and Mrs. Alfred Lajoie of Lynn; a sister, Mrs. Jean Levesque of this city and three brothers, two in Canada and one in New Hampshire. The body will be brought to this city tomorrow by Undertaker Archambault and will be brought to the home of deceased's daughter, Mrs. Guillaume St. Jean, 162 Riverside street.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MARTIN—The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Martin will take place Thursday morning at 8.15 from her late home, 185 Fletcher street. At 9 o'clock a high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church. Undertaker Peter H. Savage in charge.

MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Murphy will take place from her late home, 793 Moody street Thursday morning at 8.15. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Columba's church at 9 o'clock. Friends are requested not to send flowers. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

CLARK—Died today, Dorothy E. Clark, aged 1 month, 24 days. She was the child of Harry B. and Ethel M. Clark of Highland avenue, North Chelmsford. Funeral services at home at 3.30 Thursday afternoon. Friends invited. Burial private. George W. Hegley, undertaker. Lawrence papers please copy.

JOHNSON—The funeral of the late Byron W. Johnson will take place Friday afternoon from his home, 15 Gates street. Services at the house at 2 o'clock. Friends invited. Funeral private. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WELCH—The funeral of the late Michael Welch will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. A mass of requiem will be sung at St. Patrick's church at 9.45 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

SOULA—The funeral of the late Vasiliki Soula will take place Sunday afternoon from the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons. Services will be held at the Holy Trinity church at 2.30 o'clock. Burial in the Edison cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

RYAN—The funeral of the late Mary Ryan will take place Friday morning at 9.30 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott. High mass of requiem at St. Peter's church at 10 o'clock.

KEEFE—The funeral of the late Mrs. Bessie Keefe will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence, 25 Seventh street, at 9 o'clock. High mass of requiem at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Undertakers Thomas J. McDermott.

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY AND MGR. FALCONIO ON WAY TO ROME TO BE MADE CARDINALS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Archbishop John M. Farley and Mgr. Diomedo Falconio are on their way to Rome, where on Nov. 27 they will receive their red hats and become members of the college of cardinals. They are making the trip by direct command of Pope Pius X., who decided to avoid the expense of sending messengers to picture below was made in Archbishop Farley's residence a few hours before the distinguished prelates sailed for Italy.

SUIT FOR $1000
Against Local Parties
by John J. Gray

John J. Gray, through his attorney, John W. McEvoy, has brought suit in an action of contract in the sum of $1000 against Jennie E. L. Graham, Carrie Carr and Charles H. Libbey of this city.

BOARD OF TRADE
DIRECTORS AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE TO MEET

The executive committee of the board of trade will meet at 1.30 this afternoon and the board of directors at 5 o'clock this afternoon when many routine matters will come up while the directors will hear several recommendations from the executive committee.

STRANGE ANIMAL
BONES OF ONE FOUND ON GRAND ISLAND

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 15.—Bones of a strange animal found on Grand Island beach are so unfamiliar and puzzling to residents here that they will be placed in the hands of scientists to determine the identity of the strange skeleton. Some scientists who have seen the animal believe that it may be the remains of a serpent. It is thought that the find, which was caused by the shifting of sand during the recent heavy gale, may prove of great historic interest. The animal measures over 18 feet in length.

BRIGHT, SEARS & CO.
WYMAN'S EXCHANGE
Bankers and Brokers
SECOND FLOORPAPERS TAKEN OUT
Many Names Were Added to List of Candidates Today

The lists of candidates for office under the new charter are growing and many who have not yet taken out nomination papers have said that they would take them out later on. Among others who took out papers for alderman today was Mayor John F. Meehan.

Candidates who file papers with the city clerk may withdraw by giving notice within forty-eight hours after the time they filed their papers. The names added since the last were published are as follows:

For Mayor
George H. Brown.
For Alderman
Mayor John F. Meehan.
Owen E. Brennan, 20 Crowley street.
Herbert L. Chapman, now a member of the common council from ward nine.
Edward H. Foye, the present purchasing agent.
Joseph H. Jodoin, Jr., member of the present board of aldermen.
Robert W. Van Tassel, Warwick street.
Samuel Scott, 229 Appleton street.
Gilbert Wright, 2 Arthur street.
William D. Whitte, Wentworth avenue.
Clarence H. Nelson, 31 Mansur street.
George W. Casey, 208 French street.
Charles M. Hobson, 164 Holyrood avenue.
Fred H. Rourke, 777 Central street.
Ex-Mayor James B. Cusey.
Frank W. Cheney, 60 Sheldon street.
Frank E. McNabb, 109 Butterfield street.
J. F. Quadey, 711 Central street.
Patrick Joyce, 62 Merrill street.
For School Committee
James Cook, 84 Lawrence street.
Michael J. Rourke, 33 Marion street.

John Jacob Rogers, 441 Andover street.
Dr. Thomas G. Waller, 166 Princeton street.
Sara Swan Griffin.
James Albert Simpson, 69 Arlington street.

Mr. Samuel Tompkins of ward nine announces that he has withdrawn his name as a candidate for alderman. Mr. Tompkins says that his business will take him out of town for extended periods and he feels that he would not be able to give the necessary attention to city business.

GOVERNOR MANN
DECLINED TO INTERFERE IN THE BEATTIE CASE

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 15.—Gov. Mann today declined to interfere in the case of Henry Clay Beattie and the young wife murderer's last hope of escaping the electric chair on Friday, November 24, was swept away.

DEER SEASON
WAS OPENED IN VERMONT THIS MORNING

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Nov. 15.—Early today the frequent crack of the rifle gave indication of the opening of the deer season in Vermont and until Nov. 25 hunters are allowed to shoot these animals twelve hours daily. It is reported that deer are plenty this year, the best hunting grounds being at Somerset, Stratton, Londonderry and Jamaica. The season's opening was hailed with joy by the farmers, who claim that the damage done their orchards makes the raising of apples nearly impossible.

HUNDREDS AFFLICTED

IN ALL LARGE CITIES IN THE UNITED STATES

Mrs. G. C. Bailey, of No. 119 Bartlett street, made the following statement recently in connection with "Tona Vita," the remarkable new tonic that is now being introduced in Lowell at the Hall & Lyon Drug Co. She said: "I have been sick for some time. I have been nervous and run-down and have suffered from indigestion."

"I have never known just what was the matter with me. I slept poorly, and my sleep did me little good. I was dreadfully tired most of the time, and never felt well a moment, but was always nervous and depressed. My appetite was very poor."

"I got some 'Tona Vita' and 'Lee's Rhubarb Laxative' a few days ago and have taken it regularly since. There is no other medicine that is equal to them. The first dose helped me and every day I have become stronger and better. I seem to get nourishment from my food now, and do not feel so tired and worn out as before. I feel much better than I have for some time. I can heartily recommend this wonderful medicine."

The specialists who are introducing "Tona Vita" in Lowell are giving demonstrations of what the medicine will do in five minutes. All day long they meet callers at the store where they are located, and try to produce a noticeable improvement in all cases of nervous debility within five minutes, the people who take the medicine to be the judge. There is no charge for this demonstration and several hundred people tried the experiment Monday without a single failure.

One of the specialists said: "Tona Vita" will break all records in Lowell, like it is doing in all of the big cities of the United States today. People are fast realizing what it will do. We are instructed by our company to take no money for the tonic unless the medicine proves satisfactory. Hundreds upon hundreds in this and other large cities are afflicted with nervous debility caused by the strain of modern life.

The entire system becomes run-down in such cases and nervousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache, despondency, and loss of vitality result. "Tona Vita" will work wonders in such cases in a remarkably short time. If it don't we want nothing other than the time it takes to come and get the medicine."

The specialists will continue to meet the public from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. for a limited time at the Hall & Lyon Drug Store, and will take pleasure in explaining the merits of their preparation to all callers.

FUNERALS

MORRIS—The funeral of Gertrude Morris took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the undertaking rooms, 419 Bridge street. Interment was in the family lot in the Catholic cemetery, and was in charge of Funeral Director James W. McKenna.

FURDATO—John Furdato, son of Joachim and Rose Furdato, died this morning at the home, 22 Edgerly's court, off Charles street. Funeral took place today and burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertaker Thomas J. McDermott.

TALBOT—The funeral of the late Mrs. Leroy H. Talbot took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence in Mount Pleasant street, North Billerica. Services were held in the home, which was filled with many relatives and friends of the deceased. Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge, pastor of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, officiated and the services were of a brief and impressive nature. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Burial was in the Lowell cemetery, in charge of Undertaker J. B. Currier.

BARCLAY—The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Barclay took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Felch, 28 Barclay street. Services were conducted by Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the services were of a brief and impressive nature. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Burial was in the Lowell cemetery in charge of Undertaker C. M. Young.

HIGGINS—The remains of Leonard

Higgins, son of William J. and Josephine Higgins, were consigned to their final resting place in the Catholic cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The little boy who was just beginning to be a comfort to his parents and a little ray of sunshine in the home will be greatly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Higgins. The casket in which the little boy was held by all who knew him was evidenced by the large number of people who visited the home since his death and also the large attendance at the funeral. The funeral took place from the home of his parents, 40 Sheldon street, at 3 o'clock and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including friends from Dorchester, Jamaica Plain, South Boston, West Roxbury, North Billerica and Haverhill. There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral tributes, the following being the most prominent: Large yellow roses; pink chrysanthemums and ferns with the inscription "Lenny," from brother Gerard and sister Josephine; pillow of pink roses and chrysanthemums inscribed "Lenny," from Grandpa and Grandma Higgins of Dorchester, Mass.; basket of roses and pink chrysanthemums and roses, Miss Hori and Miss Gillan; mound of roses, pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cunningham of Dorchester, Mass.; spray of white chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Latham of Dorchester, Mass.; cross on base of roses, pinks and ferns, Mrs. Rodger, Mrs. W. W. of Jamaica Plain, Mass.; wreath of roses, pinks and ferns, Mr. Joseph McDonough, South Boston, Mass.; spray of Marguerites from Cousin Anna, Baby Catherine Higgins of Dorchester, Mass.; spray of pinks and ferns, Mrs. Emma and Cousin Frank Vaughan; large basket of white chrysanthemums and roses, Miss Hori and Miss Gillan; mound of roses, pinks and ferns, Mr. Thomas Cunningham and family of West Roxbury, Mass.; spray of pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. T. Harington of North Billerica; spray of lilies and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thur Bennett; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, Miss Ella Roark; spray of tea roses and ferns, Mrs. Flory and family; spray of roses, pinks and ferns, Mrs. Mary Doris and family; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns, Miss Edith Partridge and Miss Ruth Smith; spray of roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch of Haverhill, Mass.; spray of pinks, lilies and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maucay and family of North Billerica, Mass.; spray of pinks, chrysanthemums and ferns, Mrs. Charles Burns and family; spray of pinks and roses, Misses Jeanette and Anna Riley; spray of tea roses and pinks, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hurbeck and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Burbeck; spray of white pinks and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cleworth; spray of white chrysanthemums and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riley; large spray of yellow chrysanthemums, Mr. Frank T. Morrissey; spray of pinks and maiden hair ferns, Miss Daisy MacFarlane; spray of pinks, roses and ferns, Mr. and Mrs. James J. McManmon; spray of pinks and roses, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Jack; spray of roses, pinks and lilies, Miss Ruth Mayfield. There were several other sprays from friends.

The casket was borne from the house to the house by the four uncles of the deceased: Messrs. Alfred T. Cunningham, John W. Latham, Thomas Higgins of Dorchester, Mass., and Leonard H. Swager of this city. After leaving the house the funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery, burial being in the family lot and under the direction of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

FISHER GAINS THREE

Recount Being Held in 11th District

The recount of votes cast for representative in the 11th district in which Rep. Edward Fisher, democrat, won over Samuel L. Taylor of Westford by 14 votes is now in progress. In Westford Mr. Fisher gained one vote while in Chelmsford he gained two. The recounts in Acton and Littleton will be held tonight and no date is given for the recount in Carlisle. There is hardly any possibility of a change in the result as Mr. Fisher has gained three votes in two of the towns.

ARNOLD OF WEST POINT, LEADING GUARD IN EAST THIS SEASON

WEST POINT, Nov. 15.—Football has reached its semi-final stage. The championship of the old "Big Four" in the east will likely be claimed as decided if Princeton wins from Yale Nov. 18, as the Tigers have already taken a game from Harvard and have not met defeat this season, although the Tigers have twice been tied, by Lehigh and the Navy. Yale has, however, met one defeat, by the Army, but her eldest rival, Harvard, has been twice beaten, by both Princetown and Carlisle. Pennsylvania has been eliminated by three defeats. Outside the so-called "Big Four" there are several eastern colleges whose records promise some basis for some season's boasts. The Carlisle Indians, who have beaten Harvard, and the West Point cadets, who defeated Yale, have not themselves suffered defeat. The Army, with only two points scored against it, has the best showing on the scoring basis of any of the larger colleges, while Carlisle has run up the biggest total of points, 245. Annapolis and Cornell are also in the unbeaten class, and Dartmouth has only the freak goal made by Princeton on Nov. 11 to mar its winning record. Probably no guard in the east this season has played a more consistently brilliant all around game than Arnold of West Point. He is sure to be given a place on the All American team this season. Picture shows him about to snap back ball during practice.

PILING SAND FOR BREASTWORKS

ITALIAN TROOPS AND ARABS ENGAGED IN FIGHTING

TRIPOLI, Nov. 15.—The Italian soldiers and the Arabs are engaged in continuous fighting on the outskirts of the city. The Italians, as a rule, fight from behind breastworks or walls. Sharpshooters on both sides are constantly on the watch, many of them being posted on tops of buildings. Walls of sand and stone have been constructed in many places. Occasionally where there are no walls, available ditches are dug or ramparts of stones or sand are hurriedly thrown up. In some cases the soldiers themselves have piled up little heads of sand, behind which they lie while directing their rifle fire.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

Furniture, Stoves and Ranges

$7000 STOCK OF

M. LETOURNEAU, 159-161
MOODY STREETSale Now Going On and Store Open Every Evening—All Goods at Cost—Must Be Sold at Once

M. LETOURNEAU.

EDW. J. TIERNEY
Assignee

COUPLE ARRESTED

Boy Says He Was De-frauded of $50

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Accused of obtaining $50 fraudulently from a boy, a woman, who lives at 55 Compton street, Thomas O'Toole, aged 30, and his wife, Catherine, aged 25, were locked up yesterday at the Court Square police station by Special Officer William J. Carey. The O'Tooles live at 481 Shawmut avenue. The husband has an alias of John S. Wheeler and the wife was known to Bishop as Nellie Donahue.

The boy answered an advertisement which led him, he said, to go to 180 Washington street, where the O'Tooles had an office. He says they agreed to employ him at $10 a week, providing he would post $50 as a guarantee of his honesty. This, young Bishop said, he did October 9. He worked one week and was paid $10, but thereafter he could not collect, he alleges, and that later O'Toole left the Washington street office.

The Bishop boy says he had an agreement the couple made with him, but that Mrs. O'Toole went to his home and ejected him into delivering it to her in return for a promissory note which was worthless.

Special Officer Carey arrested a man who was claiming O'Toole's mail and the latter informed the police O'Toole was at 218 Tremont street. Later the wife was arrested at her home. The O'Tooles say they came here from Providence. The husband advertised continuously for bright boys who would post a guarantee of $50 in order to get jobs that O'Toole, it is alleged, would represent would pay them $10 to $25 a week.

NEW SOCIAL CLUB

A new social club, the Pion club, was organized recently in this city, and already several members have been enrolled. The new organization has its headquarters in two rooms at the corner of Moody and Cabot streets, where the members gather during the day or night and enjoy a social hour. The officers of the club are: Victor Lohr, president; Arthur Lemay, vice president; Pierre Malville, secretary-treasurer.

A CARD

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Green's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

F. J. Butler, Carleton & Hovey, A. Thomson, Brunello Pharmacy, C. B. Carter, F. J. Storey & Co., F. C. Goodale, A. W. Dows & Co., F. A. Burdickshaw Carter & Sherburne, E. T. McEvoy, Albert E. Morris, F. E. Moody, Rochette & Dallaire.

HARD COAL
BRIQUETTES

At the reduced price of

$5.50

Per Ton

For a limited time only

A GOOD FUEL AT THE RIGHT PRICEHorne Coal Co.
9 CENTRAL STREET

E. G. SOPHOS

IMPORTER AND WHOLESALE
DEALER IN
Oriental, Greek and Italian Produce
Specialties in all other and Chinese
TELEPHONE 1442
Cor. Adams & Salem Sts., Lowell, Mass.
We guarantee our Olive Oil strictly pure. Give us a call.

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

THE CORRECTED PROOF.

Old Mother Hubbard, who went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone,
Found naught, to her grief, save boneless roast beef,
And so her poor dog had none.

Where is her dog?

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

Harold—Left side down at stump of tree.
Grace—Upside down at left of head.

TWO NAVY TEAMS

To Play for the Football Championship

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 15.—Having settled all disputed points in naval excellence during the last six months of maneuvers, 22 tars of the Atlantic fleet came ashore today to settle the "web-footed" football championship with eleven from the flagship Connecticut of the first squadron, and the battleship Idaho of the second squadron as contenders in the final struggle. At the temporary grilliron near Mile corner, arrangements were made for several thousand spectators to witness the struggle.

The Connecticut team has been ashore several times during the past few days working under the direction of several of the officers who won their football stripes in games with the army. The Idaho eleven came on from Philadelphia yesterday and berthed for the night on the North Dakota.

Besides the honor of being hailed champions of the fleet, the players had the additional incentive of a silver trophy offered by State Senator Beckman of this city.

On each team was a naval officer of Annapolis experience, Midshipman Richardson playing quarterback on the Connecticut team while Ensign Robertson was at left guard on the Idaho eleven.

MGR. FALCONIO

Pays Tribute to American Women

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The last word of Mr. Falconio, whose duties as apostolic delegate to this country terminated Monday, on the eve of his departure for Rome to be formally invested with the red hat of a prince of the church, was a message to the women of America.

"There can be no greater service, no greater glory, than the rearing of children," he said.

"I have nothing but sentiments of the highest esteem for American ladies," said the cardinal. "American women are extremely well educated. They are full of energy, and it is impossible to overestimate the great results to be obtained when they exert their influence for the welfare of society."

"I do not think it proper for any woman to go outside of the sphere which is assigned to her sex. A good woman should have in mind, above all, the proper care of her family—she is first of all a citizen of the home, and if she fulfills adequately the duties of that citizenship she will have no leisure for outside affairs. In the home should be her heart and soul. There is no higher or holier mission than hers—the care and education of children."

"Should she go outside this sphere and mix in affairs which are unbecoming to a lady and the mother of a family, then her prestige will be lost, and the sublimity of the rank assigned to her by the Almighty will be eclipsed."

"There can be no greater service, no greater glory, than the rearing of children. The woman who looks properly after her home and children keeps her husband's love. Men revere, honor and love the home woman. No other woman can compare with her in dignity and honor."

"I earnestly hope that American women, while they inherit the staidness of the Roman matrons and the courage of Spartan mothers, will cherish at the same time the noble mission assigned to them, that of wifehood and motherhood."

"It should be the duty of women to exert their powerful influence to combat the divorce evil, the greatest evil of our day, which is undermining the life of families and of society."

"If men and women lived according to the rules laid down by our Blessed Redeemer in regard to their relations in married life, there would be no divorce."

BRIDAL COUPLE

WERE ASPHYXIATED BY GAS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Forty minutes before the time set for their marriage a young woman of 21 years and her fiancé, a year older, were found asphyxiated by gas yesterday in the rooms which they had furnished as their home.

The victims were Stella Gera and Frank Mycek. The tragedy occurred at 141 West Superior street.

The couple's rooms, on the second floor were filled with flowers, wedding

A LITTLE NONSENSE

WILLING TO HELP.

Heroine—Yes, and there by the gates of the mansion I began to sob, "If here I stand bemoaning in the s-s-snow!"
Comedian—How realistic! How was it received?
Heroine—Why, the gallery began to throw old boots.

WRONG TIME.

Missionary—I've come to do you good, Cannibal—You can't do it; I'm on a diet.

UNFORGIVABLE.

Mrs. Wise—I used to know the name of the man who first invented football, but I've forgotten it.
Mr. Wise—Well, it's easier to forget than forgive.

TIT FOR TAT.

Mrs. Denton Holmes (engaging new cook)—Why did you leave your last place?
Bridget Burns—Sure, an' why did yez last cook lave yez?

NOTHING OMITTED.

"Walter! Come here at once! Here's a back-and-ore in this salad!"
"Yes, yes! That's a part of the dressing, isn't it?"

PAY AT DESK.

"Walter! Come here at once! Here's a back-and-ore in this salad!"
"Yes, yes! That's a part of the dressing, isn't it?"

presents of jewelry and finery, and dainties for the wedding feast. There were letters from friends and relatives, wishing them happiness, lying open with the gifts.

A happy group had crowded the rooms Monday night at a party in honor of the bride-to-be. The last of the guests departed a little after midnight. Mycek and the girl were the guests of the party. He told his brother, Max, who left after the others, that he would stay for a few moments for a short chat with Stella. The brother bade them good night and left. He was the last to see the couple alive.

POISONED BY GAS

MISS EMMA COYLE FOUND DEAD IN BED

LAWISTON, Me., Nov. 15.—Miss Emma Coyle, aged about 35, and who was employed in the home of Allan Ross of Pierce street as a domestic, was found dead in her room yesterday. Death was due to asphyxiation.

Miss Coyle had been working at the Ross house about two and a half months. She retired as usual Monday night but failed to respond when called yesterday morning. Neighbors were called in and the door to her room broken down.

The room was filled with gas and Miss Coyle was in bed. It is believed she had been dead several hours. Gas was still escaping from the jet which is believed to have been accidentally opened.

Coroner H. A. Teague took charge of the body. He deemed an inquest unnecessary and pronounced death due to accidental causes.

LOST AND FOUND

BROWN SCOTCH COLLIE WITH white around neck, lost. Answers to name of Ted. Reward if returned to 37 South st.

GOLD CHAIN AND LOCKET LOST Sunday, between Chester st. and St. John's church. Finder return to New York Clock & Sulf Co., and receive reward.

BLACK LYNX HUFF LOST FROM auto between 134 Moore st., Lowell, and Cold Springs Brewery, Lawrence. Reward at 12 Victoria st., Lowell.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

SHED NEW COTTAGE 5 ROOMS, all modern improvements; must be sold at once. Box 359, city.

SAVE YOUR OWN RENT BY BUYING one of the many bargains in two tenements and cottages on my large list covering all sections city and suburbs. Some very easy payments. All kinds of insurance, lowest rates. M. J. Sharkey, 22 Central st., room 25. Open Saturdays and Monday evenings.

NEAR ST. PETER'S—VERY PLEASANT 7-room cottage with bath; respectable neighborhood, good yard; very small amount down. M. J. Sharkey, 22 Central st., room 25.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun's "Want" column.

Frank B. Murphy
INSURANCE and
REAL ESTATE
38 CENTRAL STREET, ROOM 34

Rummage Sale

Thursday and Friday, Nov. 16th and 17th, by the ladies of the Lawrence Street Methodist church.

317 Market Street

STORAGE FOR FURNITURE
Separate rooms $1 per month for regular two-hour loans. The dryest and cleanest place for storage in Lowell. Telephone connection. O. F. Prentiss, 356 Bridge st.

Dwyer & Co.

PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS
Estimates on all kinds of jobs, large or small, at 47 Andrew street.

WANTED

ROOMERS AND BOARDERS WANTED—Mrs. McGraw pays all attention to her guests; sets a first class table; clean chambers; and dining room (best); steam heat, electric light; nothing to equal it can be found in Lowell for the price charged. Gent's, $2.50; ladies, $2.00. Bath with hot and cold water. All are welcome. Transients accommodated. If you feel hungry go to the Quincy house, 52 Lee st.

HORSE WANTED—A GOOD SOUND horse for city delivery. Must be broken to electric and automobiles, as warranted to stand without hitching. Address A. C. Sun Office.

SPECIAL NOTICES

ALL KINDS OF SHOE REPAIRING done at the Champion Boot & Shoe Hospital, by modern machinery. 313 Middlesex st.

SAFETY RAZOR BLADES RE-sharpened and better than new. 25¢ each, at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

NEURALGIA CURED FREE WITH a sample of Pain-Ex, Clark's Neuralgia Remedy. Send a 2¢ stamp to the John W. M. Clark Co., Athol, Mass.

HEAT'S NO. 1 KILLS LICE ON children. Excellent for brownish moth itching, ivy poison, hives, mange, salt rheum, falling hair. 25¢ cents at Fells & Burdickshaw.

LIMBURG CO. CHIMNEY EXPERTS—Chimneys swept and repaired. R. J. Limburg, 1125 Bridge st., Tel. 945.

THE SUN IN BOSTON—THIS SUN IS on every day at 10 o'clock in the Union station in Boston. Don't forget this when taking your train for Lowell.

SAFETY RAZOR BLADES OF ALL kinds sharpened; Gillette's a specialty; 25¢ each. Harry Gonzalez, the Cutter, 123 Guelum st. Tel. 952-2.

MISCELLANEOUS

RAZORS MADE TO ORDER—razors honed and concaved; Gillette's sharpened at Harry Gonzalez, 123 Guelum st. Tel. 952-2.

DRINK GLORIA FOR HEALTH. Sold everywhere.

It matters not the name of the disease you are suffering with, how many Physicians you have taken treatment with, do not be discouraged. DR. TEMPLE'S TREATMENT WILL CURE YOU.

All Blood, Nerve and Rectal Diseases, Acute and Chronic Blood Diseases of Men and Women, Hydrocele, Varicocele, Stricture, Prostatitis, Piles, Fistula, Pleurisy, Diphtheria and all Rectal Diseases Without the Use of the Knife. Diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Bowels, Rectum, Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat.

Terms are always made to suit the convenience of anyone applying for treatment, and very reasonable charges. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated methods and terms. Office, 27 Central street, near Star Block. Wednesdays, 2 to 4; 7 to 9. Sundays, 10 to 12. Other days by appointment only.

Consultation, Examination, Advice FREE.

J. H. ROGERS, Optician
EYES EXAMINED
7 Merrimack st., over Transfer station. Glasses made and repaired. All work guaranteed. Lowest prices.

ROOMS PAPERED FOR $2.00
We furnish the wall paper and border to match and send first class paper hanger to hang the same for $2 per room. Free samples of wall paper on request. Painting in all its branches and whitewashing.

BAKER THE NEW RACKET
203 Middlesex st., 610 Merrimack St., Telephone 1972-4

W. A. LEW
Suits, dyings and cleaning of ladies' and gents' wearing apparel. 30 years' experience in this work. 49 John st.

LEGAL NOTICES

Under authority of Section 30, Chapter 596 of the Acts of 1903, I, Mary M. Duffy of Lowell, Mass., do hereby give notice that I have made written application to the Lowell Insolvency Court for Sequestration, Lowell, Mass., for a duplicate deposit book of Account No. 4612, standing in my name, and which said deposit book is lost or destroyed.

MARY M. DUFFY,
Lowell, Mass., November 1, 1911.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, Middlesex ss. Probate Court. To Alice Panton, formerly of Braintree, in the County of Essex, and now in said County of Middlesex, in said County of Middlesex, minor.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court by Joseph Greco, of Braintree, in the County of Middlesex, praying for the appointment of himself, or some other suitable person, as guardian for the estate of said minor, and for the custody of said minor;

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Lowell, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-first day of November, A. D. 1911, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why you have, why a guardian should not be appointed and have the custody of said minor as aforesaid.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in The Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last day of November, at or before the day of said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Alice Panton, at least seven days before said Court.

Witness, Charles J. McFarlane, Esquire, First Judge of said Court. This published at Lowell, Mass., the year one thousand nine hundred, eleven.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

HELP WANTED

TABLE AND KITCHEN GIRL wanted at 60 East Merrimack st.

AGENTS EVERYWHERE CAN make money, part time, distributing post cards advertising our chewing gum. No canvassing. Liberal terms. Weekly settlements. Send seven two-cent stamps for supply post cards, instructions and contract. Specimen card, 177 Broadway, Dept. 105, New York City.

YOUNG LADY CANTYASSER WANTED—Good position for smart appearing young woman. Permanent. Apply 66 Merrimack st., room 1.

MARRIED MAN WANTED TO drive and care for horses. Inquire 16 Market st.

EXPERIENCED OUTSIDE CUTTERS wanted; steady work. Apply Robinson & Farrell Shoe Co., Rockingham street.

TWO EXPERIENCED LINING MAKERS on button boots wanted. Plenty of work and good prices. Apply to Dodge Bros., Newburyport, Mass.

AN ELDERLY WOMAN WANTED to care for children during the day. Address 16 Agawam st.

DIVIDER WANTED AT REYNOLDS blacksmith shop, 42 Cushing street. Steady job to the right man.

BOY WANTED AT 270 HIGH ST. EIGHT FEMALE TWISTERS, wanted at once for woolen mills, wages $5.00 for 10 hours, 10¢ per piece, and six dressers and spoolers, wages $6.00. City Employment Office, 33 Central st., room 38. The elevator. Office open until 9 o'clock Monday evening. Tel. 2695.

TWO CHEFS, THREE TABLE girls, 20 general house girls wanted. City Employment Office, 33 Central st., room 38. Office hours: a. m. to 8 p. m. Monday, 9 p. m. Tel. 2695.

ALVIN HALL'S BARBER SCHOOLS, 314 Washington st., Boston, Mass. While learning instruction. Book; board; room; railroad ticket free by co-operative plan. Get particulars immediately.

KITCHEN WOMAN WANTED AT once for 53 Lee st.

MEN WANTED TO CLEAN BRICK by the thousand. Apply J. A. Simpson, 67 Methuen st.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS WANTED—Customs inspectors. Average $30 month. Lowell examinations. Apply immediately. Sample questions free. Write immediately. Franklin Institute, Dept. 135 K, Rochester, N. Y.

WANTED FOR U. S. ARMY—ABLE-bodied, unmarried men, between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write the English language. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 159 Middlesex st., Lowell, Mass.

W. A. LEW
Suits, dyings and cleaning of ladies' and gents' wearing apparel. 30 years' experience in this work. 49 John st.

TO LET

SUNNY, SEPARATE DOWN STAIRS tenement to let; six rooms, $2.50 per week. Inquire Greengrass Studio, West Central st.

SUNNY DOWN STAIRS TENEMENT, near Jones st., to let; four rooms with pantry, bath and storeroom. Apply 651 Chelmsford st., Mrs. L. M. Hoyt.

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS WANTED, near Highlands, for light housekeeping; must have steam or furnace heat and bath, also price reasonable. Address stating full particulars to Box 474, Lowell.

7-ROOM TENEMENT TO LET! Bath room, wash room and pantry, steam heat, vacuum hot water heater and all modern conveniences. No. 230 Westford st.

LARGE SUNNY FRONT ROOM TO let in Highlands, in private family, near car line; steam heat, gas and bath. Call at 207 School st.

FLAT OF SIX ROOMS AND BATH to let, 95 Mt. Washington st.; extra pleasant and sunny, open plumbing, fine quiet neighborhood. Rental $16. Apply 95 Mt. Washington st.

NICE 4-ROOM LODGING HOUSE to let, hot water, bath, gas, Fayette and East Merrimack sts. Rent $18 per month. Also 3-room tenement at 71 East Merrimack st., rent $8 per month. Apply 25 Adams st., Tel. 1835-1.

NICE 4 AND 5-ROOM TENEMENTS to let at 21 Coolidge st. Rent $15.00 and $17.50 per week. Apply 26 Coolidge st.

NICE 4-ROOM TENEMENT TO LET at 115 Allen st., rent $15 per week. Also one 3-room tenement at 71 Cheever st., $12.50 per week. Apply at 219 Allen st.

FURNISHED FRONT ROOM TO LET in Highlands, on car line; steam heat; all modern conveniences. Address C. R. Sun Office.

TENEMENT OF 7 ROOMS TO LET, on Lombard st., steam heat. G. D. Kimball, 97 Central st.

FLAT OF 5 ROOMS TO LET ON Nichols st.; bath, steam heat. G. D. Kimball, 97 Central st.

SUNNY, PLEASANT TENEMENT OF 5 rooms, steam, pantry, to let, 113 School st., near Middlesex st. Rent $10.

SURE TO LET WITH 3-ROOM tenement at 353 Lawrence st., $2 per week, also tenement of 6 rooms, $2 per week. Apply 66 Walker st.

TWO TENEMENTS TO LET AT 70 and 72 Walker st. Apply 66 Walker st.

SUNNY UPSTAIRS TENEMENT OF 6 rooms, to let; hot water and bath, 161 Anderson st. Tel. 2695.

NEWLY FURNISHED ROOMS, ALSO room for light housekeeping, to let; steam heat and bath; board if desired, at 6 Stockpole st.

COTTAGE OF 6 ROOMS TO LET, with bath and furnace heat, at 99 Reed st. Rent $15 the month. Inquire 61 Fifth st.

6-ROOM FLAT TO LET, on SIXTH st., near Bridge st., in first class repair; bath and pantry, hot water, steam heat, rent $15 per month. G. L. Hubbard, Wyman's Exchange.

FIRST CLASS BOARD AND ROOMS to let; steam heat; most desirable residential district. Apply 104 Crosby st., or to Underlier John A. Finnegan, 179 East Merrimack st.

SEATLY FURNISHED ROOMS TO let; steam heat and was $1 per week and up. Mrs. McMillan, Gallagher House, Williams st.

HALF A HOUSE TO LET, WITH 7 rooms, front and back yard. Terms very reasonable. Inquire at 608 E. Merrimack st.

JOE LYNN HAS A NEW HOUSE at 129 Cushing st., to let, four new rooms. One 7-room house at 41 Prospect st. One 4-room flat at 12 Maple st. One 6-room flat at 50 Elm st. Two 4-room flats at 51 Chapel st. One 5-room flat at 31 Chapel st. Church st.

FLAT OF 5 ROOMS TO LET! ALL modern improvements. Inquire John Nolan, 84 Central st.

6-ROOM TENEMENT AT 8 CLARK st., to let. Inquire at 233 Concord st.

FOUR-ROOM TENEMENTS TO LET, 18 to 18 Cushing st. Inquire on premises, or telephone 1433-1.

7-ROOM COTTAGE TO LET; BATH, open plumbing, gas, city water, stable and large lot of land. Apply to M. Corbett, 22 Highland st.

FURNISHED ROOMS WITH STEAM heat and bath, to let, at $1.25 per week and upwards. Apply at the Columbia, 179 Middlesex st.

SUNNY 5-ROOM TENEMENT TO let, newly papered and carpeted, central location, $10 a month. Apply E. G. Russell, 407 Middlesex st., near depot.

5-ROOM UPSTAIRS FLAT TO LET at 17 Stockpole st., near Alder st. Bath, pantry, set tubs, hot water, gas and electric. Rent $15 a month. Apply to George Fairburn, 884 High st. Telephone 3563.

TENEMENT OF SIX ROOMS TO LET, upstairs and down, 77 Fifth st. Inquire T. Leaver, 50 West st.

